An Act to further amend section two hundred twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" providing for free fishing licenses to certain disabled war veterans.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 6, by inserting after the word "limbs" the following: "or the loss of the use of one or more limbs or a veteran who is totally blind".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—2

Hall, Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MEMBER CONGRATULATED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is also informed that we are today celebrating the birthday of the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Riley. The Chair is informed that the gentleman will not state how many years.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Riley.

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I admit that I am growing old. In my declining years it has always been my ambition to grow old gracefully. If I have succeeded to any degree in achieving that ambition it has only been because of the inspiration that I have received from this House. I mean that sincerely. I think that once having the privilege of coming to Harrisburg you make acquaintances that ripen into friendships that you cherish ever after.

I thank you very kindly for this opportunity to tell you how I feel about it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman. From the applause the gentleman knows that it is the wish of every Member that he have many, many more birthdays.

MR. HAROLD RUSSELL INTRODUCED

The SPEAKER. We are singularly honored this afternoon to have with us in the House a very distinguished visitor, Mr. Harold Russell, who received the movie "Oscar" for his acting in the "The Best Years of Our Lives." He appeared here today as the guest of Governor Duff.

The Chair is pleased to appoint as a special committee to escort the gentleman to the rostrum Messrs. Scott, Neff, and Fish. The committee will proceed in the performance of its duties.

The Chair is very pleased to present Mr. Harold Russell.

Mr. HAROLD RUSSELL. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives, it is indeed a great honor to be able to appear before you today.

I guess I was a very lucky guy the last few months, not because I had a part to play in the picture or because I had an opportunity to win the Academy Award, but because I happen to have had the opportunity of traveling over the country speaking in behalf of Veterans, visiting Veterans' hospitals, Army and Navy hospitals throughout this great land of ours.

I would just like to say to you that those men in the hospitals are very grateful for the fine care, enthusiasm and good will that has been bestowed upon all the members of the Veterans' organizations which have been actively interested in these men. The morale has been very, very fine, and if I had my wish one thing I would like to see would be a great series of rehabilitation centers throughout this great country of ours in the major cities which would do the same type of work for the civilians as well as for us.

The great program of rehabilitation in the Army and Navy hospitals is in most cases not available to the average civilian, and I am sure if this program is put into force it will be more and more a great aid to everyone, not only to disabled Veterans but to everyone else as well.

I realize how busy you are. I thank you very much for the privilege and honor of appearing before you and for your wonderful welcome. I thank you.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CLEVENGER from the Committee on Townships, reported as amended, House Bill No. 266, entitled:

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to add the names of Messrs. MILLS, LOVETT and CAPANO to a resolution he was about to introduce.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTIONS

Messrs. WEISS, MILLS, LOVETT and CAPANO offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 30, 1947.

Whereas, The wife of a fellow member of the House of Representatives yesterday presented her husband with a nine and one-half pound baby girl; and

Whereas, The birth of this baby girl, while in itself not unusual, takes on great significance since our fellow member is already the father of three additional daughters; and

Whereas, Now having four daughters, our fellow member constitutes a serious threat to the national laurels claimed by Eddie Cantor; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends its heartiest congratulations to our amiable fellow member, Anthony J. Petrosky, and Mrs. Petrosky and best wishes for the continued happiness of so charming a family; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit a certified copy of this resolution to the Honorable and Mrs. Anthony J. Petrosky.

Messrs. CHUDOFF and SCANLON offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 30, 1947.

Whereas, On January 3, 1944, former Representative and Mrs. Joseph Skale of Philadelphia became the parents of a daughter, Gloria Louise, and were duly congratulated by this House of Representatives by resolution dated May 2, 1944; and

Whereas, On March 3, 1946, the said Joe and Kate Skale became the proud parents of another daughter, Eleanor Joan; and

Whereas, Due to circumstances beyond his control, Joe Skale is no longer a Member of the House of Representatives, but he and his spouse remain, nonetheless, fine people and worthy of congratulations; and

Whereas, It is very probable that if this House of Representatives fails to adopt Eleanor Joan Skale as a legislative daughter—in the manner accorded her sister—serious family difficulties in an otherwise peaceful Skale household may arise; and

Whereas, It must never be said that this House of Representatives has not done all in its power to preserve family peace and tranquility; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives congratulates their former colleague and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skale of Philadelphia, on the birth of their daughter, Eleanor Joan, March 3, 1946, and that it hereby officially adopts said Eleanor Joan Skale as a legislative daughter; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy hereof to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skale in trust, to preserve and maintain the same until Eleanor Joan Skale attains her majority when it shall pass to her absolutely.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a non-privileged resolution, and before I offer the resolution I desire permission of the House to make a brief statement.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we have just had the unusual experience of having a disabled veteran make a telling plea for a program of rehabilitation for disabled civilians. You haven't often heard anything like that, and I would like to call the attention of the Education Committee that there is pending in their committee a bill which would establish training centers that would accomplish the end referred to by Mr. Russell in his brief address before this body. I would request that the Education Committee give some consideration to that bill.

Second, on April 6, I introduced a resolution requesting the chairman of the Education Committee to proceed to obtain for the benefit of the Members of this House information as to the salaries paid teachers in other states, the methods by which those salaries were financed and the pupil-teacher ratio in this and other states.

As I understand, nothing was done except yesterday the committee went around to ask the Governor whether they could do it or not, and as I understand by the papers the Governor told the Chairman of the Education Committee to proceed to do exactly what we have asked him to do in the resolution filed in this House on April 6th. So, if we cannot get the results by way of a resolution in the House, fortunately there is a round-about way of getting action through the Governor's office.

Third, there are beginning to trickle onto our calendar appropriation bills, there will soon come a flood of them, and in the midst of that flood there will be practically none of us who know what the people who are asking for the money are actually going to do with it. Many appropriations that have been reduced from department requests by the budget office have been reduced arbitrarily. They have taken a figure simply out of the air, and when asked to substantiate their findings by filing figures upon which they made the departmental reductions they have been unable to do so and have had to admit they were submitting a purely arbitrary figure.

Further than that, we will have a seventy or eighty or ninety million dollar building program. What is it going to be, and where? How much is going to be spent during the next two years? Counting the funds already appropriated and subject to allocation and the funds likely to be appropriated, the Forestry and Waters Department will have somewhere between twenty-five and thirty million dollars to spend during the next biennium.

How much is it going to spend and when; and where is it going to spend it? I think all those things are matters with which the Members of this House should be acquainted.

I am, therefore, offering a resolution requesting the Departments that are asking for appropriations other than the appropriations that are needed for routine administration expenses, to submit to the Membership of this House, particularly the Welfare Department and the Department of Forests and Waters, a detailed statement of what they are going to do with the money, and when and where. I offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION

Mr. ANDREWS offered a resolution which was laid over under the Rules.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. GYGER for members of the Committee on Welfare for the purpose of visiting mental institutions in the western part of the State, Messrs. BRICE, MILLER, MAZZA, POWERS, SNIDER, SHOEMAKER and GRAYBILL.

SENATE

THURSDAY, May 1, 1947

The Senate met at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was offered by the Senator from Berks, Dr. RUTH:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we praise Thee for the opportunity to meet again to serve Thee and our fellowmen and, as we look around and see the beauty and fragrance that have been brought out of nature by the blessed rain, so we pray that Thy Holy Spirit may fall upon our hearts and minds, that they may help bring about more beautiful, more fragrant and more glorious lives for Thee and our country.

We ask it in Thy Holy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TALLMAN and Mr. WADE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Chapman,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 651, as follows:

An Act making an additional deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-five and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-five

Whereas The support of public assistance in part in Pennsylvania is cooperatively financed by the Commonwealth and by the U. S. Government and

Whereas The uninterrupted flow of assistance to those in need depends upon the regular receipt of funds from the U. S. Government particularly toward the end of the Commonwealth's fiscal period and

Whereas The Commonwealth has provided its full share of assistance for its fiscal period ending May 31, 1947 but the share of the U. S. Government has not been received for the month of April 1947 nor the month of May 1947 and no assurance by the U. S. Government is forthcoming as to when its share will be paid and

Whereas The whole financial burden of public assistance has currently been thrown on the Commonwealth whose appropriated funds will thereby be exhausted by May 6, 1947

Now Therefore Be It Resolved That

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of six million one hundred thousand dollars ($6,100,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorney's fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-five and for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-five

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

Section 3 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act quarterly allocations shall be made to the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department respectively in such amounts as may be deemed necessary to pay the administrative expenses of such departments in auditing and disbursing appropriations for or relating to public assistance including any Federal sums supplementing such appropriations In the case of the Department of the Auditor General said allocations shall be made by the Governor President pro tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Auditor General or a majority thereof and in the case of allocations made to the Treasury Department such allocations shall be made by the Governor President pro tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives and the State Treasurer or a majority thereof

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ANDREWS. RESOLUTION No. 45.

In the House of Representatives, April 30, 1947.

Whereas, the present trickle of appropriation bills which find a place upon the calendar of this House will shortly become a flood, and

Whereas, this flood will submerge members of the General Assembly in a stream of demands for increased appropriations concerning which they have little or no specific knowledge, and

Whereas, it is inconsistent with sound procedure to authorize the issuance of blank checks to the various departments of our state government, irrespective of their competence, therefore be it

Resolved, that this House in the case of all requests for substantial appropriations other than those desired for purely routine administration, hereby notifies all department heads that in every instance this House will ask just exactly what do you propose doing with the moneys, and be it further

Resolved, that the various departments, particularly the Department of Welfare and the Department of Forests and Waters be requested to compile statements outlining in detail their proposed schedule of expenditures during the 1947-49 biennium to the end that the membership of this House may with at least some degree of informed intelligence pass upon the requests for substantial appropriations which this House believes should be understood by the members of the General Assembly before they are authorized.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have a resolution which I believe would properly be brought up for consideration, now, and I would ask unanimous consent to present the resolution and make a brief statement concerning it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, asks unanimous consent to present a resolution and also to have it read. The Chair hears no objection. Will the gentleman please send the resolution to the desk?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is on the statute books of this Commonwealth a law known as the Brunner Bill, a very excellent piece of Legislation, a piece of Legislation in which I was very much concerned at the time it was adopted.

By reading one of our major papers in the State of Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia Inquirer, a reputable paper and of general circulation, I saw very distressing news. This paper says that as far as this Brunner Bill is concerned it is a combination of indifference, bad planning, shortage of equipment and plain flouting of the law.

Now, I could pardon indifference and I could pardon a lack of planning because there has been a lot of that, but it is hard to pardon flouting the law. As you see our Speaker in the Chair would you want to flout a law to which he had attached his name? Could you imagine that a Speaker of his commanding presence and his prestige in this House would tolerate the flouting of the Brunner Bill? And can we be silent and acquiescent while this excellent law upon the testimony of this very reputable newspaper, has been flouted?

I think something should be done about it, and therefore, Mr. Speaker, I am presenting a resolution which recites the accusation which has been carried in the Philadelphia newspaper and suggesting that the Speaker of this House appoint a committee of three, of which the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, be the Chairman, to seek to find out whether this law is being flouted.

I present the resolution and ask that it be read for the information of the members.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent for a resolution he was about to introduce to be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1947.

Whereas, in a recent issue the Philadelphia Inquirer, a reputable newspaper of general circulation specifically alleged that:

"as The Inquirer survey discloses, silt is still moving into the river. Blamed for this condition is a combination of indifference, bad planning, shortage of equipment and plain flouting of the law. Many operators are described as blatant in their indifference to the anti-pollution act; only a few have taken concrete steps to comply with its provisions." and

Whereas, as the Philadelphia Inquirer points out "no one can expect the Schuylkill to be cleaned up over night as if by magic" it is nevertheless a matter of proper legislative concern if any group evidences "a blatant indifference to the anti-pollution act" and because of hostility to it evades and declines to cooperate in the enforcement of this act, therefore be it

Resolved, that this House requests the Speaker to appoint a committee of three, of which the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner shall be chairman, to make a survey for the purpose of determining the degree of compliance with the anti-pollution act and to summarize the evidence which led the Philadelphia Inquirer to allege that in connection with enforcement of the anti-pollution act there was a combination of indifference, bad planning, shortage of equipment and plain flouting of the law, and be it further

Resolved, that this committee be requested to report to this House not later than Thursday, May 22, 1947.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has presented a resolution and the members have noted its contents.

We can appreciate the spirit in which the resolution was introduced.

As you all know, the Schuylkill is quite clogged with silt, the State authorities say some thirty-three million tons of it, and in the language of the newspaper men, slightly edited, that is a lot of silt.

The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

THE SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, for presiding.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. IMBT from the Committee on Aeronautics, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1225, entitled:

An Act to further amend the fifth paragraph of section four hundred seven of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. It was agreed to.

The Section was agreed to as amended.

The tenth to nineteenth sections inclusive were separately read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, on Tuesday of this week the cosponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richter, made the statement in presenting amendments to this bill that the amendments presented at that time had been agreed upon by the Allegheny Conference on Community Development in Pittsburgh, the party vitally interested in sponsoring this legislation. It developed afterwards that the gentleman had been misinformed; the Conference had not agreed upon the amendments the gentleman had offered. However it was a usual mistake, and so that the record may be corrected, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richter, who is not here today, asked that I make this statement so that the record would clearly show that what he said was said honestly but that he was mistaken.

These amendments now offered have been agreed to by the parties who are vitally interested in this legislation.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richter, helped in the preparation of these amendments, and they meet with his approval. The only thing that is lacking is that he is not here today to sign them, but they were agreed upon yesterday before he left.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I simply wish for the purpose of the record to say that all the statements of the previous speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, are correct and that we are in accord with all of his statements.

I would further state for the purpose of the record that Mr. Richter was misinformed as to the position taken by the Allegheny County Conference but, I would like it distinctly known that he was not misinformed by any Member of this House of Representatives.

I would also like the record to clearly show that Mr. Richter acted in perfectly good faith and thought that he had the approval of the people most vitally interested back home.

As Mr. Brown has stated, all interested parties yesterday spent hours in preparing these amendments and getting them in position where we will have a workable bill, and I join with my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, in urging that we adopt these amendments and pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 651, entitled:

AMENDED SENATE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 342.

An Act making an appropriation to the Senate and the House of Representatives to pay the expenses of their committees directed to visit State institutions under the supervision of the Department of Welfare

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence 542 and 609.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 254.

An Act to amend the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 289) entitled "An act relating to nonprofit corporations; defining and providing for the organization, merger, consolidation, and dissolution of such corporations; conferring certain rights, powers, duties, and immunities upon them and their officers and members; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers; providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the first class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign nonprofit corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, prothonotaries of such courts, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations." regulating the establishment and maintenance of common trust funds by nonprofit corporations.

SENATE BILL No. 362.

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the eleventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 203), entitled "An act to provide assistance for typhoid fever carriers, and persons having typhoid fever carriers in their households, and imposing certain responsibilities upon the Secretary of Health, the Secretary of Public Assistance, and the Secretary of Welfare in connection therewith," by fixing the date on which financial assistance shall begin.

SENATE BILL No. 369.

SENATE BILL No. 475.

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the tenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 645), entitled "An act imposing certain requirements on certain hospitals receiving State aid; authorizing the withholding of appropriations; and imposing duties on the Department of Welfare," extending temporary wartime provisions.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SECOND READING BILL NOT ON FILE

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the Chair what bills on the second reading calendar today are not in print.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that House Bill No. 771, on page 20 of today's calendar is the only bill that is not in print and on the Member's desks.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the Chair why that is the only bill that is not in print?

The SPEAKER. The Chair certainly cannot inform the gentleman. The Chair might say, of course, that it looks like the Printer did not print it. The Chair does not know the reason, but might suggest to the gentleman that the Printer is probably working on standard time.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, he seems to have been working on daylight saving time on all the rest.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the machine that does the printing of these bills has broken down, and that is the reason why this bill is not in print and on the Members' desks.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, is there anyone from Philadelphia employed in operating this machine?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not have that information. Is the gentleman referring to Members?

Mr. WORLEY. Any employe from the city of Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is now somewhat "confused," like the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett. First of all the gentleman inquired whether anyone was employed from Philadelphia. Secondly, Ben Franklin, being the able printer that he was from Philadelphia, the Chair feels quite confident that any one of the Philadelphia Members could go out and operate the machine.

Mr. WORLEY. You mean, Mr. Speaker, provided that it did not break down.

The SPEAKER. The answer is, yes.

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 7.

An Act to amend sections one and four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 793), entitled "An act authorizing counties of the second class to regulate the production of smoke from chimneys, smokestacks or other source, including provisions for the payment of inspection and certificates of compliance fees incident thereto; authorizing the expenditure of money for the employment of persons, and the acquisition of property for effectuating such regulations; and providing penalties for the violation thereof," removing exemption regarding railroad locomotives and changing the effective date

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 3, line 9, by inserting after the word "amendments" the following: "Section 2 If any provisions of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable."

Amend page 3, line 17, by striking out after the word "Section" the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "3".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

SENATE ADOPTS CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON SENATE BILL No. 104

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 104.

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 526) entitled "An act relating to the use of trailing cables on portable electric machinery in coal mines providing for the health and safety of persons employed therein and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith and for the inspection of such equipment by the Department of Mines" providing for additional grant of time within which to conform to the requirements thereof and validating actions of the Secretary of Mines and the Department of Mines

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 104

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 104.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 104, entitled: "An act to amend section three of the act approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 526), entitled 'An act relating to the use of training cables on portable electric machinery in coal mines; providing for the health and safety of persons employed therein, and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith, and for the inspection of such equipment by the Department of Mines,' providing for additional grant of time within which to conform to the requirements thereof, and validating actions of the Secretary of Mines and the Department of Mines."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

A. H. LETZLER,
ROWLAND B. MAHANY,
BURTON E. TARR,
(Committee on the Part of the Senate.)

CHAS. L. ROBERTSON,
HARRY P. O'NEILL,
(Committee on the Part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 526) entitled "An act relating to the use of trailing cables on portable electric machinery in coal mines providing for the health and safety of persons employed therein and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith and for the inspection of such equipment by the Department of Mines" providing for additional grant of time within which to conform to the requirements thereof and validating actions of the Secretary of Mines and the Department of Mines

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 526) entitled "An act relating to the use of trailing cables on portable electric machinery in coal mines providing for the health and safety of persons employed therein and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith and for the inspection of such equipment by the Department of Mines" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 This act shall become effective one year following its final passage and its provisions shall be enforced by the Department of Mines provided however on written request from an operator the time may be extended by the Secretary of Mines for a period of not more than six (6) months Provided further That any operator who may at the time of passage of this act have in use a trailing cable which does not meet the specifications required by this act may continue to use such cable until replacement is necessary or until the department shall order a cable replaced but in no event later than the first day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine In either such case the new cable shall meet the specifications fixed by this act The action of the Department of Mines in permitting the continued use of trailing cables not conforming to this act as originally enacted because flame resisting trailing cables were not available in sufficient number to replace existing cables is hereby ratified confirmed and validated

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

MONDAY, May 5, 1947

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG, offered the following prayer:

Holy Father, make the Shekinah of our inmost souls to be vocal and visible; may we inhale the pure incense offered upon the altar of our sincere devotion within the sacred porch where the memorable signs of true worship are ever in evidence.

Usher us into the Holy of Holies and enable us to exclaim in the language of the Psalmist—O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever. Give thanks unto Him who made the great light; the sun to rule by day, the moon and stars to rule by night. To Him who smote Egypt, and brought out Israel from among them. To Him who divided the Red Sea into parts and made Israel to pass through the midst of it. O give thanks to the God of Heaven, for His mercy endureth forever!

Be pleased, O God, to prepare the hearts and minds of these gentlemen of the Senate, who represent and serve the people of this Commonwealth. Enable them to think through the many problems which confront them in these momentous days. May the days that lie immediately ahead be filled with fruitful effort and wise decisions. Continue to bless our State and Nation, to the end that they may contribute to the peace and brotherhood of the world. In Thy Holy Name, we pray. Amen!

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 255, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing second class counties to acquire land for and erect, operate and maintain thereon garbage disposal plants.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

GENERAL COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have a communication which was mailed to me which I desire to read to the Gentlemen of the Senate, because it is addressed to them.

Gentlemen:

Whereas, you passed a resolution stating that the Appropriation Sub-committee "have very unwisely refused to approve a five million dollar appropriation necessary to permit work to continue in the erection of the Conemaugh Dam," and

Whereas, the matter has never been before any subcommittee of any committee of the House or Senate, and

Whereas, to date the only cut in the amount of money requested by the Army Engineers was the reduction in the President's Budget recommendation, and

Whereas, there is good reason to believe that the amount for Conemaugh will not receive a further serious cut in the Congress; therefore be it

Resolved, that we will regard your resolution passed in the Senate of Pennsylvania as undated, and be it further

Resolved, that when and if the House Sub-committee should later cut the budget recommendation below the sum of $3,200,000 which is proposed that we regard your resolution as having been passed two days after that date, and be it further

Resolved, that we will strike out the word 5,000,000 dollars from your resolution and insert in lieu thereof the amount which is cut out; and be it further

Resolved, that we humbly beseech the Senate of Pennsylvania not to pass any further resolutions condemning the Congress for any deed it never did, and be it further to the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of the Senate and to sundry members of the State Legislature.

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be transmitted

Signed—JOHN McDOWELL
ROBERT J. CORBETT
JAMES G. FULTON
Allegheny Co. Rep. Delegation

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in the resolution just read by the distinguished legal adviser from Allegheny, Senator Walker, it just goes to show that the same technique that was used in the campaign just passed is still being used, confuse and conquer. Unfortunately, I do not have the clippings with me, but, in fact, in the statement made by Congressman Corbett, Congressman McDowell and Congressman Fulton, they call upon the public to write letters to Washington, to Congress, or personally over the radio or on one of the KQV On-The-Spot programs, giving the lists, the names of the sub-committee, and after the pressure was brought to bear so that this appropriation would be included in the sub-committee's report on appropriations.

Again I would say it just shows that the confusion is still going on in Washington, because here are those three congressmen now passing a resolution condemning that we brought it to their attention that this money was not appropriated for the Conemaugh Dam, and now they go against their orders, because they were the ones who appealed to the people of Allegheny county and Western Pennsylvania, they appealed to the Chamber of Commerce and asked the Chamber of Commerce to go down the Ohio Valley and organize all the states below Pennsylvania, to put pressure on Congress to get this money, and now they come back and say we are criticising Congress before Congress did anything. The resolution was to the sub-committee, a sub-committee of the Appropriations Committee, and all we asked them to do was to put into the appropriation the sum of money that was necessary to finish the building of the Conemaugh Dam. We did what they asked us to do, put the pressure on them, make it public business, and as usual they come back with the same old story, confuse and conquer.

It is just the same as that great surplus we can not find now—we have it one minute and the next minute we do not have it, and I say it was just strictly along the party lines of the Republican party, confuse, confuse and confuse, and these congressmen are now following that same line of trying to confuse the people. One minute they say write and the next minute they say don't write. I wish these congressmen would make up their minds, what they want the people of Western Pennsylvania to do and all the states below Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, the Philadelphia Inquirer, speaking editorially on May 3, 1947, wisely stressed the need for a state rent control law. The editorial, as it appeared on May 3, reads as follows:

"NEEDED—A STATE RENT CONTROL LAW

"Action of the national House of Representatives in sending to the Senate a so-called rent control bill shot through with holes confronts the country's rent-payers and home-seekers with two prospective alternatives, neither of them agreeable:

"One is the possibility of a long-drawn-out wrangle over rent control in the Senate, followed by a Presidential veto of the resultant bill, and ensuing chaos that would leave the country with no rent ceilings at all. This would be a repetition of what happened last year when the OPA was terminated temporarily.

"Second possibility is the enactment of a law that would end all controls in less than a year and meanwhile provide numerous loopholes through which rent boosts could be plastered upon tenants.

"What this situation makes clear is the necessity for the State of Pennsylvania to assert itself to protect the vast number of persons who pay rent for their dwelling accommodations.

"The State should be prepared, by specific statute, to step in when Government rent control fails and stabilize ceilings itself, so as to prevent the skyrocketing of rents, wholesale evictions and aggravated hardships for tenants. New York has such a law, which served well during last summer's crisis, and there is no reason why Pennsylvanians should not have similar protection against rent-gouging.

"The House bill narrowly escaped amendments that would have weakened it even further. Many members of the House, in fact, wanted all controls abolished at once. An amendment that would have authorized a flat 10 percent increase in ceilings escaped approval by a narrow margin.

"As it is, the measure is not one that tenants can rely upon to keep their present ceilings intact.

"One of its provisions permits landlords to raise rents 15 percent if the tenant agrees to a two-year lease. This is an invitation to property owners to raise rents. Given the alternatives of a two-year lease plus a 15 percent boost in rent, and eviction, which is the average tenant likely to choose? This is not rent control but rent increase.

"Another clause in the bill permits any city, town or county to terminate rent control whenever its governing body wishes to. This is one-sided local option. The provision invites discriminaton against home-seekers, and exorbtant over-charging of tourists and vacationists.

"Rent control has continued, and is still desirable, because of the acute scarcity prevailing in homes and apartments for rent. Supply is far from meeting the demand, and there is no indication it will be able to catch up, in this section of the country, for some time to come.

"Arbitrary removal of all ceilings before the housing situation substantially improves would obviously force runaway inflation in rental prices and a contest between would-be-renters that those of small and moderate means must lose.

"Rigid and indefinite freezing of rent ceilings would, at the same time, work an injustice to a number of landlords whose costs have leaped while their income from rents has remained fixed at a too-low figure. These hardship cases should certainly be taken care of, and it has often been pointed out that they could be cared for more effectivley if controls were handled on a State rather than a Federal basis.

"President Truman has advocated a full year's extension of all rent controls from June 30, and a bill along that line, provided there is machinery for the relief of hardship cases among landlords, seems reasonable.

"But from the present temper of Congress there appears slight chance of any such extension. The country may find itself December 31 or June 30 or some other date in the near future with no brakes whatever upon rent charges and with landlords permitted to charge whatever the freight will bear.

"To protect our people in such a contingency a State rent control law is needed—and it should be passed before the contingency arrives."

Already, considerable concern and anxiety has been manifested in many quarters, particularly by the wage-earner, concerning the possible break-down of federal rent control.

The matter of rent control is of extreme importance, far more important than food and clothing price control. As soon as federal control is lifted, the unscrupulous landlords and realtors will be out for a killing. To give you an illustration of what they have already done with commercial rents, where there is no control, rentals have been upped over a hundred per cent during the past two years.

Without rent controls as to housing accommodations, thousands will be evicted, rents will be raised, the sky the limit, far above the capacity of the wage earner to pay. Violence, disorder, chaos, utter disregard for the law, will inevitably follow. May I now ask, where will the average wage-earner, unable to pay increased rents and forced out of his home live, sleep and rear his family. The home is considered an institution of civilization, and when greedy and selfish people interfere or attempt to break it up, there is great danger staring us in the face.

Are we to stand idly by awaiting action by Congress? New York state has already passed an emergency state rent control law to provide against any continguency. Yes, Congress has before it a measure to extend its life for a comparatively short time, and what is more, as pointed out by the Philadelphia Inquirer, it is a half-baked measure, full of loopholes and jokers, affording our citizens little or no relief. In any event, it will cease to exist after December 31, 1947, and there is little likelihood that the housing situation will substantially improve by then.

Things are moving quickly, and it requires immediate and bold action by us. It is our duty to protect our citizens, among them the G. I.'s, against unscroupulous realtors and landlords.

I therefore urge immediate action on Senate Bill No. 25, as introduced by me on January 29, 1947. Senate Bill No. 25, is an emergency state rent control bill patterned after the present New York law, and if it becomes law, is to take effect when and if federal control is lifted, and further applies to areas where there is a lack of housing accommodations, provides protection for the landlord in hardship cases, calls for the appointment of a rent commissioner, and an appropriation of $1,000,000. The least that can be done is to thresh the matter out in the open, through a public hearing. I am not priding myself on ownership of Senate Bill No. 25. If you are not satisfied with my bill, introduce another. I assure you I shall go along with you.

FORMER PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE EALY INTRODUCED TO SENATE

COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR THE LATE MAJOR GENERAL EDWARD C. SHANNON

Mr. BECKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 5, 1947.

Resolved, That a committee of six members of the Senate be appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Major General Edward C. Shannon, former Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate who died May twentieth, one thousand nine hundred forty-six and present said resolution at the special meeting to be held on Wednesday, May 7, 1947, at two o'clock P. M. Daylight Saving Time.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces on behalf of the President pro tempore the appointment of the following committee: the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Becker, Chairman; the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher; the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Scarlett, the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Donlan, the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Tarr, and the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND ADOPTED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I desire to offer an original resolution and desire to make a short statement.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Berks may proceed.

Mr. RUTH. One of the great problems before the world today is the Palestine problem. It has been placed before the United Nations by the mandated power, Great Britain. The United Nations has not taken any definite action. I feel, from the words that are known and were spoken in help solve this problem. For more than thirty years I the past, that we should do everything in our power to have been preaching from the Book that has been used to reveal the will of God through the agency of the Jewish people. I believe in that Book, I believe what it teaches, and I want to do everything in my power to help to insure, if possible, tranquillity in the world.

This is one of the world's burning problems and I have expressed in the resolution what I feel we in the Legislature of Pennsylvania can and should express at this time.

On behalf of Senator Carr and myself I present the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

UNITED NATIONS ASSEMBLY TO IMPLEMENT OBJECTIVE IN SOLVING THE PALESTINE PROBLEMS

Messrs RUTH and CARR offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 5, 1947.

Whereas The problem of Palestine has been placed before the United Nations Assembly at the request of the mandatory power, the British government; and

Whereas The agenda of the United Nations Assembly is certain to include many matters concerning Palestine; and

Whereas, The matter of pressing solutions to immediately urgent problems such as immigration and land purchases may be prolonged or postponed subject to the appointment of a committee or commission of inquiry; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concurs) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania petitions the President of the United States to instruct its respective representatives in the United Nations Assembly to implement the following objectives:

First, the representation of the Jewish Agency for Palestine in the deliberations of the United Nations. Secondly, immediate revocation of the illegal restrictions of Jewish immigration and Jewish land purchase in the Jewish National Home—as interim measures pending final United Nations recommendations. Thirdly, United States initiative within the United Nations to achieve the Palestine program it has publicly indorsed.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. MALLERY, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 5, 1947.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, May 12, 1947, at three o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, May 12, 1947, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. RAHAUSER. Mr. President, Dr. Hugh H. Darby, editor of American Cookery in March of 1946 said:

"Most of the arguments against margarine have not centered around its suitability for, and its value in, the American diet, but have been raised upon the economic aspect of the product.

"It cannot be too strongly stated that the welfare of the individual, the mass population who must use margarine, has not been uppermost in the minds of our Legislators when unreasonable taxes have been placed upon this product."

This is addressed to the Federal Congress—this is especially true at the present time, when the Federal Government is facing the extreme problem of increased cost of living, and I say one of the methods by which this problem can be dealt with is the repealing of the high taxes on this very important food. I say that one way of meeting this problem is to repeal these federal laws.

In order that the Senate may know something of what the taxes are on colored and uncolored margarine, the manufacturer's license fee and the tax pursuant thereto are extremely high. The fee alone is $600 per year. The wholesaler's license fee is $480 per year. The retailer's license fee is $48 per year on colored margarine and $6 per year on uncolored margarine.

Just as the Pure Food Act in Pennsylvania of 1909 is ample protection for food in Pennsylvania and there is no need for Senate Bill 644, which recently has been presented, so the Federal Statute, the Federal Food and Drug Act and its companion measure, contain adequate protection for the people of the United States.

At the present time there is duplicity in protecting the people of Pennsylvania; you have the Federal Food Act and the Pennsylvania Pure Food Act. The standards of the Federal Food and Drug Act require the identity of margarine, as does the Pennsylvania Pure Food Act. In fact, the identity and standards are clear and explicit. The Federal Act, as to the identity, provides that the label must set forth the name "Oleomargarine" on the package, which is also a requisite of the Act of 1909. In addition, according to the Federal Food and Drug Act, the contents must be labeled, for instance, "prepared from animal fat," or "prepared from vegetable fat" or "prepared from animal and vegetable fat" that must be clearly labeled on the package.

The federal statutes require the label must state whether or not artificial coloring is added. If sodium benzoate is added, it must be set forth. In short, the analysis must be set forth on the label above the name. There is no need for burdensome regulations for keeping the corner grocery store or drug store from selling this commodity, and there is no need for placing extreme burdens on the seller of this very valuable food. There is no need for it in the Federal Government. There is no need for it in this recent bill, No. 644. There is every reason why the Senate bill known as the Farrell bill should be enacted.

Just as there is every reason for enactment of the Farrell bill, so there is every reason for the enactment of this resolution which I am about to present.

I have attempted to show to this body that the Farrell bill should be passed and that Senate Bill 644 should be kept in committee. I have attempted to show that any legislation in excess of the Pure Food Act is surplus legislation which merely adds expense to the taxpayer and sets up useless bureaucratic government and does many of the things which for many years this state has not tolerated and so, in the federal government, a continuance of the archaic oleomargarine statutes provides the same result.

I therefore wish to present this resolution, memoralizing the Congress of the United States and requesting them to consider the repeal of all taxes and licenses on those selling or manufacturing this wholesome food known as oleomargarine.

I ask for its immediate adoption, Mr. President.

MEMORALIZING CONGRESS TO REPEAL THE FEDERAL LICENSE FEES ON OLEOMARGARINE

Mr. RAHAUSER offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

Whereas, the consumption of fats are essential for the health of the population; and

Whereas, the consumption of table fats is today barely one-half of what nutritive experts have proven should be consumed by the individual and

Whereas, the increased cost of living will further decrease the amount of nutritive fats consumed; and

Whereas, margarine has been proven to be a cheap and healthful fat; and

Whereas, the sale of margarine is amply protected by the Federal Food and Drug Acts, and

Whereas, the Federal Taxes on this food serve no purpose except to reduce the amount of margagine consumed and impede its marketability, especially at the small grocery stores of the nation; and

Whereas, Congress should take every available means to check the increased cost of living, and bring within the purchasing reach those foods necessary for a healthy diet;

Be It Resolved, by the Senate of Pennsylvania, that the Congress of the United States be memorialized to repeal the archaic taxes and license fees on oleomargarine.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. RAHAUSER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FRAZIER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 711, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Philadelphia Psychiatric Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. CARR,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of considering the nominations of His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which were laid on the table April 29, 1947, and those reported at today's session.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 561, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections eight hundred sixty-eight and eight hundred sixty-nine of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" further regulating the use and possession of certain containers be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I think I may satisfy the gentleman's request for a roll call by explaining to him that the reason for the re-committment of this bill is because the sponsor has requested it, for the reason that the provisions of this bill are covered in the penal code.

Mr. BARR. I withdraw my request, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 593, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three hundred two and seven hundred one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 571) entitled "An act relating to assessment for taxation in counties of the fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for county borough town township school except in cities and county institution district purposes and providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation thereof for such purposes creating in each such county a board for the assessment and revision of taxes defining the powers and duties of such boards providing for the acceptance of this act by cities regulating the office of ward borough town and township assessors abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class providing for the appointment of a chief assessor assistant assessors and other employes providing for their compensation payable by such counties prescribing certain duties of and certain fees to be collected by the recorder of deeds and eliminating the triennial assessment" enlarging the powers of boards of assessment and revision of taxes as to the revision of assessments and valuations

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 1 (Sec. 702), page 5, line 8, by inserting after the word "mailed" the following: "or delivered"; Amend sec. 1 (Sec. 701), page 5, line 11, by striking out the words "revision and"; Amend sec. 1 (Sec. 701), page 5, line 11, by inserting brackets before and after the word "appeal" and inserting immediately thereafter "revision."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 659, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-three of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" by increasing for a further limited period of time the rate of tax imposed upon the gross receipts of certain companies limited partnerships associations joint-stock associations copartnerships and persons by making further provisions for the report and payment of the tax and by further defining gross receipts

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 661, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, P. L. 13), entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor, as herein defined, sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the collection and payment of such tax; and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board," as previously reenacted and amended, by extending the provisions thereof for a further limited period of time.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 662, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 341) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales of cigarettes by dealers as herein defined requiring persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale and retail to secure permits prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and persons as herein defined engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale and providing penalties" as previously reenacted and amended by increasing the rate of tax by reducing the rate of commission for affixing stamps and extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GELTZ offered the following amendment:

Amend page 21, section 2, line 10, by striking out after the word "tive," the following: "[immediately upon its final enactment]," and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: "on the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 663, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred three (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed beverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" by temporarily increasing the rates of certain taxes

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 3) page 6, by inserting between lines 6 and 7 the following:

(d) The Department is hereby authorized and required to allow to each purchaser of tax stamps or tax crowns a discount of four (4) percentum of the purchase price of the tax value of stamps or crowns purchased upon the payment by him into the State Treasury through the Department of any moneys due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such purchaser of such stamps or crowns.

The said discount shall be allowed by the Department in lieu of any claim for refund by reason of (1) the breakage or destruction of containers stamped or crowned as provided in this act in possession of the purchaser or (2) the loss or destruction of tax stamps or tax crowns.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, by way of explanation, this amendment to the malt beverage act is designed to give malt beverage bottlers all over the state the same consideration given by the federal government in its application of the federal taxes. They are at the present time refunded by the federal government, when they show a loss due to destruction of tax stamps, or loss of crowns, etc. I believe it is only simple justice to say that if a person must pay a tax, he should not be taxed for losses incurred because of the nature of his business. We recognized that fact when we passed the cigarette tax and allowed persons who purchase the tax stamps and apply them to the packages, and so forth, we allow them seven and a half per cent of course, in the new bill that is reduced to four per cent.

The matter is one that only calls for simple justice, and the question is wether or not we intend to further endanger this particular business, because, as you all recognize, the tax is now increased one hundred per cent on malt beverages. We all know, too, that any losses incurred in the bottling end of the business are naturally passed on to the consumer, and, therefore, if we create a situation in the Commonwealth that increases the cost of doing business, we can safely assume that the increased cost will be passed on to the consumers.

We all recognize too, that in the eyes of many persons, the manufacturing or the brewing of malt beverages, and the transportation and sale of same, is a privileged business, and, therefore, at times we consider it perfectly all right for those of us in the General Assembly to make any kind of attack we wish upon this business.

However, I believe since we are granting these privileges to all others who have to pay a state tax on their particular product, it becomes the duty of the Senate of Pennsylvania to give to this group of taxpayers the same consideration that we give to all others.

That, Mr. President and members of the Senate is the sum and substance of this amendment.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—13

Barr,	Jaspan,	Leader,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Klein,	Rahauser,	Tarr,
Haluska,	Lane,	Ruth,	Woodring,
Holland,

NAYS—36

Becker,	Donlan,	Lord,	Tyler,
Berger,	Farrell,	Mahany,	Wade,
Blass,	Frazier,	Mallery,	Wagner,

Crowe,	Homsher,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
DiSilvestro,	Kephart,	Tallman,	Wood, L. H.,
Doehla,	Letzler,	Taylor,	Wood, T. N.,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 664, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a state tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and bottlers and by others of syrups and bottled soft drinks prepared used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth requiring persons as herein defined engaged in the manufacture bottling distribution sale and transportation of syrup and bottled soft drinks to secure permits prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax or assessing the tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those manufacturing bottling distributing selling and transporting syrup or bottled soft drinks taxable hereunder and providing penalties

The first, second and third sections were read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 4, Page 10, Line 14, by striking out the words and figures, "half cent (½c)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "cent (1c)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, speaking for the adoption of the amendment, I just want to call the attention of the Senate to a very simple fact.

This bill, as originally written, obnoxious as it is and discriminatory as it is, at least was discriminatory on an equal basis—it discriminated against all persons who sold bottled prepared soft drinks.

Now, perhaps for reasons best known to the high command of the opposition party that is responsible for this type of legislation, we find there has been a reduction of fifty per cent in the tax that will be paid by the larger number of taxpayers. We all know there are approximately thirty thousand outlets in the state that sell drinks over the counter, in the fountain type of drink, mixed right at the fountain. Then there are approximately eight hundred bottlers in the state who will constitute the minority or a smaller number of taxpayers, and they will pay one cent for the same type, the same size drink.

Mr. President, and members of the Senate, we all know that taxes are, in a sense, a necessity in a civilized state and nation, and that some form of taxation must be assessed against the people if they are to have civilized government. However, when political considerations cause injustices to be perpetrated against a large group of taxpayers in a like industry, it is time that somebody called a halt.

We have here a tax supposedly to be placed against soft drinks. Later on I will prove by an analysis of the bill that it goes further than that but for the moment allow me to show you that on page 10 of this bill, section 4, we have a very discriminatory feature. If you buy syrup and prepare a soft drink and go to the expense of bottling the same and transporting it to the outlets, you pay one cent tax, but if you buy this same syrup and serve it through a fountain drink, the same amount of drink at the same price to the consumer, you pay one half cent tax.

There are two things that will happen under this type of a tax measure: in the first place you are penalizing that person who employs labor to a greater extent, because he has all the functions of bottling, preparation, transportation and merchandising in general, as against the confectionery store owner the drug store owner or the grocery store owner that has a fountain in his establishment and, secondly, you are giving to that fountain operator as much money for his till as what the state will take in taxes. There is no measure of currency in our state and nation that will allow this man who operates a soda fountain to assess a one-half cent tax; either he absorbs the entire amount of that tax—and I understand it is somewhere in the neighborhood of $38,000,000 or somewhere around that figure, and I believe all of us realize it would be impossible for the ordinary businessman in this state to absorb this tax.

So he is in this position: he cannot charge one-half cent, so either he reduces the content of syrup in his drink, reduces the size of the drink to the consumer, or he cheats and adds one cent to the drink and takes one-half cent more profit, the same amount as the state is assessing against him for taxes.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am not a constitutional lawyer but I do pride myself on always trying to analyze between right and wrong, and I understand the Constitution so endeavors to. I cannot see how this Senate can call this tax constitutional, when the same drink is assessed with a one cent tax as against the same drink assessed with a one-half cent tax, when both are made out of the same component parts.

So, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I say to you that to my mind you are endangering the whole structure of this bill by allowing this discriminatory feature to be contained therein.

Mr. President, I submit that this reason and reasoning is sufficient for all open-minded men to realize that competitively they are doing an injustice to one group as against another group.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, my colleague from Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, says he is not a constitutional lawyer, but I think he did pretty well on a matter concerning the Constitution. I think he understands very well, and that probably is the reason for the introduction of his amendment, that if this amendment were passed and the tax were again put back to one cent per ounce, we would then have a tax of $1.28 per gallon on syrup, which would make it a confiscatory tax and therefore unconstitutional, and I think he well knows that was the principal reason for the reduction of the tax to one-half cent per ounce, and for that reason so that the bill will be constitutional, I ask my colleagues to vote against the amendment.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to call to the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny the fact that when a bottler buys his syrup, he pays the same price for that syrup as a fountain store owner does, and if it is confiscatory on the part of the person who owns a fountain, then it must also be confiscatory to the bottler who buys the same syrup and pays the same money for it.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I think my worthy colleague somewhat misunderstands the situation. When a bottler buys that syrup he does not pay a tax; when he bottles soft drinks he pays a tax of one cent per twelve ounces of bottled soft drink. That is in the nature of an excise or manufacturing tax, and not in the nature of a use tax, and therefore the distinction between the one cent and one-half cent does not prevent uniformity of taxes as required by law.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, of course, the worthy Senator from Allegheny and myself could argue from now until doomsday about constitutionality, but we all know where that final decision must be made. I still say, Mr. President, that even the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania, or any higher court, will take into consideration the fact that both groups of users pay the same amount of money for the initial product and the component parts that go into the ultimate consumer's product.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, in order that there be no mistake about this, I think it ought to be clearly understood by everyone here that a gallon of syrup will be taxed at the rate of sixty-four cents if it is not used to bottle the drink, and if it is used to bottle the drink, that same gallon ultimately will stand a tax of $1.28 and, notwithstanding the constitutional question that is involved, each of us should consider carefully that from a clearly practical standpoint we are doing a very dangerous thing.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 4, page 10, lines 15 and 16 by striking out the words and figures "on each twelve (12 fluid ounces or fraction thereof on bottled soft drinks," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "up to and including twelve (12) fluid ounces, two cents (2c) over twelve (12) fluid ounces to and including thirty-two (32) fluid ounces, three cents (3c) over thirty-two fluid ounces."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I object to the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. There is objection.

Mr. DENT. I did not hear any objection, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lebanon, Senator Becker, objected. Is that right?

Mr. BECKER. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. This is very painful to me but I would like to interrogate the Senator from Lebanon.

The PRESIDENT. There is objection. Does the Senator from Westmoreland wish to ask a question?

Mr. DENT. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, may we be at ease?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, was the question directed to the President whether I would consent to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. It was.

Mr. BECKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Will the gentleman from Lebanon tell the Senate why he objects to the amendment.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I object to the amendment for the reason that this amendment is a complicated amendment, differing from the one in the bill, and I wanted to submit it quickly to a roll call and have it disposed of.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Lebanon very kindly.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, I believe that the amendment can be clarified very easly by a simple explanation and I am only hoping that after explaining it, if they see any justice in it, they will reconsider their action.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, in the soft drink field there are two competitive classes, the one that is called the pint bottle and which, of course, is not a pint bottle but a small bottle which may range anywhere from six, seven to twelve ounces, and which, in the competitive field, is restricted to that field by consumer prices. The second competitive field is the twenty-eight ounce bottle and the thirty-two ounce bottle. For practical purposes there are no such bottles known as twenty-four ounce bottles.

The framers of this tax bill either ignored or were in ignorance of the practices of the soft drink industry. By bottling in the larger bottle they are able to give the consumer a larger quantity of soft drink for a reduced price. We now eliminate that boon to consumers of soft drinks by placing an inequitable three cent charge against a twenty-eight ounce bottle.

I submit, Mr. President and members of the Senate, that if we do have to tax people, we ought at least try to do it in an intelligent manner, we ought to look into the problems of the industry we are assessing a tax against and try to place those taxes in such a manner that they do not act as a crippling feature to that industry.

I say the only thing these amendments do is to put the two competitive classes of soda drinks on a competitive basis equally, and that is all they do.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I expect it all depends on what one thinks of as being competitive, but the Senator from Westmoreland indicates himself that in the one classification, or in the one competitive class, there is one kind of drink, six or seven ounces, and the other may be eight or ten ounces, both of which pay the same tax, that is, one cent, up to twelve ounces.

Mr. President, all this amendment does is to try to reduce the tax, after it gets over the first twelve ounces, because it carriers to thirty-two ounces instead of twenty-four, having a three cent tax on it. It is just an indirect method of trying to reduce taxes. It is not a question of taking any particular brand or class of drink out of the competitive class, and there is no reason for so doing.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can not help what people think I intend to say, I can only say what I think, and I say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz, that two competitive classes are created by price range, and they are distinctly competitive on the price range angle and, therefore, any suggestion that the amendment is an attempt to reduce the tax for any particular brand name is entirely aside from the argument. I do not know that there is any particular brand name that sells a twenty-four ounce bottle. Frankly, I know of no soda pop that is sold in my community in a twenty-four ounce bottle. I do know that there are twenty-eighty and thirty-two ounce bottles sold for the same price competitively and, therefore, the amendment, as I see it, is sound and equitable.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—13

Barr,	Jaspan,	Rahauser,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Tarr,
DiSilvestro,	Leader,	Ruth,	Woodring,
Holland,

NAYS—35

Becker,	Farrell,	Lord,	Wade,
Berger,	Frazier,	Mahany,	Wagner,
Blass,	Geltz,	Mallery,	Walker,
Carr,	Haluska,	Scarlett,	Watson,
Chapman,	Hare,	Snowden,	Wilson,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Crowe,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wood, L. H.,
Doehla,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Wood, T. N.,
Donlan,	Letzler,	Tyler,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fifth and sixth sections were read and agreed to.

The seventh section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to offer the following amendment, and for the information of the gentlemen on the other side, this is an amendment to section 7, page 25, line 2.

I think this is one amendment you will adopt, or there is no reason for having the whole paragraph preceding it, because if you are going to demand surety bonds, you are not going to save bottlers one cent in the collection of this tax.

Mr. BARR offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 7, page 25, line 2, by inserting after the word "Bond" and before the "in" the following: "without surety".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, to further explain this amendment, in order to get a surety bond a person would have to put up proper collateral or security, and I am fearful the small bottler could not do so and, because we are trying to help the small bottler, that is the reason for the whole preceding paragraph. I have inserted the words, "without security"

Somebody on the other side may set up and say he could put his plant as collateral, but I say to them the majority of the small bottlers are generally small business men and men who have just returned from the service and have these small bottling plants. This will not cost the state one cent in revenue, but it will save these small bottlers and allow them to take advantage of the paragraph pereceding where I offer my amendment, and if that is not adopted you are not helping the small bottler one iota, Senator Geltz.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote down this amendment for the reason that on line 2, page 25, it is provided that a bond in a form prescribed by the department shall be entered into. It does not say a surety bond shall be filed. It says "a bond in the form prescribed by the department," which means simply what it says, that the department can use its discretion in determining the type of bond it thinks is required under the circumstances. Certainly we should not in this bill handcuff or tie the Department of Revenue, when it may have to deal with one or two or a very small number of individuals who are in this business, in such a way that they may determine, but I am sure the other side knows just as well as we do that the department is not going to be unduly harsh in connection with the type or form of bond which is required, and they, therefore, should be allowed the latitude of doing that which they think is right under the circumstances.

I therefore ask that the amendment be voted down.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I submit, as the Senator from Allegheny, Senator Barr, pointed out that, that if the department can prescribe a surety bond for one bottler and not prescribe the same type of bond for another bottler, then I would suggest that they would be guilty of discrimination. It seems to me this whole bill is shot through with discriminatory features. Most of us are too old to be taken in by such palaver as saying that the department would have its hands tied. I think all of us ought to be started towards the point where we do tie the hands of the departments, at least to conform to the rules and regulations contained in the laws the legislature passes. I can easily see a condition arising in a very hectic political campaign where a bottler of a different political faith than the administration in power at that time would find himself either contributing to the political kitty or being presented with rules or with a provision on his bond that he could not meet. Everybody in this room knows the difficulty in obtaining a surety bond on a small plant bottling about fifty thousand cases. It would be almost impossible for that person to subscribe to that regulation. Again you are acting in behalf of the large bottler as against the smaller one.

We allowed and left in the bill, if you please, in line 2, the very provision that the gentleman from Allegheny called attention to, and that is that the bond shall be in the form prescribed by the department, but we do say that it shall not be a surety bond.

If these men are going to be assessed with the tax-collecting job, they certainly ought not to be forced to spend money to obtain a surety bond in order to act as tax collectors for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They can not operate for a period of more than thirty days under the provisions of this bill, bond or no bond and yet you want to submit them to an expense uncalled for and unheard of.

Mr. President, we all know that the gasoline distributors have to put up a surety bond, and many of them have had very difficult times in trying to meet this requirement, when they should not be assessed with this problem.

I submit again, Mr. President, that it seems that the majority is so fearful that any action they may take on an amendment even to the bill might take away from them some of the solidarity they propose to show in passing these obnoxious taxes.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh sections were read and agreed to.

The twelfth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 12, Page 28, Line 12, by inserting after the word "Navy" the following: "syrups used to make ice cream, ice cream sundies, cakes, cookies, pies or other baked goods or other non-fluid food items, soft drinks or syrups used in public or parochial schools, churches, youth centers, State aided hospitals and other State institutions."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, perhaps if the members of the Senate would read pages 3 and 4 of this bill, they would not laugh so much when something is being done to correct either a misunderstanding or a misinterpretation or a deliberate attempt to tax items not included in the general terms of the soft drink tax.

So for the benefit of the Senate, I would like to read from page 3, starting with line 11:

"Syrup or syrups as referred to in this act shall be defined as being the compound mixture or basic ingrient"—I stop right there to point out to the Senate that the word "used" has been stricken out and in lieu thereof there has been inserted the following "practically and commercially usable"—"in making, mixing or compounding bottled soft drinks or non-bottled soft drinks by the mixing with same of carbonated or plain water, ice, fruit, milk. or any other product, or sundaes or other fountain products among such syrups, being such products as coca cola syrup, chero-cola syrup, lemon syrup, vanilla syrup, chocolate syrup, cherry smash syrup, rock candy syrup, Doctor Pepper syrup (I do not know how he got in there), simple syrups and all other syrups prepared, manufactured and practically and commercially usable for the purpose of mixing non-bottled soft drinks (1), making sundaes and other fountain products) (2), or for preparation or manufacturing (3), bottled soft drinks (4)

If the language of the bill is not clear to you, it certainly is to me. If the words "preparation and manufacturing" do not include all syrup that is put into the manufacture of ice cream, then I would like this Senate to have a statement to the contrary; if it does not include ice cream products, sundaes of all natures, I would like that to be told to the Senate of Pennsylvania.

If this is a soft drink tax let us describe it and clearly assert that it is a soft drink tax. Let us not go before the people of Pennsylvania with a statement we are going to tax soda pop, when in reality we are taxing food that is used in the confectinery stores and many of the smaller grocery stores that have fountains all over the state, namely, ice cream products.

So, Mr. President, although the amendments may have sounded like a blocking clause, they are in reality something that I believe should be contained in the bill. I do not believe any member of this Senate wants to tax syrup that goes into pastries and bakery goods, and I do not believe any member of this Senate wants to tax ice cream as such. I do not believe any member of this Senate is under any illusions about this tax.

In the first place, I believe they know this is a soft drink tax and as such they have committed themselves to the passage of it, but if they will read the bill, and read it carefully, I think they all will come to the conclusion it taxes other than soft drinks, because, Mr. President, further on in the bill it has been amended to take out chocolate drinks when they are made with whole fluid milk. I question the constitutionality of that particular phrase. I did not quite want to go to that particular extreme and say unconstitutional; I know I question the justice of it. If you prepare a soft drink, called a chocolate drink and it contains two and one-half per cent of butterfat, and that drink is made with whole or fluid milk, you are taxfree but if you prepare that same chocolate drink, with a content of two and one-half per cent butterfat, made with dried milk, you are taxed.

Mr. President, I do not believe the framers of the Constitution of this state ever intended that we should pass taxes that penalize one line of endeavor as against another line of endeavor, and the members of this Senate are perpetrating an injustice here today.

In this connection I call your attention to the fact that state-aided hospitals are taxed on the soda products and the syrup that they use. I call your attention to the fact that under the present bill children, going to school and receiving free lunch or receiving a luncheon period at a reduced rate and get soda and milk drinks, will be taxed under this bill, in spite of the fact that two weeks ago we passed an appropriation setting up a certain amount of money in conjunction with the federal government to buy these milk drinks for the children in our public schools.

And so, Mr. President, we sit here and pass bills, and I dare say most of us do not realize the consequences of the acts we are passing.

I say to you that veterans hospitals, unless they are run expressly by the army and navy, are not excluded from this tax. I cannot see the justice of excluding veterans hospitals and then not excluding state-aided hospitals, our state institutions, if you please.

We have to raise money. We came into the Senate of Pennsylvania this year and increased the appropriation to state-aided hospitals by forty per cent, and yet we turn right around and tax an item, and I say, a very considerable item, of their budget, right here.

And so, Mr. President although there were some snickers, I tell the members of the Senate that these amendments are absolutely fair, just and equitable.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, the intention of this bill is to tax syrups which are used for soft drink purposes as well as fountain purposes, and to exempt syrup used for home purposes, institutions and such as that.

In connection with the wording which has been put into this bill "practically and commercially usable," we had, as my colleague from Westmoreland will recall, testimony at the public hearing that there is a distinct difference between syrup which is made for home use and that which is made for commercial use, and, therefore, in order to exempt that type of syrup, the words "practically and commercially usable" were inserted in this bill.

If you just read it "commercially usable" that may give you one idea, but when you combine the words "practically and commercially usable" you have an entirely different situation, because, as we were advised at the public hearing, the syrup which is provided for home consumption is placed in a particular container and has stamped on the label "for home use" or "home syrup" or some wording to that effect, and it comes in a much smaller size container that that which is used by the soft drink people or for fountain purposes.

Therefore, before that type of syrup could come in under this bill, it would become necessary that some individuals, who might be termed chiselers, would use the home type of syrup for purposes other than for which it was manufactured and, of course, the wording here would prevent chiseling in that respect.

In so far as what might be considered somewhat of a harangue by the other side in connection with what we are doing with the school children, taxing their drinks and so forth, is concerned, I might say, Mr. President, that we inserted in this bill that provision as to the two and one-half per cent of butterfat, again, to try to protect the school children from the chiseler in the industry, because we all know, I think, that many times when you go into a store and ask for a chocolate milk, if it happens to be bottled it is not chocolate milk, it is a chocolate drink, and, therefore, children getting that chocolate drink certainly do not get the food value the same as they would out of chocolate milk, and by having this provision of two and one-half per cent butter fat in here, it seems to me that we are doing two things, we are making it unprofitable, in a measure, to be a chiseler, and we are, on the other hand, making it better for the children who drink chocolate milk, by making more certain that they do get chocolate milk and not some watered-down chocolate drink.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, for fear of being accused of starting a harangue this afternoon, I might say to the gentleman from Allegheny that I do not object to the two and one-half per cent butterfat provision, but I do object when you say that two and one-half per cent butterfat content is only tax free when it is made with a certain type of ingredient. There is no difference in the food value of a chocolate drink made with dried milk and a chocolate drink made with fluid milk, and yet you distinctly separate the two and make one taxable and the other not taxable.

So far as institutions are concerned, I would appreciate it if the gentleman from Allegheny would point out to me in this bill where institutions under the supervision of the state of Pennsylvania are exempted from this tax. I may have missed it and I am willing to be corrected; however, I have tried to read it rather carefully and I find no such exemption.

Mr. President, so far as the argument is concerned that we are trying to delay, I would say that if the majority had its way we would not be permitted to even discuss the bills. I can remember very distinctly when we put the taxes on in 1937, when upon the floor of this Senate the same gentleman took hours upon hours of our time arguing against the taxes which were being assessed against the corporate interests of the Commonwealth. I am now trying to take, in a measure, a small portion of the same time consumed by him to fight the taxes now being placed upon the shoulders of the wage-earners of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, to substantiate my remarks, I intend to give to the Senate at this time, as part of my argument, a resolution passed Saturday by fourteen hundred representatives of organized labor in convention assembled here in Harrisburg, protesting against this tax as being a direct tax against them and their families.

Therefore, to make it a part of the record and to be contained as part of my argument against this tax, I am sending to the Chair this resolution, which I ask be put into the record.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland is not in order at this time in submitting a resolution.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I either have to do that or I will have to read it, and if I read it, it will get into the record. I am only seeking to save time.

The PRESIDENT. If the gentleman from Westmoreland wants to read the resolution as a part of his debate, he may do so, but submitting a resolution is not in order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I submit I am not presenting it as a resolution for consideration of the Senate, but only as evidence and as an exhibit.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland read the resolution himself if he wants it included in the record or, if there are no objections it will be inserted in the record. Is the gentle from Westmoreland offering the resolution?

Mr. DENT. I do not offer the resolution. I wish to make certain remarks?

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Westmoreland request that it be placed in the record?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, to further explain my argument that this bill is not only in its entirety discriminatory, but to further substantiate my argument that this bill has certain inequalities in it, I would like to submit for the information of the Senate the following:

"The following Resolution was passed on Thursday, May 1st, at the Pennsylvania State Capitol by 1500 members of the American Federation of Labor of the State of Pennsylvania, opposing the proposed soft drink tax; the Resolution was then sent by the Convention to Governor Duff; to the Majority and Minority Leaders of the Senate; and to the Majority and Minority Leaders of the House:

"Resolved, that we, members of the American Federation of Labor of the State of Pennsylvania are opposed to the proposed Tax Bill Number 664 for the taxing of soft drinks, for the following reasons:

"1. Wage earners in the lower income group are among the largest consumers of soft drinks. We consider it manifestly unfair that this group should be the one asked to bear a tax on a simple, everyday, innocent drink which gives pleasure and benefit to large groups of people in the low income class.

"2. The proposed tax would have an adverse effect on Industry, with accompanying decreased employment in the State of Pennsylvania because the experience of other states shows that the bottling industry, geared as it is to mass volume sales, would be seriously injured by a tax which would cut down on this volume of sales. Many small bottlers would be put out of business entirely, and unemployment would result not only among the workers directly in the soft drink industry but also in industry and allied products supplying the soft drink industry.

"3. Many active workers depend on soft drinks for energy on their jobs, and depriving these workers of this energizing food product is against their health interests.

"4. The proposed tax is against the principles of economy, expressed in President Truman's current economy drive to bring down the high cost of living for the public. Soft drinks are one of the few food products which are still available to large masses of people at low cost, and to add a 20% increase to the cost of this particular food product through the proposed tax puts an extra burden on the family food budget which it should not be called upon to bear at this time.

"5. The proposal to tax soft drinks is in effect a luxury tax on the poor man's pleasure."

It was introduced by Scott F. Marshall, Secretary-Treasurer, Teamsters Local 249, and was passed unanimously by the convention.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth sections and title were read and agreed to.

Referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

By Mr. ANDREWS. RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1947.

Whereas, in a recent issue the Philadelphia Inquirer, a reputable newspaper of general circulation specifically alleged that:

"as The Inquirer survey discloses, silt is still moving into the river. Blamed for this condition is a combination of indifference, bad planning, shortage of equipment and plain flouting of the law. Many operators are described as blatant in their indifference to the anti-pollution act; only a few have taken concrete steps to comply with its provisions." and

Whereas, as the Philadelphia Inquirer points out "no one can expect the Schuylkill to be cleaned up over night as if by magic" it is nevertheless a matter of proper legislative concern if any group evidences "a blantant indifference to the anti-pollution act" and because of hostility to it evades and declines to cooperate in the enforcement of this act, therefore be it

Resolved, that this House requests the Speaker to appoint a committee of three, of which the gentleman from Montgomery Mr. Brunner shall be chairman, to make a survey for the purpose of determining the degree of compliance with the anti-pollution act and to summarize the evidence which led the Philadelphia Inquirer to allege that in connection with enforcement of the anti-pollution act there was a combination and indifference, bad planning, shortage of equipment and plain flouting of the law, and be it further

Resolved, that this committee be requested to report to this House not later than Thursday, May 22, 1947.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

An Act creating as bodies corporate and politic "Parking Authorities" in cities of the second class prescribing the rights powers and duties of such authorities authorizing such authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate parking projects to conduct research of the parking problem and to establish a permanent coordinated system of parking facilities and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such authorities empowering such authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government State political subdivisions of the State or any agency thereof exempting the property and securities of such parking authorities from taxation and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates

The General Assemby of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Short Title

This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Parking Authority Law"

Section 2 Findings and Declaration of Policy

It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of Legislative finding

(a) That residential decentralization in cities of the second class has been accompanied by an ever increasing trend in the number of persons entering the business sections by private automobile as compared with other modes of transportation

(b) That the parking of vehicles is part of the public street service

(c) That the free circulation of traffic of all kinds through the streets of cities of second class is necessary to the health safety and general welfare of the public whether residing in the city or traveling to through or from the city in the course of lawful pursuits

(d) That the greatly increased use by the public of motor vehicles of all kinds has caused serious traffic congestion on the streets of cities of the second class

(e) That the parking of motor vehicles on the streets has contributed to this congestion to such an extent as to interfere seriously with the primary use of such streets for the movement of traffic

(f) That such parking prevents the free circulation of traffic in through and from the city impedes rapid and effective fighting of fires and the disposition of police forces in the district and endangers the health safety and welfare of the general public

(g) That such parking threatens irreparable loss in valuations of property in the city which can no longer be readily reached by vehicular traffic

(h) That this parking crisis threatens the welfare of the community can be reduced by providing sufficient off-street parking facilities properly located in the several residential commercial and industrial areas of the city

(i) That the establishment of a parking authority will promote the public safety convenience and welfare

(j) That it is intended that the authority cooperate with all existing parking facilities so that private enterprise and government may mutually provide adequate parking services for the convenience of the public

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the safety and welfare of the inhabitants thereof by the creation in second class cities of bodies corporate and politic to be known as "Parking Authorities" which shall exist and operate for the purposes contained in this act Such purposes are hereby declared to be public uses for which public money may be spent and private property may be acquired by the exercise of the power of eminent domain

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 651, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four thousand three hundred four of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the thir class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by providing that the right to participate in the police pension fund after having been established shall not be forfeited

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 4304), page 2, line 15, by inserting after the part-word "manage-" the following "ment of said fund which may be made by ordinance and which may",

Amend Sec. 1, (Section 4304), page 2, line 17, by striking out all of said line.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LAYER. Mr. Speaker, in looking over the bill it is very confusing because of parenthesis in line 10 or 13, I think.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, is it permissible to pass this bill over?

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw the amendments.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. If there is no obpection this bill will be passed over.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 735, as follows:

An Act to amend sections four thousand three hundred twenty four thousand three hundred twenty-one four thousand three hundred twenty-two four thousand three hundred twenty-three four thousand three hundred twenty-four and four thousand three hundred twenty-five of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. Mr. TURNER IN THE CHAIR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 817, as follows:

An Act defining and regulating certain installment sales of motor vehicles prescribing the conditions under which such sales may be made and regulating the financing thereof regulating and licensing persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales prescribing the form contents and effect of instruments used in connection with such sales and the financing thereof prescribing certain rights and obligations of buyers sellers persons financing such sales and others limiting incidental charges in connection with such instruments and fixing maximum interest rates for delinquencies extensions and loans regulating insurance in connection with such sales regulating repossessions redemptions resales and deficiency judgments and the rights of parties with respect thereto authorizing extensions loans and forbearances related to such sales authorizing investigations and examinations of persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales prescribing penalties and repealing certain acts

The General Assembly of the Comonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Motor Vehicles Sales Finance Act"

Section 2 Findings and Declarations of Policy It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of legislative finding

(a) That an exhaustive study by the Joint State Government Commission discloses nefarious unscroupulous and improper practices in the financing of the sale of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth which are unjustifiably detrimental to the consumer and inimical to the public welfare Such practices prevail not only among sellers but also among sales finance companies and banks which acquire contracts arising out of installment sales of motor vehicles and which frequently influence the credit policies of sellers

(b) That the agreement for the installment sale of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth has been generally cast in the form of the so-called "Pennsylvania Bailment Lease" contract in which the seller is technically the lessor and the buyer is technically the lessee By the use of this fictional instrument in the installment sale of motor vehicles the extension of credit to the purchaser has been so onextricably entwined with the alleged bailment of the motor vehicle as to deprive the consumer of the benefit of existing laws

(c) That consumers because of these legal technicalities and because of their equal bargaining position are at the mercy of unscrupulous persons and are being intolerably exploited in the installment purchase of motor vehicle Such exploitation is evident in the unfair provisions of the installment sale contract exobritant charges for credit extortionate default extension collection repossession and other charges unconscionable practices respecting execution of contracts refinancing of contracts prepayment refunds insurance repossession and redemption

(d) That practices enumerated and other equally pernicious have existed to such an extent that regulation of the installment selling of motor vehicles is necessary to the adequate protection of the public interest Adequate regulation of installment selling must include control of the functions of selling and financing of motor vehicles whether exercised by the same or by different persons

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the welfare of its inhabitants and to protect its citizens from abuses presently existing in the installment sale of motor vehicles and to that end exercise the police power of the Commonwealth to bring under the supervision of the Commonwealth all persons engaged in the business of extending consumer credit in conjunction with the installment sale of motor vehicles to establish a system of regulation for the purpose of insuring honest and efficient consumer credit service for installment purchasers of motor vehicles and to provide the administrative machinery necessary for effective enforcement

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to speak in behalf of the provisions of House Bill 817 and the companion measures which follow on today's calendar. I rise to speak in behalf of these bills because for the past two years there has been a very exhaustive and extensive study made in accordance with House Resolution 38 passed at the 1945 session, which directed the Joint State Government Commission to study and investigate the unscrupulous, unethical operations and practices of those who are engaged in the financing of automobiles and other commodities within the confines of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It was my happy privilege to be selected as Chairman of the Subcommittee of the Joint State Government Commission which conducted this particular investigation over the past twenty-four months.

I would like first to compliment the members of this Subcommittee for their untiring efforts and the time they gave to this very extensive study. I might also say that the members of the Subcommittee were greatly surprised and astounded at the revelation of information that was unfolded to them during the many months of this study.

We called before that committee many organizations in Pennsylvania who were interested because their business would be affected by the decisions made in this particular investigation. We investigated the complaints, thousands of them that had come to the Department of Banking, the Justice Department and into the Governor's Office over a period of two years, and in investigating those particular complaints we definitely sent individuals and questionnaires to the banks, the finance companies and to many others who had loaned money to the complaintants particularly in the nancing of automobiles.

There were many groups that came before the committee interested in legislation—those who were vitally affected by this act, such as the organization representing the automobile dealers, the organization representing the finance companies, the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association and many others representing state-wide organizations, who complained of the mess that we found in Pennsylvania in this matter of gouging the public of many thousands and thousands of dollars, particularly the returning veteran into Pennsylvania, his home state, trying to purchase an automobile, but who found that he had to become the victim of these many unscrupulous operators in Pennsylvania.

Now, certainly this operation is not confined alone to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I am pleased to say that Pennsylvania has become a leader in the investigation of these types of practices and unscrupulous operations.

Governor Dewey in his message to the State Legislature of New York in the early part of this year requested the Legislature of the State of New York to organize a committee of Legislators to investigate the unscrupuous operations in the financing of automobiles and other commodities within the State of New York. So we find that Pennsylvania, as it often has been, is again a pioneer in the field of cleaning up, as this legislation would do, these unethical operations within this State.

Over this period of months we called before the committee representatives of the large nationally known finance companies—and I might say that there were complaints against a number of these companies. We brought before the committee representatives of banks—and I might say there were numerous complaints of the way they handled the operation of this automobile finance paper. We called before the committee those engaged in the financing of automobiles, small finance concerns within the confines of Pennsylvania, and again we found complaints against the way they handled this particular type of paper.

Now, I might explain that the paper complained of in these bills is the so-called bailment lease or installment sale contracts.

You are aware that if you go to purchase an automobile or other commodity or commodities on the time payment plan, you decide with the automobile dealer or the dealer in the particular commodity, to purchase on time. You then sign a bailment lease or installment sale contract, which in turn is sold to a bank or finance company or other financing institution. Of course, there has been no regulation, no law in Pennsylvania up to this time that will regulate the charge to the public on this type of paper.

The Committee has received thousands of letters saying "I have been gouged of so much money by some unscrupulous operator within the Commonwealth. What is the legal rate of interest? What is my recourse? What can I do?"

Of course, we have had to write back time and time again and say "That is the very reason why this study is being made in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, because you have no place to turn as far as law is concerned in the Commonwealth today, to which you can point your finger and say that is the legal rate of interest, the legal charge that can be made for services and for the loaning of this money."

So we find that is the kind of contract on which this committee discovered the highest rate of interest, namely 2.320 per cent on the purchase of an automobile.

I might say that the committee reluctantly comes before this session of the Legislature and recommends legislation to control business in Pennsylvania, but we have come to the conclusion that it is the only method that can be employed successfully in controlling these operations in this Commonwealth.

Yes, voluntary plans have been tried. Just prior to the war in the five county area around Philadelphia I believe sixteen or twenty thousand dollars was appropriated by organizations such as the Better Business Bureau, the Philadelphia Auto Trades Association and others on a voluntary plan to clean up at least in the new car field, the many unscrupulous practices that were known at that time, but the plan failed.

Recently we have had the Cleveland Plan after an eighteen months study of voluntarily trying to control these practices. From the latest information I have received from the city of Cleveland, it certainly has not been as successful as the authors of the plan had hoped and dreamed it would be, so we were faced with the proposition in the Joint State Government Commission, as to just how to truly protect many Pennsylvanians, those usually in the class least able to pay, and from whom many hundreds of thousands of dollars had been gouged during a number of years.

Now, of course there have been objections since this legislation has been introduced. As I have stated before, certainly every organization and every individual in Pennsylvania who desired to be heard over this period of twenty-four months was given a very cordial invitation to come before the committee. In fact at one time we had a public hearing in Pittsburgh when we had to send out the State Police to bring some individuals before the committee, who did not receive the invitation cordially, but were a little flustered at the request to come before the committee because of the practices we found certain companies were engaged in.

We found unscrupulous practices in connection with insurance. We found kick backs as high as thirty-five percent from insurance premiums to dealers, and we have tried in this legislation to recommend changes that will definitely give the public, the citizen of Pennsylvania, who by his or her choice desires through an installment sales contract to purchase an automobile or other commodity, proper protection by this recommended legislation.

Now, I said there have been complaints, and it is strange where we find these complaints coming from. Certainly in addressing public gatherings on this legislation, and in the work of this committee over the two year period I was aware, as all my fellow members of the Subcommittee were aware, that there were funds being solicited, slush funds for the purpose of defeating this legislation as it would appear on the calendar, it was hoped, in the 1947 session, because certainly many of the operators in the finance field over the many years have been riding the gravy train.

They were not too willing to give up the easy "take" that they enjoyed, but as I stated, we found that sometimes complaints came from strange quarters regarding this legislation.

We had finance organizations of Pennsylvania before our committee on a few occasions. They have endorsed this legislation. The Automobile Dealers' Association of Pennsylvania, including almost one hundred percent of the dealers of Pennsylvania, all of which will be licensed under this act, have endorsed this legislation. The Insurance Agents' Association of Pennsylvania and all others that might have any part or might be affected by this legislation have endorsed this legislation in its present form.

We do know that there is complaint, and I know Members of this House have received letters from bankers of Pennsylvania against certain provisions of this bill and the companion measures. In order that you, the Members of this House might be fortified, at least clarified in your own thinking let me say that not any one individual, not the sponsors of this bill, but the Members of this committee decided to put the administration of these particular bills, if passed, under a Consumer Credit Commission.

This was nothing new. This was discussed, and there is on record a public address I made on these particular bills last October, that the Committee was considering a commission to administer the provisions of this act.

You might ask why; the bankers have asked why. Well, I would just like to devote a few minutes if I may to that situation.

Our idea in adopting the Consumer Credit Commission for the administration of this act was because of a decision of the State courts. The Securities Act was approved on April 13, 1927, and provided for the administration by the Pennsylvania Securities Commission of that particular act, after the act of 1923 had provided for its administration by the Commissioner of Banking. The principle reason for substituting the three man commission instead of the Commissioner of Banking as the administrator was because of a decision of the Court in the case of Wallace vs. Cameron, in which it was held that the Commissioner of Banking could not delegate powers vested in him under the act to any deputy or employe.

Because of the great number of hearings that were instituted by the administration of the act it was physically impossible for the Commissioner of Banking personally to conduct each hearing. For instance in the year 1926 there were 177 hearings held, and it is anticipated that in the administration of the proposed bill, House Bill 817 there will develop a similar situation.

It was for a similar reason that we felt that here were approximately three thousand automobile dealers in Pennsylvania who come under the licensing provisions of this act, that there were also approximately two hundred or three hundred finance companies heretofore unregulated and unlicensed, so that the greatest amount of work in that department would be the administration of this new act.

May I remind the Members of this House that not too many years ago we had nine hundred State banks under the supervision of the State Department of Banking. That has decreased to around three hundred. There were some seventeen or eighteen hundred building and loan associations which have today decreased to around eight or nine hundred, so that the greatest task to fall on that Department would be the administration of what we feel is necessary legislation for the protection of the public. Therefore we felt that a similar situation to that of the Securities Commission might develop here, and that was another reason why, after thorough discussion and study by the committee, we finally agreed that the bill should contain the creation of the Consumer Credit Commission which would take in the entire field of consumer credit legislation, which is an expanding field, not alone in Pennsylvania but in the Nation.

Now the complaint has come to our ears that "We do not wish dual supervision; we don't like the one hundred dollar license fee that is charged the banks and finance companies and all others dealing in this kind of paper."

Well, the committee on the one hundred dollar license fee provision certainly felt that they could not discriminate against the finance company operating on one corner of the street while the bank on the other corner engaged in buying bailment leases and installment contracts would be allowed to deal in this same type of paper without paying the same type of fee; that definitely would be discriminatory legislation. Therefore, the same fee would have to apply to all who heretofore had no regulation in this particular field of finance, and if they wanted to engage in such practice they would certainly have to come under the same licensing provisions, the same fee and bond provisions.

As far as dual supervision is concerned it is the contention of the committee that National banks will come under the provisions of this act. Certainly regardless of what we might do, there would have to be that supervision over that portion of this program that deals with automobile finance paper.

May I state here and now that of the one thousand banks in Pennsylvania, State and National, to the best of our knowledge there are only two or three hundred banks that would be affected by this legislation, because the bank that loans through dealer endorsements or loans direct to the borrower, that has a personal loan department or that operates under the Consumer Credit Act, House Bill 70 that we passed a few years ago; they certainly would not come under House Bill 817 because they are already controlled and regulated. But those banks that go out and purchase bailment paper and installment contracts where they do not deal with the consumer whatsoever, certainly would have to come under the provisions of this act and the supervision of this act. Certainly in those cases it would have to extend over these institutions dealing with that particular type of paper.

Now, we have a few of these facts and data—just a few of the facts compiled by this committee. For instance, in the field of finance companies in Pennsylvania we have found interest rates ranging from twenty per cent on an average, to one hundred twenty per cent, particularly in the metropolitan areas. In fact, we had a man from the City of Philadelphia come before the committee and very brazenly say that as a dealer on Broad Street he felt he should have and expected forty-five dollars out of every hundred dollars for financing, as his cut. When he was asked if he ever told the customers that, he said it was none of their business. So we have had that type of operation in Pennsylvania. I say that certain finance companies, certainly some of those that have handled this type of paper, a small minority in that field, definitely have been unscrupulous operators.

Then I pick up a case here of a bank presently licensed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I find that in this particular case they had an interest rate of 42.6 per cent simple interest; another one of 29.6, another one of 27.8, another one of 42.5 and another of 59 per cent.

Of course someone says you usually save the best to the last. Here is one on a bank, licensed, operating in Pennsylvania, and I might say as far as the present banking laws are concerned, an operation on this type of paper does not come under periodical inspection—the banks can use their own discretion as to what they charge on this type of paper—this one is 62.3 per cent. On a prepayment record, that is the amount that was paid off on a prepayment of contract; the charge they made amounts to 381.4 per cent.

Then you might ask why the members of this committee felt there should be proper supervision of any act that is passed. I might state here and now, and I might state this for my committee, that we are not interested in having these bills mangled, we are not interested in the passage of bills that will be improperly administered regardless of who in the final analysis is going to do it, because it will need for the next few years proper administration to clean up the mess we find ourselves in right now in Pennsylvania.

Just for the sake of the record, some of you of course are aware of the fact that during the investigation of this committee we had the cooperation of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, R.T.V. 4 A forms on every deal on which money was loaned on the sale of an automobile, and during the period of some months we collected thousands and thousands of those papers which were submitted for the scrutiny of your committee. Finally we had to pull out at random here and there and spot check. These are the ones I picked out for banks, between March 1 and March 15, 1946—between these clips I have these—the first 66.04, 44.8, 44.2, 59.1, 37.6, 51.4, and so forth interest rate.

Here is another group, March 1, 1946 to March 15, 1946, all on banks in Pennsylvania.

I point this out to you because we are sincere as a legislative committee, sincere in doing the best job humanly possible when we present this series of bills.

There is no idea on our part, or on the part of any Member to belittle any Department on the Hill, or the job that it can or cannot do, but in our findings and in trying to do the best for the people of Pennsylvania we felt that the recommendations involved in these particular bills were a necessary vehicle to bring about a clean-up of the undesirable, unscrupulous, unethical practices which we found being foisted upon returned Veterans and upon the citizens generally throughout this Commonwealth.

I refer in closing to the editorial in the Philadelphia Inquirer of last week on these particular measures. The final paragraph stated that of all the bills introduced at this Session of the Legislature they felt in their fight against these practices over a period of years within the Philadelphia area that there has been nothing introduced which will help more those least able to pay and those individuals in Pennsylvania who by their choice use instalment credit paper in the purchase of commodities or an automobile or whatever it may be, and that certainly their passage is essential and should not be blocked in any way.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate splendid vote of confidence.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

Just before returning to the rostrum I would say that I think it was a great compliment to the Speaker of this House to have the marvelous attention and order of the Members preserved during his address on these bills. I have seen many important debates in this House, but at no time have I ever seen more attention and more respect paid to the Speaker. That is as it should be, and I compliment the Speaker on the respect in which he is held by this House.

THE SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Delaware for his very able presiding.

The Chair also thanks the Members for their very splendid vote of confidence

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 824, as follows:

An Act limiting and regulating liability of goods wares and merchandise purchased under bailment lease contracts for subsequent purchases and limiting the rights of bailors in certain cases

Section 1 Where a bailee makes additional purchases of goods wares or merchandise under a bailment lease from a bailer from whom he had previously purchased goods wares or merchandise under a bailment lease or leases and where the amounts due on such previous bailment lease or leases shall not have been fully paid and where the goods wares or merchandise are purchased for any use other than a commercial or business use such bailment lease may provide that the goods wares or merchandise previously purchased shall be security for the purchase price of the goods wares or merchandise last purchased but only until such time as the purchase price under the previous bailment lease or leases is fully paid

Section 2 When such subsequent purchase is made the entire amount of all payments made previous to the last purchase shall be deemed to have been applied toward the payment of the previous purchase or purchases and each payment thereafter received shall be deemed to be allocated to all of the various purchases in the same proportion or ratio as the original cash prices of the various purchases bear to one another Where the rate of installment payments is increased in connection with the additional purchase the subsequent payments at the bailer's election may be deemed to be allocated as follows an amount equal to the original rate to the previous purchase and an amount equal to the increase to the subsequent purchase Provided That the amount of any initial or down payment on the subsequent purchase shall be deemed to be allocated in its entirety to such purchase

Section 3 No bailment lessor shall replevy or repossess any goods wares or merchandise until and unless allocation of payments by the bailment lessee shall have been made by the bailment lessor as required under section 2 of this act

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall not apply to cases involving equipment parts or other merchandise attached or affixed to goods previously purchased or repairs or services rendered by the bailer in connection therewith at the bailee's request

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective the rst day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-eight

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CLARENCE M. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, on last Wednesday a large number of our Members supported an amendment to this proposed bill, which we felt would insure housing for all. The deliberations of this body were not in accordance with our wishes. We feel that as legislators we dare not harbor selfish and narrow prejudices, and that although the door to properly decent housing be not opened to all, we cannot by a negative vote close that door to some who need this provision, and so on behalf of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, and myself, in the fond hope that many will find their dream houses come true, we pledge our support to the bill.

Mr. UPSHUR. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time in defense of Senate Bill No. 2. I put forth every effort to have an amendment attached to this bill, and since the majority of Members of this House did not see fit to uphold this amendment, I have no other alternative but to abide by the will of the majority.

In this democracy of ours, there is no man bigger than the party he represents, and regardless of how he feels, he must abide by the decision of the majority.

I will not at this time go on record of denying other groups from enjoying the benefits and privileges of good housing which this bill will bring about, but I do hope that with the confidence that this Legislature is placing in the insurance companies of this Commonwealth, that they will see fit to construct such houses and apartments that both Veterans and minorities will have the benefits and privileges that they may also enjoy.

I have no animosity toward the Members of this House who did not see fit to vote for this amendment, and at the same time, I wish to take this opportunity to extend to the Members of this House my sincere gratitude and appreciation to those who saw fit to vote to uphold the amendment.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I shall cast my vote in the affirmative for Senate Bill No. 2.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I still cannot conscientiously vote for this bill. Much was said last week that this bill will give G. I. Veterans' houses. If that were true I would be the first one to be for it. There is nothing in this bill to give any support for the belief that the insurance companies will build low rent housing or provide housing especially for Veterans. On the contrary this bill will leave the insurance companies free to build where it will give them the greatest return on their money. They have never even suggested that they will build G. I. houses or Veterans' houses. It is tragic to have so many Veterans' feel that they will get legislation from which they will get no benefit.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I have been for a long time opposed to opening this field to the life insurance companies. Those of you who were here in the session of 1945 know that I introduced a measure which I felt met the situation because at that time the arguments in favor of the admission of life insurance companies to this field were that they would build slum clearance and low cost housing developments to take care of low income groups.

We therefore enacted a bill which we felt would permit them to do that. In the two years that have transpired there has been no building of that kind. In this session these measures were introduced and immediately they were clothed with the argument that they were for the purpose of enabling the G. I. and the Veteran to secure a home, and from that standpoint they have had the active support of the servicemen in this House and in this State.

I still believe that there are inherent dangers in this legislation. In the first place I do not believe that the materials are available any more to the life insurance companies than they are to many of our builders.

I do not believe that materials will be any more available than they are to a great many of our builders unless the life insurance companies by their great purchasing power are able to control and corral the building materials which will then prevent the average builder in our community from having an opportunity to secure the supplies which he needs.

When you speak of the GI needing his home, just remember that there are also GI's that have entered the building game. I know of three in my immediate neighborhood, all of whom on their return from the service entered the building field, and it seems to me that they should also have their opportunity in the sun, their opportunity in life to build for themselves a business and give them an opportunity to earn a support for themselves and their families.

I do not believe that this bill is quite so concerned with the little fellow now as it is with the bigger builders. However, I predict that if the life insurance companies enter this field as they are promising to do, that in some future session, not to far distant, you will find that the small builder—and when I say small builder I do not mean the little itinerant local builder—I mean those who build in large quantities—I believe you will find that they have been driven from the field.

One of the great problems of this country has been the consolidation and merger of large corporations and the stifling of small business. The control that has been put on small business has made it very difficult for the small business man to exist, and yet the very backbone of America and of Pennsylvania is the small business man.

It is not the large corporations that pay the largest amount of taxes. The taxes that go to support the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania come mainly from small business, which is the backbone of the Commonwealth. It is small business that forms the framework upon which we hang our industry and business and agriculture in Pennsylvania. Therefore, I say to you that if you permit these great corporations with their tremendous capital, with their tremendous surplus and their tremendous funds to enter into this field to finance the purchase of materials in great quantities and to corner the market, that you are going to stifle the small business that exists in this State in the building industry.

I have listened to a great many arguments and I have talked to a great many men. I admit that this House has shown by its actions and by bills that it has passed that this House is in favor of this measure overwhelmingly.

On the off chance—and I think it is a very off chance, that these bills will produce building operations for the benefit of the G. I., I voted for Senate Bill No. 1 and intend to vote for No. 2, because I believe that in two years more there will be another Legislature here that will have a chance to review the record as I have tried to review it to you tonight about the happenings since the Session of 1945, when we might know more whether we could get low cost housing as a result of this legislation. So in 1947 it is clothed and draped with the flag and carried by the G. I.'s in the hope that they are going to get homes—and I hope it is true, but you will return in 1949 and know by the record and have an opportunity to determine whether this was a wise procedure or not.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I voted for Senate Bill No. 1. I do not have the faintest idea of voting for Senate Bill No. 2. I find this measure objectionable from many points. First it comes into this House and into the committee with an inferior imprimitur upon it. It is a measure that the insurance companies don't want amended, and that is supposed to be a reason, a compelling reason, why it should not be amended.

I am opposed to banking legislation that the bankers say must not be amended. I am opposed to all "must" legislation designed to serve some special interest. This bill is objectionable from any point. Whenever any case will not stand on its own feet nowadays you dress it in uniform, wave the flag, and as the gentleman from Delaware said, say the soldiers want it.

Now, this is an insurance company bill. Review the record in this State and in New York State and in the Union and ask yourselves why we have an Insurance Department? It is because insurance companies can't be trusted; you have to regulate them. Some of the greatest scandals that ever disgraced this nation have been brought about in insurance company offices. Charles Evans Hughes was President for one day on the election returns until they changed, because he uncovered a collosal insurance scandal.

Now, if the insurance companies had any idea of building houses they would have brought in a housing bill. They do not have the faintest notion of building houses now. They are looking for an investment field, and they are not looking for an investment field now; they know as you know that there will be a drastic decline in real estate values in this country and in this State.

They are stuck with three per cent and four per cent contracts. They have only been making two and a half per cent, so they want to be in a position when the real estate market crashes and goes to the bottom to go out and invest their money in what will be a profitable investment.

I say to you again that if there could be building we have enough practical builders in the State of Pennsylvania. The insurance companies say that they have money to lend, and if building was feasible now on any large scale, your large scale builders would be building with borrowed money.

Now, to raise the question as to the advisability of permitting insurance companies to be involved in the risk incident to ownership and management and equity based upon a mortgage is one thing, and the responsibility in ownership and in management is another thing. When we open the door to insurance companies to own property and to manage property we subject them to all the risks incident to what we call private enterprise. Insurance companies have no right to risk their money, because it is your money.

Now, Members of the House, I want to reinforce what the gentleman from Delaware has said once again, that if it were possible to build houses, if materials were available, if housing was in the wood, the builders in Pennsylvania would be putting up so many houses that you couldn't count them.

What is there inherent in the management of an insurance company that enables it to conquer a housing situation that the experienced builders in Pennsylvania cannot even touch? This bill is false on its face; it doesn't mean what it says; it has been brought into this House with a "must" back of it. The insurance companies don't want any amendment, and I'll tell you, knowing insurance companies in the State of Pennsylvania, and having some notion of the ones that have failed and the ones that have been crooked, that when you see an insurance company bill that cannot be amended, look out for it, it is a dangerous, an inherently dangerous proposition.

I agree with the gentleman from Delaware that quite likely this bill will pass, and I want to go on record that if this bill passes the insurance companies will not in the immediate future build any houses and they will not go into the real estate game in a big way from the ownership and management point of view until the bottom falls out of the real estate market.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for Senate Bill No. 2, and I am going to vote for it without reservation. I see nothing reprehensible in it, and without guaranteeing that tomorrow morning at ten o'clock or within one day after this bill is passed there will be low cost housing immediately, I only want to say that in voting for the measure I realize that there is a housing situation in the State of Pennsylvania, and I feel here is at least the possibility of some measure of approaching that particular problem. If they have some money to put into housing or any other kind of real estate in the State of Pennsylvania I say "Come on in."

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority leader, Mr. Sorg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has the Majority leader given any suggestion to this House that permanent investment in real estate at the present level is a good thing, a good long term investment over the years?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I must indirectly answer the question of the gentleman, that if a housing authority were here, or any other similar measure to solve this problem were introduced, it would still be the money of the little fellow that would be used for it, and we need that housing now, whether it is a good investment or a bad one.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. He answered honestly. Neither he nor any other man of judgment could say that real estate at present levels was a safe long term investment of trust funds.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, if the House will have patience, I only want to say that it is just as safe for the one as it is for the other.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 6, 1947

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG offered the following prayer:

O God of love so strong and true, we praise Thee that Nature has broken forth in rapturous beauty—glorious Springtime, how delicate with the fragrance of Heaven; how sacred in her virtuous guise! Oh that men would praise the Lord for His goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men.

Heavenly Father we thank Thee for days gone by; we trust Thee for the days ahead. O Trinity of Purity, Wisdom, and Power, fill the hours with steady and well-measured counsel, honoring our blessed State and Nation whose servants we are. Keep us calm amid discussions, and self-possessed when the storm breaks or confusion threatens. We beseech Thee to attend our Governor, our Lieutenant-Governor, and this honorable Senate. Bless all who are dear and near to the members of this body by the ties of love and memory. In the name of Him who is able to keep us from falling and to present us faultless before His throne, we offer this petition. Amen!

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TALLMAN and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. As this is going to be a very calm session, the Chair will, at this time, call to the rostrum Senator Heyburn, from Delaware County, to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Weldon B. Heyburn) in the Chair.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President and members of the Senate, protests have poured in concerning increases in prices of food and clothing, notwithstanding the lifting of price control by the government. Millions of dollars are being withdrawn from the banks, and government bonds are being disposed of by the wage-earner to keep pace with the increased cost of living. How long this condition can continue without dire results to our economic system is a matter of conjecture. A depression, however, is in the offing, and it will leave in its wake starvation, poverty and general distress. A repetition of the disaster of 1929 is going to come as sure as death and taxes unless it is averted with more intelligence and foresight than was displayed during the twenties. And I predict that American labor and the people will endure it with less docility than in 1929. Incidents are to-day occurring quickly and will require immediate and bold action to stave them off.

Governor Duff very wisely warned us about these critical times in which we are living. President Truman, realizing the great danger that attaches to inflation, has requested immediately reduction in prices. This already serious situation will be further aggravated when and if rent-control ceases to exist.

The head of the National Association of Wholesalers re-emphasizes what President Truman has already stated, and I quote: "The price level is too high and it is out of relationship with the income level of most wage earners, and that a consumer-buying resistance has set in which might bring a threat of major depression."

We can appreciate what damage has been done to our people through the deliberate hiking of prices on the necessities of life. President Truman's plea apparently has fallen upon deaf ears. The industrialist, the manufacturer, and the producer obviously do not realize the danger confronting us, and greedy, selfish and unscrupulous as ever, continue to pour gold into their overflowing coffers, at the expense of the public. I wonder whether they have lost their sense of values. I further wonder whether they have ceased to view things in the proper perspective. Their shortsighted policy of gouging the public is now having its repercussions and will in time act as a bomerang. I am of the firm opinion that their present conduct will pave the way for some form of ism. The times call for the exercise of prudence and extreme care—immediate planning and action should be the order of the day, and let us look to the future as well as to the present. Otherwise they are courting disaster and will bring about a condition they loathe, and that is government control and regulation.

It is high time that the practice of soaking the poor and wage earner should be discontinued particularly, when his earning power is being reduced and unemployment is increasing. At the present rate a depression is in the offing and the big money men unwittingly are hastening the day. If anything, they ought to plan counter-depression measures. It seems to me they intend to sit and await events in vacuous expectation that Providence will perform a miracle. The idea of watchful waiting and trusting to luck has proven to be a fallacy. Their very silence and inactivity, and above all, the business men's shortsightedness, brought on the debacle of 1929.

Our wage earners are entitled to the primary wants of life—food, clothing and shelter. Without it there is great danger to our civilization. I therefore say to them with all the emphasis at my command—keep the prices of food, clothing and shelter within the range of our people.

As representatives of the people—we owe a duty to them; immediate action is necessary.

Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Jaspan and myself, I offer the following resolution.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO MAKE IMMEDIATE STUDY OF PRESENT INDUSTRIAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL CONDITIONS AND DETERMINE WAYS OF DETERRING BUSINESS DECLINE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DiSILVESTRO and JASPAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare:

In the Senate, May 6, 1947.

Whereas, The primary needs of human life are food, clothing and shelter; and

Whereas, The Federal government during the war regulated the prices of food, clothing and shelter; and

Whereas, The Federal government has abandoned price control except as to sugar, rice and rents and there is a strong likelihood that Congress will shortly abandon rent control; and

Whereas, It was hoped that when the Federal government relinquished price control, prices would go down and actually did go down for a short time but today without any price control, prices have risen approximately twenty-five per cent (25%) above the prices as fixed by the government under O.P.A. During the same interval, unemployment has increased and the actually amount paid to many employes has gone down. Consequently, a great many persons cannot meet the higher costs of living without depleting their savings and many others have already depleted their savings and have been obliged to borrow money or to obtain credit on a large scale and there is great danger that they will be unable to meet their obligations when they fall due because of present conditions, the result of which will bring about bankruptcies, choas, confusion and a depression; and

Whereas, The facts above recited are well known to intelligent people in every walk of life, yet many industrialists have little regard for the needs and wants of the average wage earner and the people at large because of the lure for immediate profits of large proportions. They hope to get their abnormal profits before the industrial collapse sets in—the desperate race is on! This is an extremely dangerous situation and if some action is taken at once, it may be possible to head off the ravishing effects of a depression, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs) That a committee of seven members be created, four members to be named by the President Pro Tempore and three members to be named by the Speaker of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to immediately make a complete study of present industrial, economic and social conditions so as to determine possible ways of arresting the present threatened business decline and to revive employment and to consider the desirability of reestablishing price controls on food and clothing, and that the said committee shall complete its study and make such recommendation to the General Assembly by the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, before reporting a bill from committee, I desire at this time to make a few preliminary remarks.

The legislature in 1945 authorized the Joint State Government Commission to appoint a committee to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth. The Joint State Government Commission appointed three Senators and three Representatives. In addition to myself, Senator Paul M. Crider, and Senator Israel Stiefel, Representative Francis Worley, Representative Charles H. Brunner and Representative Joseph Skale served on this committee.

To this committee there was given an advisory committee consisting of a number of judges, a number of deans of law schools throughout the state, a number of district attorneys and a number of defense counsel. The deans of the law schools were:

Dean C. Gerald Brophy, of Duquesne University.

Dean Judson A. Crane, University of Pittsburgh.

Dean W. H. Hitchler, Dickinson School of Law.

Dean Edwin R. Keedy, School of Law, University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Negley K. Teeters, Temple University.

The judges assigned to this committee were:

Thomas J. Baldrige, Judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania.

M. J. Eagan, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, Lackawanna County.

James Gay Gordon, Judge, Court of Common Pleas No. 2, Philadelphia.

Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, Court of Common Pleas No. 1, Philadelphia.

W. C. Sheely, President Judge, Court of Common Pleas, Adams County.

Joseph Sloane, Court of Common Pleas No. 7, Philadelphia.

Robert E. Woodside, Jr., Judge, Court of Common Pleas, Dauphin County.

Burton R. Laub, Judge, Erie County.

The district attorneys were:

Carl B. Shelly, District Attorney, Dauphin County.

Franklin E. Barr, Assistant District Attorney, Philadelphia County.

Edwin M. Clark, District Attorney, Indiana County.

George F. P. Langfitt, Assistant District Attorney, Allegheny County.

Leon Schwartz, District Attorney, Luzerne County.

In addition, there were attached to this committee:

William B. McClenachan Jr., Esq., of Chester.

Thomas D. McBride, Attorney, Philadelphia.

Carl Helmetag, of the Legal Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad of Philadelphia.

To these men I have just mentioned the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owes an eternal debt of gratitude for their untiring efforts and their energy in formulating what I think is one of the most concise, simple, streamlined piece of legislation that has ever been offered in this chamber and will perhaps serve the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for a number of years to come.

This is not only a compilation and codification of all the existing penal statutes of Pennsylvania, but it is a streamlined piece of legislation in simplified language, so that everybody can understand, with a degree of uniformity in its compilation.

Mr. President, I therefore have the great honor and privilege of reporting at this time, by direction of the Committee on Judiciary General, Senate Bill 306, known as the Crimes Act of 1947, as amended.

Mr. BLASS, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported or as amended, Senate Bill No. 306, entitled:

An Act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WAGNER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 659, entitled:

An Act to amend section one hundred one of the act approved the twenty-eight day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1019), entitled "An act relating to statutory laws; prescribing an enacting clause for statutes; fixing the effective date and time of statutes hereafter enacted; providing for notice of application for local and special legislation, for the correction of errors in statutes, and for the printing and publication of statutes; prescribing rules for the interpretation of statutes; defining certain words and phrases when used in statutes; and prescribing rules for the construction and operation of amendments, re-enactments and repeals of statutes", by defining "municipality authority" or "municipal authority".

He also, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 215, entitled:

An Act to further amend paragraph six of section one of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties," including within the definition of State employe, employes of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Mr. CRIDER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 637, entitled:

An Act authorizing the creation of mosquito control districts in or among the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth; defining their powers and duties; providing for the membership thereof; providing for cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and other State agencies and requiring certain reports.

He also, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, reported as committed, House Bill No. 652, entitled:

An Act to amend sub-section (g) of section nine hundred forty-two and clause (f) of section nine hundred forty-three of Article IX of the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," by regulating the use of posters comparable to those used by the Game Commission, and providing penalties.

Mr. LORD, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 438, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of and add section four to the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand eight hundred ninety-three (P. L. 129), entitled "An act to empower boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund, to take property in trust therefor, and regulating and providing for the regulation of the same," deleting provisions relating to termination of right to participate in the fund and regulation thereof; and providing that compensation or pension is not to be subject to attachment execution assignment or transfer and payable only to beneficiary designated in person.

He also, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 638, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to release certain historic documents to the Attorney General of the United States for exhibition on the "Freedom Train."

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 413, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare to reimburse state-aided hospitals for part of the cost of training student nurses in approved schools of nursing.

Mr. STIEFEL, from the Committee on Appropriations reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 33, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the permanent improvement and development of the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania Canal.

Mr. ROSENFELD, from the Committee on Banking, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1137, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1076), entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, operation, and supervision of cooperative savings and credit associations, to be termed credit unions; designating such credit unions as corporations, and defining their powers and duties; conferring certain powers and duties on the Department of Banking; and providing penalties," further defining the membership of credit Unions and permitting loans to other credit unions.

Mr. KLEIN, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 285, entitled:

An Act to further amend section seven of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 450), entitled, as amended, "An act relating to fires and fire prevention; imposing duties and conferring powers upon the Pennsylvania State Police; authorizing the appointment of the chiefs of fire departments and certain public officers and others as assistants to the Pennsylvania State Police, and defining their powers and duties; providing for the investigation of the cause, origin, and circumstances of fires and the inspection of all, and the removal or change of, certain buildings by owners and occupants thereof, including political subdivisions; imposing duties on school authorities and on certain corporations, associations, and fire rating agencies; providing for the attendance of witnesses before the Pennsylvania State Police, and the enforcement of its orders; and prescribing penalties," by further imposing duties on certain school authorities.

Mr. TARR, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 519, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and to further amend section one of the act approved the twelfth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer, of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies, to the treasurers of the several cities, boroughs, towns and townships, and for the payment thereof into police pension funds, and in certain cases into the Municipal Employes' Retirement System, and in certain other cases into the State Employes' Retirement Fund, for certain purposes," as last amended by the act approved the sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 160) by adding to the title and by adding section one and one-tenth a provision relating to the purchase by the municipality of Pension Annuity Contracts for policemen.

BILL REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WILSON. Mr. President, before reporting a bill from the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations I ask permission to make just a few words of statement at this time.

Mr. President, I am reporting from the committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations House Bill 1053, as amended.

The reason I do that is that there are two members of this committee who were somewhat timid about saying that I have their permission to do so today, because they would benefit by it—they are soldiers. This is what has been commonly called the bonus bill and it has to be, as you know, a resolution and House Bill 1053 is a joint resolution which was passed by the House without a dissenting vote, that is, 200 to 0. It has been in the hands of our committee for some time and we have talked in various directions and listened to others but, on account of pressure of other business, this bill was not acted on before, not because they were unwilling to go on record for having considered it, because the Senate would certainly not dalay it.

Therefore I take pleasure in reporting unanimously, by permission of these two who are somewhat timid, with all the others, both Democrats and Republicans, authorizing me to do this, and the only reason I make these words of statement is because these two young gentlemen have intimated to me that perhaps I should.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WILSON, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1053, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a new section authorizing the creation of an additional debt by the Commonwealth for the payment of compensation to certain veterans.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. GELTZ read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 713, entitled:

An Act creating a commission to make a thorough study of the tax laws of the Commonwealth and of other states and countries in order to ascertain ways and means of financing the Commonwealth upon a more scientific and equitable basis; providing for its appointment; authorizing the employment of necessary assistants; prescribing the powers and duties of the commission; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. HOMSHER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 714, entitled:

An Act to further amend section seven of the act approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred five (P. L. 518), entitled "An act making an appropriation for the erection of a home or school for indigent orphans to be called the Thaddeus Stevens Industrial and Reform School of Pennsylvania, in which school provision shall be made for giving instruction in reading, writing, arithmetic, drawing, duties of citizenship, elementary manual training, the elements of farming, and other requisite branches," by changing the name of the Thaddeus Stevens Industrial and Reform School of Pennsylvania to "Thaddeus Stevens Trade School".

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Messrs. LORD and STIEFEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 715, entitled:

JAMES H. DUFF.

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR DENT

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, as the session goes on and on and on—I can not say fifty "ons", we are going to get into some controversial matters, and I think maybe we will get into some controversy this afternoon and, therefore, before that occurs, I want to take this opportunity of saying to the Senator from Westmoreland county that if conditions change in his county, or if conditions change by reason of what he has to say on various occasions and he should happen to be left home, I think we could find a good job for him in the Senate as chief cook and chef, because he did a fine job today and I hope he stays here for many years to do the same kind of job.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND AGREED TO

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to present a concurrent resolution and ask unanimous consent for its immediate adoption.

For the information of the members of the Senate, this is a resolution recalling from the Governor Senate Bill 148, Printer's No. 146, which was reported from the Committee on Judiciary General, passed both the House and the Senate, and we would like to bring it back for the purpose of an amendment—we would like to insert a clarifying amendment due to a typographical error in the bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I request immediate consideration of the resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 148, PRINTER'S No. 146

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 6, 1947.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 148, Printer's No. 146, entitled "An act to amend the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1703) entitled 'An act relating to criminal prosecutions, limiting the effect of demurrers by defendants at the close of the cases of the Commonwealth' providing for the disposition of cases where evidence has been improperly admitted and the court has failed to sustain the demurrer at the close of the Commonwealth's case", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, this is the first of the now-famous Duff tax program bills.

In order that there be no misunderstanding as to the atitude of the minority members of the Senate towards this program, I want to place in the record our position.

Early in this session of the legislature I tried with factual figures to show to this Senate that no new taxes were needed, if we could get an honest estimate of revenues to be derived from the taxes that are now present upon the statute books, and the re-enactment of the so-called emergency taxes.

When I found that the Senate of Pennsylvania, as represented by the majority thought, would not accept the Democratic sponsored program of creating a general state authority in order to finance upwards of $124,000,000 worth of permanent long-time improvements and construction in the form of mental hospitals, stream pollution and other worthwhile endeavors, when it became apparent that the majority would not accept this program, your Democratic minority then made a complete study of our tax structure.

Recently I presented to the Senate a budget message in which I gave to the Governor a plan whereby the necessary funds could be raised, and the taxes could be assessed against those best able to pay.

We do not agree with you in your tax program. We are not, by our vote, approving the tax program, but we are, Mr. President, approving the use that the revenues will be put to.

We sincerely believe that the State of Pennsylvania owes an obligation to the school teachers of this Commonwealth, in order that our school system should compare favorably with any school system in the United States.

We believe too, Mr. President, that we must do something immediately to remedy the terrible situation in our mental hospitals. We believe, too, Mr. President, that the time has come when we must face the issue squarely and give additional assistance to our institutions of higher learning and to our state aided hospitals.

In order to do these things we can not do other than go along, in the main, with the tax program. Revenues are required to do the work that must be done.

So the Democratic minority is leaving the historic position always taken by minorities, in that they vote against all tax bills and vote for all apropriations. We intend to meet our share of the obligations. We intend to vote for the measures that will produce the revenue to do the things that we too have long claimed have to be done.

And so, Mr. President, speaking for the minority group in the Senate of Pennsylvania, I say to you that each member of the minority will vote his conscience upon this tax program, he will vote as he thinks is best for his constituency, the people of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, there is only one tax bill that I will make an attack upon, and upon that bill I will try to show to the Senate that it is one tax bill that is neither needed for the program nor is it equitable or just, and therefore, I want to assure the majority that, in the main, the tax program will receive the support of the Democratic minority.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, at the outset I want to commend both the minority members of this Senate and also the minority leader for what I think is a very, possibly not broadminded but proper-minded attitude to take in connection with the tax program on which we are going to vote this afternoon. It is particularly commendable when we remember that two years ago they took a distinctly different position, and one which I feel was not as commendable as the one which they are taking at this time.

As you will remember, Mr. President, if it had been left to the minority two years ago, there would have been no money for any state functions or no money for payment of the school teacher's salaries.

I can understand why there is not complete agreement in this body as to this tax program insofar as all these bills are concerned, as between the minority and the majority because, Mr. President, I do not hesitate to say, and I think I should say for the benefit of the members on the Republican side of this body, that there is not complete agreement as to the advisability of this whole program. However, I think I should also say that the various members on the Republican side of this Senate interposed and entered their objections and presented them, we considered them very fully and completely, and we had a considerable amount of discussion as to whether the bills in the form in which they now appear were the bills as they should be passed.

I also want to say on behalf of my Republican colleagues, that I think they are to be commended, because they realize that money is necessary to do in this Commonwealth the things which need to be done, and when I say do the things which need be done, Mr. President, I do not mean from the Republican thought, or standpoint of the Republican program. I have here a mimeographed copy of a letter sent as an open letter to the members of the Pennsylvania Senate by the Democratic minority floor leader of the House in which he states: "the present administration is sponsoring a tax program, not as an end but as a means. It is not the money the Governor wants; instead he wants the Commonwealth to have the new buildings it so badly needs; he wants the Commonwealth to have a sound and expanded health service; a sound and expanded stream clearance; a conservation and reforstration program which will supply Pennsylvania with water sufficient for the needs of the industries it now possesses and which it will seek to secure in the future. He undoubtedly wants the Commonwealth to maintain a school system which employs teachers who are adequately paid, teachers capable of advancing Pennsylvania's educational standards, and there are many other needs."

. That, Mr. President, is the picture which faces the Commonwealth at this time, and one which makes new taxes necessary.

No administration or no legislator or senator likes to vote for taxes of any kind, and especially new taxes. We do not mean to stand here either, Mr. President, and contend that the tax program which we are submitting, and which we hope to pass in this session, is a perfect tax program. We realize that no matter what kind of tax bills are passed, there can be objection to them.

And in that connection, Mr. President, I might say, if we consider just for a moment the situation insofar as federal taxes are concerned, certainly none of us would insist that any tax program of the federal government which takes from every working man in this country one day's pay out of five, at the minimum, and from there on up, in some instances, to four days pay out of every five, is a good tax program or a good tax. And yet that is the situation with which we are faced. We feel that with this tax program we are doing possibly the best that can be done under the circumstances. I agree there are inequities in this tax program, but I do not believe the inequities I see in the program are in agreement with the inequities which the minority sees.

One of the glaring inequities in this program to me, Mr. President, is the fact that we are not changing in the corporate net income tax the date from January 1, 1946 to January 1, 1947, so that companies that operated during 1946 will have the advantage of what they were counting an all during 1946.

However, as I say, that is an inequity which appears to me and that is from a purely economic viewpoint.

I think there is one thing this body must do, and it must do it the next session certainly, and that is to secure a sound and substantial tax program for this Commonwealth. I think ever since the days of the depression, as new revenues were needed, we reached out wherever we could to secure those new revenues. I think, as a matter of fact, our tax system in this Commonwealth today is like a young colt that has just grown up, without any guidance or any direction, and that is the reason, Mr. President, I introduced the bill just a little while ago which I did introduce, for the purpose of creating a tax commission, so that before the next session of the Legislature meets we can have something which is sound, substantial and does justice to all.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not think I have ever been known as either a friend or foe of the public utilities. I am not one of those who think a public utility is a giant octopus which is reaching and reaching out to swallow all citizens of this Commonwealth, but I am one that feels, and feels keenly, the need of public utilities paying their share of taxes in the local communties wherein they make their profits. This gross receipts tax of fourteen mills until January of 1948, I do not think is an unjust tax. In my opinion the tax should be increased and the money derived therefrom should be sent back to the communities, where the public utilities do not pay a real estate tax, the same as every other competitive industry.

I have in my hand a simple little chart, which shows the share taxes and earnings, in which the states are ranked according to the per cent of total revenues paid over to the local governments.

Mr. President, the state of Wisconsin ranks number one; it returns to the local municipalities 50.9 per cent. Next I will skip down to New York, which is a neighboring state, and New York ranks fourth, and it pays back to the local communities 41.6 per cent. Then we go down to New Jersey, which is also a bordering state, and it ranks twenty-third, and their return is 26.2 per cent. Then comes Maryland, another border state, and their return to local municipalities is 24.7 per cent. Then there is another state which borders our Commonwealth, West Virginia, which ranks twenty-seventh and which returns 23.3 per cent.

Then we come to our fair Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Mr. President, and of the forty-eight states, Pennsylvania ranks thirty-eighth. Our return to the local municipalities of taxes collected is 14.9 per cent.

I do not know the content of the bill just introduced by Senator Geltz but I intend to look it over and, if it does not satisfy me as to what I would like it to do, I am going to offer some sort of amendment wherein the Joint State Government Commission for the next two years will study this gross receipts tax on public utilities and see if it can not be worked out in an equitable fashion, so that this money will be returned to the local municipalities.

I tell you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, that in doing so I am afraid I am a friend of the public utilities, because that is what they would like to see done most.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, so much has already been said at this session about the budget of the state and the state of the budget, that I do not want to take the time of this Senate to go into any details about figures, but in view of what has been said here today, I think what we have failed to consider in years gone by and up till now is the fact that we do not have a sound basis for a tax program.

Over the years costs have increased, and with the exception of probably the corporate net income tax, which gives us a bigger return as business increases, we do not get the proper increase of return on the tax base which we now use.

I think, notwithstanding the fact that the bill introduced by Senator Geltz may create a tax commission, that we will be met with this problem sooner than we expect.

Certainly we recognize now, by being forced to place a tax on soft drinks, that we are scraping the bottom of the barrel. We have known, from what we have done here and talked about over the years, that the greatest amount of tax will eventually have to come from two taxable sources, with the exception of the source mentined by my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Barr, and that is, we may be forced within the next two years or four years to impose either a sales tax or a graduated income tax. I do not intend now to argue which of those taxes should be imposed.

There has been introduced in the past and there also has been introduced in this session a bill which would permit, eventually, if this body saw fit and the citizens of this Commonwealth saw fit, a graduated income tax.

I am fearful, howevr, that we will be met head-on within two years or within four years with a need to make an immediate decision as to which of these taxes must be imposed to carry on the obligations of this Commonwealth to its citizens, and I think it is not out of place to say now that certainly the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations should meet as soon as possible to discuss this problem, to permit this session of the Legislature at least at this time to pass a graduated income tax, so that certainly within two years, when we may be faced wih the problem, we then will not have to say to the citizens of this Commonwealth that it will take us three years to pass a graduated income tax and therefore we must resort to a sales tax instead.

I think we ought to be big enough to put ourselves in a position where, if we have to do it two years from now, we will be able to do it two years from now.

I think another thing that is wrong with the tax structure of the Commonwealth is that we do not permit the piling up of any surplus, and I am not referring to any enormous surplus. Certainly we know that forty years ago, something that cost $4, today costs $40.

If we eventually get a sales tax or a graduated income tax as a base, when things are good the tax return will be good, and when things are bad the tax from that base will be necessarily reduced, but if we can pile up a surplus during the good period, then we will not be met with what we have had in this Commonwealth for the last fifteen years. I think this is the time to establish it. I do not want to take up the time of this Senate any further, but I certainly think this is the time to consider it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No 661, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six P. L. 13) entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions thereof for a further limited period of time

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six P. L. 13) entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 49) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words terms and phrases used in this act are for the purposes hereof defined as follows

"Liquor" Any alcoholic spirituous vinous fermented or other alcoholic beverage or combination of liquors and mixed liquor a part of which is spirituous vinous fermented or otherwise alcoholic and all drinks or drinkable liquids preparations or mixtures intended for beverage purposes which contain more than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume except alcohol and malt or brewed beverages

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Board" The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board of this Commonwealth

"Fiscal Month" The monthly period established from time to time by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the purpose of conducting its business

Section 2 Until the first day of June one thousand nine hundred [forty-seven] forty-nine an emergency State tax is hereby imposed and assessed at the rate of ten per centum of the net price o fall liquors sold by the board The tax herein imposed shall be collected by the board from the purchasers of the liquor from the board The amount of such ten per centum so collected by the board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the times herein specified and shall be credited to the General Fund

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the board to transmit to the department on or before the fifteenth day of each calendar month a statement of its receipts from sales of liquor and taxes collected during the preceding fiscal month and such other information as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this act at which time it shall also be the duty of the board to pay to the department the tax imposed upon such liquor by the provisions of this act Provided however That the board may in its discretion add the tax imposed by this act to the wholesale and retail price at which liquors are sold and eliminate any accounting of such tax separate from sale prices and in such case the amount of the tax for any calendar month shall be ascertained by dividing the entire gross receipts derived from sales at Pennsylvania liquor stores during such month by eleven and the quotient thus obtained shall be deemed the amount of the tax for such month payable over under this section

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I intend to be very brief and I also intend to vote for this bill, but I would like to call to the attention of the Chairman of the Finance Committee a few pertinent facts and figures, things that have happened since the present Governor took office as of January 1.

Mr. President, my colleague, Senator Dent, and myself, have many times during this session risen to our feet and apprised the members of the Senate and the people of the Commonwealth of the terrible condition that exists in the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

According to figures submitted to us by the Governor, the returns from the Liquor Control Board are expected to be $82,000,000 for the next biennium.

Mr. President, since January 1, when the ill-advised mark-up and rise was taken by the Liquor Control Board, I would like to quote to you and to the members of the Senate some figures, and these figures are exact figures which I got from the Auditor General's office, of sales by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board since January 1. Bear in mind, gentleman, this is with the increased prices, and when I give you these totals, they include the prices for this year and show, in many cases, on bourbons and so forth, one hundred per cent increase.

In January of last year, 1946, sales were $29,145,927.61. Sales in January, 1947, were $23,310,526.82. In February, 1946 the sales were $17,439,000 odd dollars, and in February of this year there was another drop to $13,108,000 odd dollars. In March of this year, Mr. President, the sales were $19,648,000 and in this year, 1947, for the same month of March, they were $15,825,000.

Mr. President, that is a drop in around figures of $15,000,000 in the first three months. The totals are not all in for April, but the drop for April, Mr. President, I understand, is over a $9,000,000 drop from April of last year.

I submit to you, gentlemen, that with the increase in prices, receipts are dropping and dropping each month and, therefore, if they do not change their policy, I am afraid the Governor will find himself short in the cash drawer of the $82,000,000 he expects.

Just to give you one little minor example of the prices charged by the Liquor Control Board, if you go into your grocery store to buy some Angastora bitters, they will cost you 73 cents but if you go into a monopoly, a State Liquor Control Board Store, it will cost you 93 cents, twenty cents on an article costing less than a dollar. If you think that is good business, I do not.

I want to quote to you an article clipped out of last Friday's Pittsburgh Press, which reads as follows:

$COTCH DAY OUT OF KILTER; $TATE $TORES' $ALE FIZZLES

Rare Whiskies Priced UP to $8 Go Begging as Customers Fail to Rush into Line

"The State Liquor Stores' "Scotch Day" bumped into something stronger than 100 proof today—the almighty dollar sign.

"The long-heralded sale of five brands of rare scotch whiskies was greeted about as enthusiastically as a mouse in church.

"In contrast to last winter's mobs of hundreds, a scraggly line of less than 20 greeted the opening of the sale at the Downtown stores.

"It vanished as soon as the doors were opened, never to reappear.

"Inside sat an average of 45 cases of scotch per store—with price tags ranging from $7.52 to $622.

"Beside the scotch, in equally splendid isolation, sat no less than 23 different brands of Irish, straight, bonded and Canadian whiskies.

"None bore a price tag of less than $5. The top was $8.14 for a full quart of straight rye.

"The clerks were mobilized to full strength in case of an early rush. Actually, they could have handled the business in a rocking chair.

"Last winter," a store manager recalled, "people stood outside by the hundreds and got frost bite. The scotch would be gone in an hour. But now that we've got plenty they stay away in droves.

"Maybe," he suggested, "our prices are a little high."

I further submit to you, Mr. President, that aside from the money they are going to lose from exorbitant prices, the Liquor Control Board stands to lose many millions of dollars this year from the Behney regime, as I call it, with the cats and dogs Mr. Behney loaded the State Stores with before he took a job with the large distiller he now works for. Furthermore, Mr. President, they are almost having to give wine away—that is the cheap wine they still have an overstock of since the time of the Behney purchasing system in the liquor stores.

Mr. GELTZ. Along the same lines, Mr. President, I noticed in an article in this morning's newspaper, a statement by the president of the American Brewers Association, which now happens to be in convention, wherein he was complaining about the fact that the sale of beer had fallen off one million barrels last year. I do not think the Liquor Control Board had anything to do with that.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this is the cigarette tax bill. This started out originally with a fifty per cent increase, from two to three cents, and it is now up to four cents.

We all know that the consideration given to certain sections of Pennsylvania that raise tobacco caused a reversal in the decision on the tobacco and cigar tax, and allowed the addition of another fifty per cent tax on cigarettes.

The question of whether or not cigarettes can stand a four cent tax is not one that I am prepared to argue, but in my own mind, and voting my conscience, I sincerely believe that this group of Pennsylvania citizens are paying more than their just share of the tax burden in this Commonwealth and if, by adopting this simple expediency of adding another penny to this so-called luxury item that can cure our tax problems, then perhaps we ought to scrap the whole load of taxes we now have and just add twenty or thirty more cents to cigarettes.

I say there will be reduced consumption, and I say that great group of citizens who believe cigarettes necessary to them—I look around and see many men smoking cigarettes, and I see many women who have now become quite accustomed to smoking cigarettes, and then I look around and I see a great many of my fellow members of the Senate smoking cigars, including your humble servant. I am not paying my share of the tax because I am a cigar smoker, and I know Paul Wagner feels he is not paying his share, because he is a pipe smoker.

It seems we are just fooling around and adding taxes on those who can not complain, and so I am going to vote "no" upon this particular measure. I am going to vote "no" because it was conceived in inequity, it was not passed with the idea of justice behind it. I would have gladly voted for a one cent increase if other items of taxation would have been taxed their just share, but I do not believe I can conscientiously vote for a four cent tax upon one single item in the state of Pennsylvania.

In the first place, I am against a sales tax in any manner when it is not called by that name.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, in fairness I think I should just answer the remarks just made, at least to this extent: the revision, insofar as the cigarette tax is concerned, was not made for the purpose of giving any section of this Commonwealth, or the citizens of any section of this Commonwealth particularly, relief, but was made as the result of a public hearing which was held by the Senate Finance Committee in this chamber, at the request of those who were principally involved in the handling of the products to be taxed. My colleague from Westmoreland, I am sure, remembers very well the testimony at that hearing given by the distributors and wholesalers, not only of cigarettes but those who handle cigarettes, cigars, stogies, pipe tobacco, chewing tobacco and all other kinds of tobacco. They told the Senate Finance Committee that this tax would work a severe hardship on them from the standpoint of necessitating new equipment and much greater investment in that equipment, in order to stamp and handle the types of tobacco that would be newly taxed.

The Finance Committee also received what they thought was substantial testimony to the effect that the sale of cigars, and pipe tobacco and chewing tobacco was declining and had been declining for the past fifteen or twenty years, while the sales of cigarettes continued to increase.

Therefore, in order to try to have as sound a tax base as was possible, it did not seem advisable to tie a tax on a declining industry, but if possible to hitch it to an ascending one, and I think that is what was done here, and I do not believe there is going to be any undue hardship worked out in this program, at least from that standpoint.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I, of course, remember the public hearing and I also remember another group of Pennsylvanians being here and they all protested the damage and the injury a certain tax was going to do to their industry, but evidently that plea of theirs fell upon deaf ears.

Mr. President, everybody knows that if you wanted to tax tobacco and cigars all you had to do was tax them upon the same basis as the Federal Government uses—they do not seem to have any trouble. The plants in his state are equipped to place the federal tax stamp upon the packages, so as far as the physical aspect of the tax is concerned; they were not insurmountable.

However, we all know what the political aspects were, and, of course, we want you to understand over there that although we are voting in the main for your tax bills, we want you also to understand we are not being fooled.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, when we come to a discussion of politics in this situation, let it also be understood that works both ways, and there is just as much politics in the situation now being presented as there is in any stand this side of the Chamber has taken in this entire situation.

I want, however, briefly to say only one thing about the opposition of the gentleman from Westmoreland to the cigarette tax, based as I understand it, upon the proposition that he can not vote for a tax which places a four cent burden upon one specific article, and I think that statement and his vote on the prior bill, which has to do with the liquor tax, is evidence, strong evidence, of the difficulty of taking a position with regard to this tax program or any other tax program which may be submitted to a vote in this Senate and I point out to him that, while he objects on the grounds that he can not stand for a four cent tax on a single item, he has just voted favorably upon a bill which imposes a ten cent tax upon a single item, so that he justifies in his own mind imposing a tax of thirty-five cent upon a man who buys a $3.50 bottle of liquor; he says that its perfectly all right, but when we impose a tax of four cents upon a pack of cigarettes, he says that is all wrong.

I suggest that is the finest evidence in the world of the difficulty of this entire situation, and of the ability of people to meet it, and we on this side take the position that we are meeting a critical situation, the demand for additional revenues, by the best kind of a program that we have been able to work out.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not like the tone taken by the gentleman from Lehigh in his statement and I want him to know he is not kidding anyone on this side. We all know what Senators on the other side come from the tobacco growing counties, and we also know the Governor is telling the people this is not his bill. When he sent this bill over, he sent it over with one cent more on cigarettes and one cent on tobacco.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I of course, could never satisfy the Majority Leader as to my logic and my thinking, so I do not intend to attempt to do so.

However, there is quite a difference between a four cent tax on a fifteen or sixteen cent item and a ten per cent tax on a liquor item. Incidentally, I use liquor; I do not use cigarettes.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, the question has been asked whether or not I am ready to vote on this bill. The answer is I am, but I am going to vote in the negative for several reasons, one of which is that this tax is in the nature of a restrictive sales tax. I have an abhorrence for sales taxes generally and while a general sales tax might be more justifiable than singling out a particular item, yet I can not be for this bill, which does single out a particular item and puts what I think is a excessive sales tax upon it.

In addition to that, however, the state of Pennsylvania has a lot of neighboring states. I happen to live on the border of New Jersey and many members of this Senate live in districts bordering on New York or Maryland or other states. I know what is going to happen when we further increase the tax on cigarettes by two cents. Down in my section, and I do not think my section is any different from any other section in Pennsylvania, the people in my section of the state, and they are loyal citizens of Pennsylvania, the same as from any other section, are going to get into their cars when it is convenient and they are going to drive about one block across the bridge into the state of New Jersey, and they are going to buy their cigarettes there and instead of buying one pack at a time they are going to buy them by the carton, and every time they bring a carton of cigarettes over to Pennsylvania, they are going to deprive the state of Pennsylvania of forty cents in taxes.

But worse than that, Mr. President and members of the Senate, the real evil of that situation is that Pennsylvania merchants, who derive their livelihood and their welfare in our Commonwealth and pay taxes to our Commonwealth, they are going to be deprived of legitimate business to which they are entitled. This bill is going to work a real hardship on the cigarette merchant of the border counties of our Commonwealth.

There are a couple of other items that ought to be pointed out before we cast our votes.

We have cigarette vending machines all over the state of Pennsylvania, and that is a big business, it involves the expenditure of a large sum of money, and those vending machines pay taxes to the Commonwealth, and I am afraid, with this additional tax on cigarettes, we are very apt to put that business and that cource beyond the scope of Pennsylvania business and beyond the scope Pennsylvania taxation; we are going to break down a very large and lucrative industry, namely, the cigarette vending machines.

And when we drive them out of business, we are also hurting the iron and steel business because down in my county, and I suppose that is true in other counties, we have a number of small iron and steel companies, specialities companies, that buy their steel from Bethlehem Steel and then fabricate that into smaller parts and manufacture the machines. They have had difficulty in getting along with the two cent tax. The machines have been specifically made, in great scientific detail, to accomodate a two cent tax and an additional two cent tax is going to throw the mechanism out of use, and it is probably going to throw those machines into obsolescence.

So I see a great number of inequities arising out of this bill and I feel, therefore, compelled to vote against it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 663, as follows:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed boverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" by temporarily increasing the rates of certain taxes

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed beverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 477) is hereby further amended to read as follows

(b) In the event that any state territory or country shall impose upon malt or brewed beverages which have been manufactured in Pennsylvania a higher tax or fee than is imposed upon malt or brewed beverages manufactured within such state territory or country every person who ships or transports from such state territory or country malt or brewed beverages manumactured therein into this Commonwealth for sale delivery or storage in this Commonwealth shall pay thereon to the Commonwealth before such beverages are transported within this Commonwealth in addition to the tax imposed by this section a tax equal to such excess tax or fee which is imposed in such state territory or country on Pennsylvania-manufactured malt or brewed beverages Such additional tax shall be levied assessed an dcollecte. in the same manner as the other taxes imposed by this act

(c) Manufacturers and all persons who bring malt or brewed beverages into the Commonwealth shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the taxes imposed by this act

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to say a few words on this tax. Of course, it is clearly understood on our side, and I hope understood over there, that I am speaking my personal observations.

This bill is known as the malt beverage tax, commonly called the beer tax.

For an industry that pays so much towards the upkeep of this Commonwealth's ordinary expenses, this industry has less privileges than any other within the confines of the Commonwealth.

Those of us who were born and brought up during the days of prohibition, are very grateful to that group of citizens who had the courage to repeal the eighteenth amendment. There is no question in my mind that was the will of a minority being festered upon the will of the majority of this great state and nation.

Here we are today with another tax on malt beverages, increasing that tax one hundred per cent. Again I say this industry can not defend itself, they are blackjacked and blugeoned into every tax proposal, because they are threatened with dire consequences from that same minority that brought into America the black days of prohibition. I have no fight or quarrel with the man or woman who decides in his own mind and in his own heart that he will not drink beer, but I do have a quarrel with such people when they say that no one else shall drink beer. Beer is a drink of moderation, and if I were strong enough politically in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to assert my will, I would endeavor to have a special license put through this legislature allowing beers and light wines to be sold in restaurants, because they are drinks of moderation and drinks that have certain food values.

When you pass this tax today you are again hitting that consumer who is, in the main, the lower income group citizen of the Commonwealth. That is the thing I protested in the early stages when this tax program was advanced, that it was a shifting of the tax burden from the shoulders of corporate and private interests onto the shoulders of consumers, onto the shoulders of the working men and women who are less able to pay it.

I do not intend to vote for it for many reasons, but the most important reason is that that particular group of citizens pays more than their just share of the state's taxes.

The Senator from Allegheny has made much of the fact that he introduced a tax commission bill. If you will go back to March 12 Senate Bill 322, you will find that bill already in the hopper; if you will go back to three years ago, four years ago, six years ago and eight years ago, you will find that same bill was introduced into every session of the Legislature.

In 1937, I was privileged to be Chairman of the Joint Tax Study Commission of this Commonwealth, and the outstanding recommendation that commission made to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania was the creation of a tax commission to take the place of the Department of Revenue, in so far as revenue measures were concerned, and to absorb the work of the Board of Finance and Revenue. I said before, and I say now, as I have said over the years, that we can not hope to have a thorough and equitable tax structure in this Commonwealth until we do pass such legislation.

I have no pride of authorship, I have no illusions about our position in Pennsylvania, and I therefore recommend that the bill just introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz, be brought out of committee and voted for. I do not care about the honors of putting a bill in, but I do care about getting the right legislation.

This particular tax is an example of not having a decent planning system for added revenue when we need it, and I therefore intend to vote against this bill. It is an additional burden upon those, and I say burden because when this additional hundred per cent tax is passed off to the consumer, it will naturally mean that he will pay not only the additional tax being imposed by the Commonwealth, which is something like $22,000,000, but I predict to this Senate that he will pay in addition, if the volume stays at the point it is today, an additional $22,000,000 in increased profits to those who always add their two cent's worth to any tax.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RAUHAUSER. Mr. President, yesterday the question of the constitutionality of House Bill 664 came before the Senate. It is the opinion of this side of the Senate that this bill is unconstitutional, and I have prepared a brief on that part, which, with the kind indulgence of you gentlemen of the Senate, I would like to read into the record, as exemplifying and setting forth the objections of this side of the Senate to this measure.

House Bill No. 664 has numerous objections which amendment did not cure. In the definition of soft drinks, page 2, line 4, a soft drink is defined to include "milk drink when any flavoring or syrup is added." On page 3, line 5, in the very same definition, the bill exempts fluid milk to which flavoring alone is added, when it contains two and one-half per cent butterfat.

This bill, by the very definition of milk, makes it most difficult to draw a regulation that will cover the types of milk drinks that are taxed. It seems quite clear that any chocolate milk made at a fountain will be subject to a tax in accordance with the tax levy on the amount of chocolate used.

However, if at the fountain the seller places the chocolate milk in a bottle and serves the customer in that manner, it then becomes a bottled drink and excluded from the tax. It is quite clear, therefore, that one type of chocolate milk is subject to tax, while the same commodity content may not be subject to tax. This is the condition so far as a milk drink alone is concerned.

How this comes within the uniformity provision of the Constitution is not quite clear, when one drink under one condition is tax free and under a very similar condition is taxed.

Also it is not quite clear how the uniformity provision affects the entire subject of this bill.

When a bottled drink is sold bottled it bears a tax of one cent, while one served over the counter bears a tax of one-half cent, this despite the fact that the enforcement problem will be very much larger in the case of a counter drink than in a bottled drink.

Nor is the classification under which the tax operates clear. When an ice cream sundae is served with chocolate sauce, it is subject to a tax, while one served with fruit salad or mixed fruit is untaxed. Nor is it clear how the uniformity provision operates. Where a drink contains twelve ounces, requiring one ounce of syrup in its preparation over the counter it is subject to a tax of one-half cent, while another drink which requires one and a half ounces for its preparation is subject to three quarters of a cent of tax, both drinks selling for approximately the same price and bearing approximately the same cost. There is also the question of whether the tax operates in favor of the taxpayer who gives the consumer the smallest quantity. There is a question on the form of the tax; it is not clear exactly where the tax falls, or where or when, or how the tax levy is made.

On syrups and soft drinks imported into the state, these questions are fairly clear. Apparently the tax falls on bringing the taxable article into the state, if the same comes to rest within the Commonwealth. But how and where does the tax fall on the product within the state itself? Does the one cent tax fall on the bottling operation or the privilege of bottling soft drinks? Does the one half cent tax fall on the privilege of bottling syrup, or the use?

The provision of the bill setting forth the levy uses the word in this phase: "Tax shall be at the rate of one-half cent per fluid ounce and one-half cent on twelve ounces of soft drinks." Does this levy a tax on the property, or on a use, or on a privilege. Does it not infer that the same ounce of syrup that is necessary for making a soft drink is subject to one-half cent in the form of syrup and one cent when it is placed in a bottle of soft drink?

Certainly, if this is the inference, the uniformity provision of the Constiution is questionable.

But these are not the only questionable phases. There is no classification in this bill. Regardless of the strength of the syrup, its state of concentration or state of dilution, or the required number of ounces that are necessary for a twelve ounce drink, the tax is the same; whether the syrup is expensive or cheap, diluted or concentrated, there is no difference in the tax.

Section 1 of Article IX was inserted in the Constitution of this Commonwealth with the object of preventing forever all forms of unjust and arbitrary taxation, and the courts of the Commonwealth have been most vigilant in enforcing its dictates. We believe that this principle applies to this bill.

In Appeal of Fox, 112 Pa. 337, 352, the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth said that if a tax violates the requirement of uniformity, it "must fall, no matter what inconvenience may result to the state." Continuing the Court said:

"This portion of the constitution is too important and valuable to be overriden by the Legislature, or frittered away by judicial construction. It was intended to, and does sweep away forever the power of the Legislature to impose unequal burdens upon the people under the form of taxation. The evils which led up to its incorporation into the organic law are well known. The burden of maintaining the state has been, in repeated instances, lifted from the shoulders of favored classes and thrown upon the remainder of the community. This was done by means of favoritism and class legislation. Article IX of the Constitution was intended to cut up this system by the roots, and we shall have no more of it if the legislative and judicial departments of the government perform their full duty in giving effect to that instrument."

In consonance with this broad purpose, the uniformity clause has been held to require of all varieties of taxes that they be "relatively equal and uniform," since "equality in the imposition of the burden is of the very essence of the right." Cope's Estate, 191 Pa. 1, 43 A. 79. In that case, in holding a tax invalid under the uniformity clause, this Court said, at page 20:

"* * * It is of the very essence of taxation that it should be relatively equal and uniform, and, where the burden is common, there should be a common contribution to discharge it. Cooley, Const. Law 495. In his Treatise on Taxation (2d Ed. pp. 2, 3), the same learned author says: 'In an exercise of the power to tax, the purpose always is that a common burden shall be sustained by common contributions, regulated by some fixed general rule, and apportioned by the law according to some uniform ratio of equality. The power is not, therefore, arbitrary, but rests on fixed principles of justice, which have for their object the protection of the taxpayer against exceptional and invidious exactions, and is to have effect through established rules, operating impartially.' 'Equality in the imposition of the burden is of the very essence of the right, and though absolute equality and absolute justice may not be obtainable, the adoption of some rule tending to that end is indispensable. Equality, as far as practicable, and security of property against irresponsible power, are principles which underlie the power of taxation as declared ends, and principles of fundamental laws." We believe that these provisions especially provide a clear-cut example of what is applicable to this particular statute.

"* * * The language of section 1, (of Art. IX of the Pennsylvania Constitution), as to what the rule of uniformity shall embrace, is as broad and comprehensive as it could possibly have been made. The words 'all taxes' must necessarily be construed to include property tax, inheritance tax, and all other kinds of tax the subjects of which are susceptible of just and proper classification. By necessary implication, the first clause of that section recognizes the authority of the legislature to justly and fairly, but never arbitrarily, classify those subjects of taxation with the view of effecting relative equality of burdens."

The Court stated forcefully the limitations imposed by the uniformity clause (page 22):

"These limitations on the power of the legislature mean something. They are plainly intended to secure, as far as possible, uniformity and relative equality of taxation, by prohibiting generally the exemption of a certain part of any recognized class of property and subjecting the residue to a tax that should be borne uniformly by the entire class, and by guarding against any other device that necessarily or intentionally infringes on the established rules of uniformity and relative equality which, as we have seen, underlie every system of taxation.

In Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company's Tax Assessment, 224 Pa. 240, 243, it is stated:

"The purpose of requiring all tax laws to be uniform is to produce equality of taxation."

The uniformity clause of the Pennsylvania Constitution has two aspects which are revelant here: (1) It forbids arbitrary and unreasonable classification of property for purposes of taxation, and (2) It requires that within a given class the tax operate uniformly.

Thus, in condemning a statute imposing a tax on the "employers of foreign born unnaturalized persons over twenty-one years of age" as in violation of both the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution and the uniformity clause of the State Constitution, this Court in Juniata Limestone Co. v. Fagley, 187 Pa. 193, said (page 197):

"It is very apparent from the act itself that the pretended classification of the subjects of taxation is arbitrary and illegal; but in addition that, it directly and intentionally discriminates against the members of the same class, and creates an inequality among them."

While under the Pennsylvania Constitution property may be classified for purposes of taxation, the constitutional requirements of uniformity forbids arbitrary and unreasonable classification, or discrimination against a certain class of taxpayers or a certain class of property. In Schoyer v. Comet Oil & Refining Co., 284 Pa. 189, 197, the test is stated thus:

"The test of classification is whether it produces diversity in results or lack of uniformity in its operation either on the given subject of tax or the persons subject as payers. There must be a real distinction between the objects with which the law deals for it to be valid."

This is one sore of arbitrary classification which violates both the uniformity clause of the Pennsylvania Constitution and the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution. The limitations imposed by these two constitutional provisions in this respect are very similar.

As this Court said in Commonwealth v. Girard Life Ins. Co., 305 Pa. 558, 562 (affirmed in 287 U. S 570):

"Our Constitution enjoins that 'all taxes shall be uniform, upon the same class of subjects.' The Federal Constitution directs, 'Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws' As applied to questions of taxation, the constructions of the two enactments run together. That which would violate one would generally contravene the other."

In the recent case of Colegate v. Harvey, 296 U. S. 404, the United States Supreme Court, in what the Court below correctly described (1443a) as "a clear statement of the law as found in the Pennsylvania cases," said, at page 423:

"* * * the classification 'must be reasonable, not arbitrary, and must rest upon some ground of difference having a fair and substantial relation to the object of the legislation, so that all persons similarly circumstanced shall be treated alike.' Royster Guano Co. v. Virginia, supra; Air-way Corp. Day. 226 U. S. 71, 85; Schlessinger v. Wisconsin, 270 U. S. 230, 240. The classification, in order to avoid the constitutional prohibition, must be founded upon pertinent and real differences, as distinguished from irrelevant and artificial ones The test to be applied in such cases as the present one is—does the statute arbitrarily and without genuine reason impose a burden upon one group of taxpayers from which it exempts another group, both of them occupying substantially the same relation toward the subject matter of the legislation? 'Mere difference is not enough * * * '"

The law cannot be justified by expediency. Neither the state's need of revenue nor the haste of its action in attempting to raise it can justify unconstitutional legislation. As the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth said of a tax in Estate of Portuondo, 191 Pa. 28, at page 47:

"A strong appeal, however, is made in its favor on the ground of the financial embarrassment of the Commonwealth, and because, for want of time, the draftsmen could not weight words or consider results; and that it should, therefore, be treated leniently. But constitutional restrictions and provisions, intended for the very purpose of preventing hasty or inconsiderate legislation, cannot thus be overlooked or got rid of. The power of the Legislature in matters of taxation is very great, but the constitution is supreme, and suprema lex salus est populi is no less true than that salus populi suprema est lex."

In the case of a property tax, the tax must be uniform in its operation within the class of property taxed not only as repscts the rate of the tax but also as respects the valuation of the property.

In Commonwealth v. Sharon Coal Co., 164 Pa. 284, 305, the Court said:

"All properties, however, in the same class must be taxed without discrimination in the rate of tax imposed, and the rule for ascertaining the value of the property must be the same; the actual cash value of one capital stock in the same class cannot be ascertained from net earnings, another from profit, another from surplus and another from dividends, for each method will produce a different valuation, and result in inequality. But each may be taxed on the actual cash valuation from any relative evidence tending to establish the fact."

And in Delaware L & W. R. R. Co.'s Tax Assessment, 224 Pa. 240, 244; 73 Atl. 429, 432, the Court said (page 248):

"* * * It will not do to assess farm lands at one fifth their actual values, dwelling houses at one-third, manufacturing establishments at one-half, and coal lands at full value. The constitution says the valuation must be uniform on the same class of taxable subjects and real estate is a taxable subject of a particular class, and coal lands are real estate, hence the rule of uniformity must be applied to all kinds of real estate as a class."

It is obvious that a law which imposes the same amount of tax upon each unit of property within a class when such units vary widely in actual value is not uniform in its operation within the class.

Cases make it clear that the tax under consideration should produce equality of burden in its operation. This is pointed out in Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company's Tax Assessment, 224 Pa. 240, with citation of the Delaware Division Canal case. After a discussion of the uniformity clause, the court said, at page 243:

"The central thought running through all the opinions is that the principle of uniformity is a constitutional mandate to the courts, to the Legislature, and to the taxing authorities, in the levy and assessment of taxes which can not be disregarded. The purpose of requiring all tax laws to be uniform is to produce equality of taxation. Absolute equality is difficult of attainment, and approximate equality is all that can reasonably be expected. Hence, it has been held that where there is substantial uniformity the constitutional requirement has been met. Kelly v. Pittsburgh, 85 Pa. 170; Fox's Appeal, 112 Pa. 337; Commonwealth v. Canal Company, 123 Pa. 594. All these cases hold there must be substantial uniformity which means as nearly uniform as practicable in view of the instrumentalities with which and subjects upon which tax laws operate. It is the duty of the courts in dealing with this subject to enforce as nearly as may be equality of burden and uniformity of method in determining what share of the burden each taxable subject must bear."

Members of the Senate, when this bill comes before the courts these will be the principles upon which the uniformity provision will be judged. We believe that this tax, for numerous reasons, violates those principles, and finally the bill is dilatory in having these principles adjudicated. The period of time necessary for adjudication is unnecessarily long. First, in order to bring this matter before the courts there must be an assessment, and it seems there must be a violation and a refusal to pay before the bill can be properly questioned. Ninety days after date of assessment, the taxable may question the tax. The department then has six months to dispose of the petition and then the taxpayer has sixty days to ask for re-assessment. The Board of Finance and Revenue has then six months to dispose of the matter. The taxpayer then has sixty days to appeal to the court, so that the state could at least take one year before the taxpayer could reach the lower court. Appeals take considerable time, so that one and a half years could elapse before the legal points on this tax bill could be determined. During that time people subject to this unjust and unconstitutional tax would be subjected to a severe burden.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Geltz, last week I asked that you or the Majority Floor Leader get from the budget director, if possible, an estimate of the revenue to be raised by this measure Can you at this time give the minority members of the Senate that estimate?

Mr. GELTZ. Do I understand the gentleman from Westmoreland to mean this one tax?

Mr. DENT. Yes, this one tax.

Mr. GELTZ. $35,000,000 for the biennium.

Mr. DENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny repeat that?

Mr. GELTZ. $35,000,000 for the biennium.

Mr. DENT. Will you, or can you, give me the authority for this estimate?

Mr. GELTZ. If you mean by authority the person from whom I received the estimate, Dr. Logan, the Budget Director.

Mr. DENT. Did he substantiate his estimate with figures based upon performance?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not know quite how to answer that question. Estimates are made, I would expect, in many different ways, depending upon the person who is making the estimate. I judge, in determining or arriving at this estimate, that Dr. Logan took into consideration the figures, particularly insofar as experience is concerned, of other states having this type of taxation, and considered those revenues in connection with the possible or estimated revenues of Pennsylvania, comparing the population of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the population of whatever other state or states he used as a base.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, is the gentleman from Allegheny satisfied that this bill will raise $35,000,000 in the next two years?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I am satisfied to accept the estimate of the budget director in connection with this tax, the same as in connection with the other taxes.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Allegheny very kindly.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I said last week that I would try to give figures to substantiate my charge that this tax bill will not raise the revenue it is intended to.

I have before me figures presented to this Senate at the public hearing and substantiated by federal government reports as of the last year the figures were available. I have also the total income from this tax in the only state where it has been imposed. The year 1939 is the last year for which any official compilation of census figures was made, showing the value of production of bottled soft drinks produced by states for the years 1925, 1929, 1931, 1935, 1937 and 1939. The year 1939 is the last for which any official census was made, and since there is no other practical means of obtaining production figures by states, this is, therefore, the last year upon which we can rely for official figures.

In the bottled soft drink industry, production figures are the equivalent of sales at wholesale, because all goods produced are sold substantially at the time of manufacture and usually in the area where manufactured.

I call attention to the members of the Senate who are interested to table 5, page 5, of the 1939 Census of Manufactures, showing the value of production of bottled, carbonated and still beverages in the United States by states. In this table, bottled carbonated beverages produced during that year amounted to $20,840,463; bottled still beverages for the same year, $141,487. The total of these two soft drink items was $20,981,950, which corresponds with the figure in the compilation of annual figures.

The census covers only bottled drinks; drinks produced at fountains are not included. However, Mr. John J. Riley, Secretary of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, the national association of the bottled soft drink industry, presented to the Senate Finance Committee the usual customary figure of twenty-five per cent as representation of fountain sales to increase this total of soft drink sales in Pennsylvania to $25,250,000, as the wholesale value.

In arriving at retail value, the wholesale price would be increased approximately 50 per cent, giving a retail sales value of all soft drinks sold in Pennsylvania for the year 1939, of $37,875,000. At five cents per drink, this represents 757,500,000 drinks which, at one cent per drink, would produce $7,575,000 per year upon the basis of 1939 sales. In the absence of official census figures, we have no means of knowing what the increase in sales has been since 1939, but we would estimate it to be between 25 and 50 per cent, with the latter as an outside figure.

Even if increased by 50 per cent, it is easily seen that the $19,000,000 estimate from a one cent soft drink tax in Pennsylvania is approximately twice what it is likely to be.

There is another means of checking this estimate. The United States Treasury Department proposed a one cent tax on soft drinks in 1941, and estimated that the annual revenue produced would be $132,500,000 for the country as a whole. As you will note from the census figures, the State of Pennsylvania accounted for $20,900,000 of the $361,800,000 of production value in 1939, or approximately 5.7 per cent. The percentage of the revenue expected from one cent tax on a nation wide basis is approximately $7,685,000, which checks very closely with the estimate above, based on 1939.

I have here some bottle per capita figures on bottled soft drink production by states for the year 1939, which may be of interest to you. These are approximations based upon the 1939 census of soft drink manufactures.

Mr. President, these figures are accurate, insofar as they can be, when based upon United States Treasury reports.

The State of Pennsylvania has an annual consumption of 69 bottles per person. If we take these 69 bottles per person and multiply that by roughly 10,000,000 people, or let us go further and say that, instead of 69, we make it 72 bottles, or three cases, per person in the state of Pennsylvania on an annual basis, and multiply this by 10,000,000, we then get 30,000,000 cases of soft drinks manufactured and sold in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania every year. This would bring, under the present rate of taxation, $7,200,000. However, that is the total tax without regard to the cost of collection. Syrup consumption on this basis could not possibly exceed one-half gallon per person, and this would give approximately the same amount of drinks per person in the Commonwealth. On this basis, a tax of one-half cent per drink would yield $3,200,000, making the total income about $9,000,000 after collection costs are deducted. If we subtract the eight per cent tolerance allowed for breakage and spoilage, cost of collection and so forth, contained in this bill, we would have a reduction of approximately $800,000 or a total tax of $8,200,000. If we double this amount, we will have, at the end of the biennium, approximately $16,400,000, or, in round figures, $17,000,000.

Allowing for increases in consumption, although all evidence points to the contrary in every instance where the tax is imposed, we will still be about $20,000,000 short of Governor Duff's estimate in his revenue message.

During the discussion upon this bill, I tried to show that the tax was one that hit that element of our population that could not defend itself. Eighty per cent of the soft drinks consumed in this Commonwealth are consumed by children and minors. Is this legislature setting itself up to be so all-seeing and wise that it knows more than the Federal Congress and the President, that it also knows more than the legislatures of other states who have tried and later repealed soft drink taxes? Why should not we be guided by national policy and also by the actual experience of all other states that have tried the experiment that this Legislature is now proposing, and which have had the experience of seeing it fail, and some of whom have then acknowledged their mistake by repealing the soft drinks tax which proved to be a failure? Why do we not profit by the experience of others and not walk into the same failure which this body would only have to repeal in a year or two from today, just as other state legislatures have done?

When I speak of this contemplated tax being counter to policy and experience of the Federal Government, I have the following in mind.

The Congress of the United States, in 1941, 1942 and 1943 took under consideration a national soft drink tax, and each time, after exhaustive research and consideration of such tax, decided against it. The reasons were that they found it impractical, unproductive, incapable of raising sufficient revenue, discriminatory, and a burden upon individual small businesses. Therefore, the Federal Congress, in 1941, 1942 and 1943, very wisely accepted these facts as facts, and did not attempt to levy a national soft drinks tax.

In 1918, the United States imposed a tax on soft drinks which we found to be so unproductive and unenforceable that its repeal was recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury, in 1921. The Senate Finance Committee endorsed the recommendation for the repeal of the tax with this statement:

"This tax has proved very difficult to administer and is widely evaded. Your committee recommends repeal of this particular tax. (Senate Report No. 276, 67th Congress —First Section—September 26, 1921).

Another soft drinks tax, enacted by the Federal Congress in 1932, was repealed in 1934, on the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury, in the following language:

"That those excises which experience has demonstrated are relatively unproductive and give rise to serious administrative difficulties be repealed (Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for fiscal year ended June 30, 1932).

The states, too, have had a wide range of experience with this type of legislation and when I say we should profit by the experience of other states, I have in mind the experience of twenty-four state legislatures. I want to point out to you that proposals of this type have been carefully examined and finally rejected from two to five times at different sessions of the legislatures in the states of Alabama, California, Colorada, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin—yes, and in our state of Pennsylvania; it has also been rejected more than five times at different legislative sessions of the states of Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas. When these twenty-four states—half the Union—have weighed and decided against a soft drinks tax, we have the significant opinion of the legislators of half of the United States to guard us against leveling such a tax.

Now, let us look at the experience of states which did not profit by these opinions and which did go ahead with the tax. What happened?

The Ohio State Legislature enacted such a tax in 1933. A year later, it was suspended, and the year after that, definitely repealed.

Kentucky had a similar experience. They levied a soft drink tax in July, 1936, and the results were so disastrous that it was repealed at a special session of the Legislature in January, 1937.

If we are foolish enough to pass this tax, we will drive out half the bottler in this state, because they can not withstand such a tax, and will find ourselves in the position a year from now of having to repeal the tax and trying to woo back the business we have lost. This was proved in the state of South Carolina when a tax became effective there in 1926.

The following data is from the Associated Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, which is the national organization representing all soft drink groups. Nearly 50 per cent of the bottlers of South Carolina went out of business when the tax became effective there in 1926, and this is supported by affidavits sworn to by former bottlers in that state, swearing that the tax was directly responsible for putting them out of business. There were 132 bottlers in the state when South Carolina enacted the soft drink tax in 1925 Between 1925 and 1933, 25 additional plants attempted to do business. In 1939, only 86 plants remained. 71 plants, almost half the total, were forced to close their doors.

In other words, the soft drink bottler cannot withstand the effect of this tax and continue to operate.

We must bear in mind that the soft drink business is run by local, small business men and that 85 per cent of the industry's production is distributed direct from a local bottling plant to the corner grocery store. By penalizing the small soft drink bottler—the small business-man, the result will be destructive of this important group of our citizens.

That is best proven by the fact that this in an industry which was the first to be harassed by war time restrictions and is still harassed by war time restrictions and by peace time inability to reach a production level that will give them the ingredients they need and desire to put their business on a footing competively with other businesses. They maintained during all these years a price structure to the consumer that kept their particular item in the low price high production group.

The people of this Commonwealth will know full well immediately upon the effective date of this bill, that they are paying a twenty-five per cent increased cost in their daily expenditures for this item. Many persons believe that soft drinks, as Governor Duff has so often said, is a item that can be classified in the non essential group. I want to say to you men that I operate and have operated a couple of small businesses. I can testify to this group and I believe I am safe in saying that many others can testify to the same fact, that where we put a soft drink cooling machine in the working departments of our plant we found better condition amongst the workers. Some of you who have never worked in the middle of a hot July afternoon can not hope to experience the uplift that you get from drinking a cool soft drink. Soft drinks have a definite food value, they have a definite value in our every day life, they are one of the few items that low income groups purchase in substantial quantities for family consumption. It may interest the Senate to know that one of the largest bottlers in my particular county—in fact he is the largest; he bottles for many surrounding counties a particular type of drink that he himself has originated—and he tells me that two-thirds of all the soft drinks that he sells are sold for home comsumption to family groups.

I say to you that this tax will not raise more than $20,000,000, and I am being very liberal in that estimate. I hope to be present in the Senate of Pennsylvania when public acclaim will demand the repeal of this law.

In the first place, it places an undue burden on the small group of business men in this Commonwealth who have maintained a price structure in their particular field, although every one of us know that there has been an increase of eighty to ninety per cent in every other field. We know, and we ought to know, that for many years there has been agitation for a tax upon soft drinks not only in Pennsylvania but, as history has proven, in many of the other states of this nation. We will find through the sad experience that we will go through that this tax, besides its inequity, is one that will not do the job that this Legislature intends for it to do. It intends to raise $35,000,000 by the imposition of this tax. That is based upon a one cent tax per bottle and one half cent tax per drink, or a twenty per cent tax on seventy-five per cent of the business and a ten per cent tax on twenty-five per cent of the business.

We are assuming, then, that we in Pennsylvania are consuming approximately $170,000,000 worth of soft drinks. In 1939, by comparing the facts that were obtainable through the manufacturers of caps, through the producers of concentrates, through the producers of sugar, the federal government estimated the entire intake in the gross business all over the United States to be—I want to get that figure right because the Republican majority has a habit of picking up what I say—the total business in the United States in 1939 was $358,232,000.

Are we to believe then that this budget director of the Governor, who has so often been proven wrong, has now pulled out of his magic bag of tricks an income for Pennsylvania of $35,000,000, which represents over fifty per cent of the total volume of business done in the entire United States?

I say to you that this tax bill will cause this Legislature to be called into Special Session to create a new income producing revenue measure, in order to meet the obligations of this Commonwealth, if we appropriate the moneys that Governor Duff has asked us to appropriate.

Throughout the entire time that this bill has been before the Senate, I have attempted to show on various occasions that the bill starts out to do one thing, and I am convinced in my own mind that it does more than that.

Maybe Mr. Logan has in mind that this tax will apply to syrups that go into ice cream, that this tax will apply to syrups that go into baked goods. If this tax applies to those items, I can see perhaps where he has reached the estimate that he has given to this Legislature, but if that is what we are doing, then we ought to have the courage to say that we are taxing food and food products, that we ought not sit here and say to the people of Pennsylvania that we are voting for a soft drink tax, if in reality we are voting for a tax on ice cream and baked goods.

No stretch of the imagination can put an ice cream sundae, for instance, into the classification of a soft drink; yet this bill clearly states that ice cream sundaes are taxed. Ice cream sundaes are made up of ice cream, plus a flavoring of syrup over the top of them as a garnish or something, and yet you call that a soft drink tax. Manufacturers of ice cream in Pennsylvania know that this bill definitely imposes a tax upon their product when it is used in conjunction with a syrup for a dressing.

Many of the members of this Senate have expressed to me their utter disgust at this type of legislation and at this particular statute. They are compelled, of course, to vote for this bill, because of the fact that they belong to that political group which has the responsibility at this time of meeting the Governor's demands for new and increased revenue. I have suggested to the Senate that there are fairer and more equitable tax measures that could and should be recognized and considered by this group. We are again in that particular position in this legislative session where the demands of the executive are being adhered to by the Legislature simply because of political expediency. I say to you that the executive has its proper function in our form of government, but it is the duty of the Legislature to create tax measures, it is the duty of the Legislature to assess taxes against the people or against the industries of this Commonwealth. This measure was recommended to the Legislature by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

This entire tax program was recommended. The Governor of this Commonwealth, if properly following the duties of his office, would have said to the Legislature, we require this amount of revenue, I leave to the Legislature the method by which this revenue should be raised.

However, from the very beginning, you have closed your ears to the appeals of those who would come before you and say to you, we can find a more equitable tax structure, we can work together to give Pennsylvania something of permanency in tax matters. No, you have even refused to discuss taxes with the minority, you have delibertely taken the easy way out, and I might suggest to you, and this is no stretch of the imagination when I say to you that it is just as equitable to tax a package of chewing gun—I don not know of much chewing gum being manufactured in Pennsylvania, but I know that a great deal of it is sold here, and it is sold on a competitive basis with this particular item that you are taxing today. You might have a tax on a chocolate bar, you might have a tax on many of the items in the five cent class that are direct competitors of this item but, no, you take this one particular business, and I say to you again and again that when you are through taxing the soft drink industry of Pennsylvania, you are going to have a reduced revenue, you are going to have reduced production in the Commonwealth and you are going to drive from this field of endeavor a great many citizens who have given practically their life's earning to create a business for themselves and their families.

We can not sit here and say "it can't happen here" because it has happened in other instances and if it happened there, it will happen here.

I say to you men of the Senate that it takes less courage to vote for this type of tax than it took in 1937 to impose almost $300,000,000 worth of new taxes upon the people of Pennsylvania, to feed the millions of citizens who were then out of work and who were in dire need. We faced that situation by placing a tax upon the shoulders of those who were best able to bear that load, and although the Republican minority at that time took the position that they would refuse to vote for every tax bill, we imposed those taxes, and today we are still passing in this Legislature the emergency taxes of 1937—the least that you can do is to show the courage of your convictions and remove the word "emergency" and pass these taxes on a permanent basis.

Every two years we come before this Legislature and go through this same procedure of re-enacting emergency taxes. Does anybody kid himself that we will not be back here two years from now voting for the same emergency taxes? Yes, the Democratic party imposed those taxes, because the need was great, and they must have been equitable taxes because you are still passing them, after being in power from the year 1939 to the present day.

I predict, however, that two things will happen within the next two years: you will call a special session to provide the additional revenues that you will not get from passing this bill and then, at the end of the biennium, if not sooner, you will repeal this particular piece of punitive legislation.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Westmoreland is to be commended for spending so much energy and diligence to give us those various figures and statistics but methinks he wasted considerable time because I think there is a much simpler method of arriving at a more accurate estimate. When the gentleman from Westmoreland started to speak I understood that he said he had figures from South Carolina and in that connection I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, does the Senator from Westmoreland have any figures in so far as the revenue collected in South Carolina in any particular year is concerned.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is my understanding there was $4,000,000 collected in the year 1935.

Mr. GELTZ. Has the gentleman used the figures of $4,000,000, in endeavoring to arrive at an accurate estimate of the taxable revenue in Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. No. Mr. President, for the very obvious reason that the collection in 1945 was augmented by the fact that the United States Army had numerous army camps and they were still in existence.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Westmoreland not think by taking the ratio of population of South Carolina to Pennsylvania, and making allowance on the $4,000,000 revenue received in South Carolina, that he could arrive at an accurate estimate of revenue for Pennsylvania

Mr. DENT. I do not, Mr. President, because I believe the sounder basis of estimating the tax is on a per capita consumption in any given area. The per capita consumption in Pennsylvania, as found by national figures, is 69 bottles per year.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, it seems sowewhat foolish to me that the gentleman would endeavor to take figures from a national standpoint and break them down to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, into a per capita consumption ratio, when we have available accurate information in so far as revenue in South Carolina is concerned; we know that the population in Pennsylvania is substantially 5.2 times the population of South Carolina, and by using those simple figures we can arrive at a prospective revenue for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of $38,000,000 for the biennium of 1947 to 1949.

In the revised estimate which I gave to the gentleman from Westmoreland we now have contemplated or estimated revenue of $35,000,000 instead of $38,000,000.

The reason for that difference is that when the original estimate was made it was based on the same rate of tax as South Carolina, in so far as the estimate was concerned, which was seventy-six cents per gallon, although the rate of tax, or the tax as set up in the bill as it originally came from the House, was $1.28 a gallon. Therefore, in reducing the tax per ounce to one half cent instead of one cent, we have revenue of sixty-four cents per gallon, which is one-sixth less than the original estimate. Therefore we have revised this figure to $35,000,000 on the basis of the one half cent revision or amendment inserted in this bill.

It seems to me this is a much simpler and a much more accurate method of making an estimate, than trying to figure out how many bottles of soft drink I might drink or somebody else might drink during the next two years.

But we again come back to the point, Mr. President, which we stated before, that estimates may be made in numerous ways. The gentleman from Westmoreland is entitled to make his estimate as he sees fit: It seems to me the budget director of the Commonwealth has the facilities, he has the experience and he has the ability to make estimates as accurately as is possible to make those estimates. We understand, of course, there are many things that can come about to upset estimates; it depends, in connection with any type of tax, how the business holds up, whether it increases, whether it decreases or whether it stays at the same ratio as it did for the prior period. However, all anyone can do is to use all the facilities available to project his estimates for the next biennium, which was done in this case, and we think that we have as accurate an estimate as is possible to make.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that was rather a long question but I will try to answer it.

Mr. GELTZ. That was not a question, Mr. President. I had concluded by interrogation of the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thought the gentleman from Allegheny started his speech by saying he wanted to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Let me say, concerning the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, that Pennsylvania has a yearly consumption of 69 bottles and then let us look at South Carolina—I think the gentleman ought to be interested in these figures—you see, soft drink consumption varies all over the country. It varies because there are different conditions surrounding the various localities. In Washington, D. C., for instance, the soft drink consumption is 144 bottles per person, over a hundred per cent more than the consumption is in Pennsylvania. That is caused by the fact that the weather is slightly warmer and there are thousands upon thousands of office worker who go out at noon and their lunch consists, in the main, of a sandwich and a couple of soft drinks or some ice cream and a drink of sweetened orange, or something, and therefore their consumption is twice that of Pennsylvania.

In South Carolina consumption is 120 bottles per person. You can not take the South Carolina figures for total revenue and try to estimate Pennsylvania revenue on the basis of population; you must of necessity base it upon the rate of consumption per capita. That is true in any line of endeavor, in any business. Gasoline companies do that when they decide to go out and set up a gasoline station, they do not take the total population, but they take into consideration the consumption of gasoline per capita in that particular area.

That is true in every business that has any foresight, and, of course, anybody that would attach to this program under this tax, any suggestion that there was any foresight, would be a little off base. In Louisiana, the total consumption is 152 bottles per person. That comes next to the state of Florida, which is the largest consumer in the entire nation, which has a consumption of 160 bottles per person. If we do not use bottles per person as a basis for our estimate, how can we ever reach a figure that can be substantiated by the return. Pennsylvania, incidentally, is one of the smallest per capita consumers in the entire United States. That is reflected in the fact that we are one of the largest per capita consumers of malt beverages in the United States. The two things go hand in hand. We have in Pennsylvania the largest return from the beer tax in the entire country. You are going to have a smaller return per capita from the fot drink tax in the entire nation.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have been tremendously interested in the remarks made by the gentleman from Westmoreland on this bill. I have been more particularly interested in his prediction of dire things to happen to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the people of Pennsylvania and to the industry affected by this tax.

Mr. President, it appears from all of the remarks made up to this time on this subject that there is one state which still has this tax enacted. That tax was enacted in 1925 in South Carolina. At that time there were 126 bottlers doing business, I am informed, in the state of South Carolina. Thereafter it is true that that number of bottlers in business in South Carolina decreased to 65. Mr. President, that tax is still in effect in South Carolina. Under date of March 27, 1947, information comes from Mr. Thomas M. Howell, one of the tax commissioners of the state of South Carolina, that as of that date there were 122 bottlers of soft drinks doing business in that state and there were fourteen ready to be licensed to do business in the state and were awaiting the machinery with which to begin their operations.

I suggest, Mr. President, that this tax can neither be so vicious, that it can neither be so bad, that it can neither be such a tax as to produce the dire consequences predicted, if they are now within four actual bottlers of the time this tax was enacted, with ten additional bottlers awaiting an opportunity to do business when they get the machinery.

I should like to point out too, that when we come to the matter of estimating, when we come to the matter of consideration of the yield from this tax, that it probably might be well to point out that in 1946 in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania there were 921 licensed bottlers of soft drink and that, as of March 1, 1947, there were 978 bottlers of soft drink in Pennsylvania, and it seems to me that fact should be one that should be considered in availing ourselves of the opportunity to determine what the estimate may be in this situation.

Now, Mr. President, I have been tremendously impressed as this debate has gone on. I assume when we come to the next two bills on this program, which form a part of this tax program, that there probably will not be any debate because they represent taxes on business and on corporations.

I have had much interest in the proposal that was made by the gentleman from Westmoreland at the beginning of this debate this afternoon, when he suggested and said the minority was going to reverse a policy of long standing and that, for the first time, it was going to break precedent and not vote against all of these tax bills, that it was going to support the tax measures on the theory that the money which would result to the Commonwealth from that tax program was necessary to carry out the work in this Commonwealth and carry out the governmental functions. I have been very interested, as this debate progressed, to find out that, on House Bill 662, there were ten members of the minority who opposed it. I take it that, in accordance with all the remarks that have been made by the gentleman from Westmoreland and others, that those negative votes reflect dislike for the taxes, and simply that. I noted with much interest that there were six members who opposed House Bill 663. I take it, in view of the discussion that has taken place here, that a large percentage of the gentlemen on the other side are going to vote against House Bill 664.

Now then, Mr. President, if that policy is a sound one, that is, the policy of not supporting these measures, then I point out that you are $39,000,000 short, on the other side, in this tax program on House Bill 662 in additional revenue; that you are $22,000,000 short on House Bill 663 and that you will be an estimated $35,000,000 short on House Bill 664. That makes a total of $96,000,000 that this program will be short by reason of those votes, or at least as it is reflected by those votes; if you deduct the $15,000,000 that the gentleman from Westmoreland says will not be realized on the tax imposed by House Bill 664 you would still be $81,000,000 short.

If this program for expenditures has been found necessary, I would like to inquire from where those gentlemen propose that this money should be taken away from. If their position is sound, is that money to be taken away from the school teachers, is that money to be taken away from the proposed veterans program, is that money to be taken away from the mental hospital program, or what portion of this program should it be taken away from.

I say there has been fault in the approach to this thing. I say that the people in this chamber who have failed to support this program have to be accountable to their own constituency for being $96,000,000 short of the money necessary to supply the necessary needs of this Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am glad the gentleman from Lehigh finally got that speech in, because he has been trying to make it all afternoon.

However, I still take the position our position is sound. If you will total the number of votes cast on this side for all the tax measures you will find that there are many times the number of votes ever cast by a major party when it was in the minority for any of the tax bills, by the now minority Democratic party. However, the protest vote that we registered did not impair this program one iota. The gentleman knows that if they were short any votes to pass this bill, or any bill in this program, other than this bill, the Democratic minority would provide the votes for its passage. We cast our votes in the negative to put this party of ours on record against the impositions that you are making upon the consumers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the low income brackets.

I might say to you that when you figure the shortage to be $96,000,000 and you ask where we would get it, I will tell you where we would get it—I have told you time and time again.

In the first place, we would pass a general state authority act, and we would have the courage to impose a new and justifiable tax in Pennsylvania upon mercantile establishments. Secondly, Mr. President, we would add $10,000,000 that the present budget director has under-estimated revenue from the corporate net income tax; we would add $10,000,000 revenue from the under-estimation of the capital stock loans shares tax made by the present budget director. We would attempt to do in Pennsylvania what the Republican party is trying to do in Washington, but we would do it on a more equitable basis; we would save for the people of this Commonwealth at least $10,000,000 in the administrative cost of this Commonwealth, which have gone up from $31,000,000 in 1945 to $50,000,000 in 1947. We would add $5,250,000 additional saving by placing the Department of Public Assistance on a sound basis, by placing categorical relief in the hands of Department of Welfare, and putting the Department of Public Assistance where it rightfully belongs. You would find, if we did that, Mr. President, that you would have approximately $95,000,000.

Long ago I learned that when it comes to figures everyone has his own set. However, I am convinced, Mr. President, that the speech by the gentleman from Lehigh was aimed at the minority, to try and detract from the position we have taken, and in order to say to the school teachers in Pennsylvania, oh, the Democrats talk of raises but will not give you the money, and they know this program will not provide sufficient funds to give teachers in Pennsylvania the salary raises in the main that they deserve and are entitled to. Know that the minority party presented to this Legislature a program that would have raised the money to give them a decent cost of living raise.

The gentleman from Lehigh said something about taking away from the veterans program. I have been here a long time and what veterans program is he talking about? Does he mean the one that gives to people who have lost both hands, that have lost both arms or both eyes, free fishing licenses? I do not tink that will cost the state so much money.

I provided, in my message to this Assembly, $27,000,000 for a housing program for the Commonwealth, with a veteran's priority. Where is there a housing program in this administration? Oh, I know they are going to point to Senate Bills 1 and 2, which give insurance companies additional revenue, an additional avenues of making more money, to pile upon more money, but the state of Pennsylvania under this administration is shirking its responsibilities to the veterans in the matter of housing, because there is not one single bill that has yet reached the floor of this Senate that would provide for that necessary item.

We take the position, Mr. President that if you decide, if you think we are wrong in the position that we have taken, we will assume the responsibility and give the people of Pennsylvania a sound tax program.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I am not going to unnecessarily prolong this debate, because I have not yet taken this floor on one occasion without the gentleman from Westmoreland following me, and I do not think this time will be an exception.

However, I do want to set the record straight. When I spoke about veterans, I referred to the additional amount of money necessary in the veterans' program for veterans' assistance as called for in the Governor's budget of $610,000. I also call attention to the Pennsylvania area colleges which have been set up for veterans, requiring $2,000,000 additional money and in addition to that, veterans' training facilities requiring an additional $70,000,000.

Mr. President, I have only one more thing to say about this entire situation. The reason I said what I did was not with any malicious intent to force the minority into a position, because the minority has forced itself into its own position during this entire discussion on this budget matter and on the necessity for increasing these moneys.

I would like to point out, Mr. President, that originally, as the gentleman from Westmoreland pointed out, he came before this body and proposed that there was not any need for new revenues. After he had done that, on April 28 he came before this body with what he terms his own budget message. Mr. President, at that time I pointed out what I considered to be fallacies in that budget message. I submit that we have just as much right to disagree on revenues which are proposed to be raised in this Commonwealth as the gentlemen on the other side have; I want to suggest and point out that there has been substantial pleading this afternoon on the part of the gentleman from Westmoreland on behalf of what he terms small business, and yet by his own budget message he proposes that increased revenues be raised by a new mercantile tax, which I pointed out at that time was in excess of any mercantile tax ever levied before in this Commonwealth.

All I want to do, Mr. President, is make clear one additional thing and that is, on the floor of this Senate on April 28, when the gentleman from Westmoreland submitted his budget message, he made a statement which I now recollect to be this, pretty much—he said at that time that the Democratic party realized that if it had to carry out the promises it had made in its campaign, it too would have had to raise new money, and I merely want to have the record straight so that we might understand what the situation is and what the positions are at this time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the gentleman from Lehigh said I proposed a tax on mercantile establishments greater in amount than ever proposed before in Pennsylvania—I did, I stand guilty. However, Mr. President, I proposed a tax that would yield $100,000,000 from mercantile establishments in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Incidentally, they are the greatest beneficiaries of all public expended funds; they benefit from the thousands and thousands of taxpayers dollars that go into the public transportation system in any community, that go into better highways, better sewer treatment works, better sewer systems, better lighting systems, better communication systems, and yet they have no direct tax, and yet these same gentlemen will sit here this afternoon and vote for $35,000,000 upon nine hundred bottlers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and say that it is inequitable to place a $100,000,000 tax upon the over 68,000 persons and corporations doing business as mercantile establishments in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Maybe my sense of justice is warped but I do think, standing under the glare of honesty, my position can stand the light.

I say to you, Mr. President, when I submitted my message, I said the Democratic party would have been faced with the responsibility of increased revenues if they failed to put into effect the program they had in mind and could not get sufficient votes to put through a general state authority, in order that we would commit ourselves at this time to pay our share of the cost of creating in Pennsylvania permanent improvements and construction of hospitals, stream clearance, and all the necessary things that must be paid for by the users over the "use" years and the life years of the construction that we are contemplating at this time.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President and members of the Senate, up to a certain point the debate on House Bill 664 was very illuminating and enlightening and then it got off on party politics and I, for one, am sorry that happened.

I do not know when I have heard such splendid debate as was offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Rahauser, on the constitutionality, and on the factual situation as that by the gentleman from Westmoreland. I do not intend to review what they said, I do not intend to repeat any of the thoughts which they gave, although I agree with all that they said.

I do want to point out, Mr. President, some of the practical aspects of this particular bill. Just as in the cigarette tax, you have a large industry in Pennsylvania, in the nature of vending machines, selling soft drinks from vending machines. Those machines are expensive pieces of mechanism, expensive machinery, and they are pretty widely scattered all over this Commonwealth of ours.

In our court house a blind boy has a concession to operate several dispensing machines which are built, fabricated, to receive a nickel, a five-cent piece. As soon as we put a tax on these machines, through passage of House Bill 664, it seems to me that these machines are all going to be confiscated, so to speak, by the enactment of this tax, because these machines can not be used after the price increase is put on, and I do not have to point out that the price increase is a very substantial one, putting a one cent tax on a five cent commodity.

Up to this point I have been thinking about the machine in which a nickel is deposited and a bottle of soft drink comes out, but there is another type of vending machine that has to be considered, and that is the type where a coin is deposited and a lever is depressed and a cup descends into the track and the fluid is poured out into the cup. It happens that the cups that are used in that type of machine are the Dixie cup, a nationally known commodity which happens to be made in Northampton county, they are one of my constituents, and I do not like to see the Dixie Cup Company deprived of the right to continue to do business with these, machines, because it is going to cut down a substantial part of their business.

And again I must point out that the light iron and steel industry is going to be materially affected, because if a price increase goes on here, they are either going to have to devise a new type of machinery to accommodate the nickel and the penny, or they are going to have to do away with this type of vending machine.

However, I think this bill is bad in its practical application because it is going to be too hard on too many of our industries—you might say it is just one industry here and there, they are isolated examples—I heard in the Senate club room the other day about an industry that was chased out of Pennsylvania, about eight or nine years ago, by reason of some untoward legislation which this General Assembly passed, and that industry moved out to California and today has a very flourishing large business. True it is that it was a small little homely industry in Pennsylvania, which Pennsylvania did not appreciate, either in the form of possibilities or management, and we chased them just as far as we could, out to the West Coast. The people of Pennsylvania and the state of Pennsylvania have been the losers by chasing a lot of small industries beyond the borders of our state. So much for the application of the bill.

How about the bill itself; is it a good bill? I like to draw that distinction when I get up on the floor and consider a bill, and I think that this is not a good bill, as is evidenced by the word "destruction," on page 24—the loss or "destruction" of tax stamps or tax crowns. You might say that is a typographical error and maybe what was meant by the framers of this legislation was the word "destruction" instead of "detruction". That may be true for that one particular word, Mr. President and members of the Senate, but there are a great many other incidents in this bill which can not be assigned and dismissed with the words "typographical error." I see on page 13 of this bill that this bill, House Bill 664, makes a criminal violator of anyone who unsuspectingly or otherwise happens to have in his possession, receives or uses any soft drinks to which the stamps or crowns have not been affixed, and it is a serious crime under this bill, as it would impose for the first violation a fine of $100 to $500, or six months imprisonment, or both—the term of imprisonment not to exceed six months—and for the second or subsequent offenses it would impose a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $1,000, or imprisonment for not less than six months, or mandatory prison sentence of not less than six months or more than three years, and I submit, Mr. President, that this is a very serious penalty for a poor unsuspecting individual, who might be one of us who are sitting here as a member of the Senate—we buy a bottle of pop some place and the crown has not been affixed, or the stamp has not been affixed and under this bill we are criminals and we would suffer a very substantial penalty.

The framers and the defenders of this bill might say that on page 30 the penalties are cut down to that of a summary conviction, and I read from that section "except as otherwise provided in this act it shall be unlawful for any person to accept delivery of taxable syrups or bottled soft drinks in containers or bottles upon which stamps or crowns are not affixed . . . such acceptance shall be a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding . . . shall be fined $10", but I would like to point out that the whole paragraph is predicated upon the prefatory remark "except as otherwise provided in this act," and it is otherwise provided in the act, page 13, where it is made a very definite crime, with substantial penalties.

I do not think of a piece of tax legislation such as this except as a discriminatory and selective sales tax on a food commodity; I do not think it is a good piece of legislation when it contains such a very serious criminal aspect within its covers.

Again, on page 24 of this bill I find, speaking about the eight per cent discount for breakage, and so forth, the said discount shall be allowed by the department in lieu of any claim for refund, and so forth, the said discount of eight per cent shall be allowed in lieu of any claim, but when we turn over to page 27 we find that is not so, because section 12, on page 27, contains other provisions concerning refunds, so that the provision on page 24 is in conflict with that contained on page 27.

If some stretch of statuary construction that is not correct, this much certainly is correct—contained in section 12, page 27 are the deleted words, deleted by amendment in this Senate, I believe, the words "unfit for sale" —speaking about the crowns and the stamps that are unfit for sale. Unfit why? Because they have become dirty, they are contaminated, they have been lying around in the warehouse and they are covered with grease or some other noxious substance? That was a good provision, it seems to me, covering caps and stamps which were unfit for sale, unfit for use, but now that provision has been taken out. If a bottler, a distributor, the man transporting, or in whatever category a man interested in soft drinks is concerned, if he has these contaminated, dirty, unfit for sale and for use stamps and crowns, he still must use them because he can not get his breakage allowance out of them.

On page 3 of the bill I find something that certainly is worthy of comment. As the bill was originally drafted the definition of syrup was that substance which was used in the soft drink industry—and that definition is my own wording but it was substantially that—but now we have resorted to some technical words "practically and commercially usable." Let us think what that means. If it can be used—no matter if it is used or not—if it can be used for soft drinks, then it is taxable.

Contained in the provisions of that paragraph are the words "simple syrup." How many of you Senators know what simple syrup is—well, we have three or four of us here who know that it is a syrup that is made of sugar and water, and there are two groups of people who know how to use it—there is the housewife that uses it when she makes simple syrup, when she wants to make cake icing or confections of that sort, and under the terms of this bill that simple syrup in the hands of that housewife is taxable, and if you say it is not I will ask you to show me in the bill where it is not. It is taxed under the provisions of the bill and there is no exemption for the housewife.

There is an even more important user of simple syrup, and that is the Pennsylvania bee keeper. Pennsylvania bee keepers are a very important part of our industrial and agricultural life in Pennsylvania. A bee keeper, when one of his apiaries has gone through a winter such as we have just gone through, when we had bee flying weather in every month of the winter, season and when, by reason of their activity, their stores have been used up, the bee keeper in the spring of the year, in order to replenish the food stock of his hives, must make simple syrup, sugar and water, and feed it to the bees, in order to tide them over from the end of winter until the blossom season comes along. We need those bee keepers and the little bees they raise for us and our welfare, because without them we can not get our cereals and grains, we can not get our fruits and many of our vegetables. They are a necessary and integral part of our life in Pennsylvania and we are going to put a tax on simple syrup used by our bee keepers. That is a big industry in Pennsylvania, it is not a matter to be taken lightly, and we are going to tax them for the simple syrup those bees are fed.

We have got something else in this bill that ought to be pointed out. We are going to tax the railroads and the Greyhound Bus Lines, we are going to tax everybody that transports this syrup and the bottled goods and soft drinks, because on pages 30 and 31 we read—and I am eliminating some words for brevity—any manufacturer, bottler, distributor or other person who is not a holder of a permit as required by this act and engages in the preparation and transportation of simple syrup—that is your housewife, poor old lady—or transportation of syrup or bottled goods, shall be guilty of a violation, so that we are going to make our Pennsylvania Railroad and our Philadelphia and Reading and all of our transportation lines, we are going to make them take out permits to transport—that is the wording of the bill and I am not making it up—syrup and soft drinks and bottled good, everybody must have permits—that is what that means. When I say everybody, that means the little fellow who has a cigar store and he has a case of soft drinks back of the counter; it means the little fellow that has a grocery store and he sells staple commodities to people in the neighborhood and, to accommodate the children and some grown-ups, he has a few soft drinks on hand, and all such little neighborhood institutions must come up to Harrisburg and take out their permits in order to sell a case of bottled goods once a week.

I might prolong this by pointing out many other bad features in this bill, but I will conclude by saying I certainly, for one, must vote against it.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I only want to talk one minute on this bill. I presume Mr. Tallman is still majority leader and to my mind he is the fellow who gave the greatest argument against this bill that has been given, and when I say that I do not like to detract from my colleagues who have made some wonderful presentations, but Mr. Tallman said in his discussion that very shortly now South Carolina will have the same number of bottlers they had twenty years ago, when their bill was enacted. In other words, it has taken them twenty years to get back to the situation as it was before this tax was enacted.

Furthermore, I want to tell Mr. Tallman that the reason for some of these bottlers coming in, the reason some of these bottling plants have been opened, was because of the many army camps that were there and naturally many of those young men used these soft drinks and, secondly, these people who are waiting to open their plants, some of them are veterans. Of those fourteen I know twelve of them have secured their loans from the G. I. Bill of Rights in order to go in this business, and so I ask the gentlemen on the other side to go along with Mr. Tallman, who has given the greatest argument against this bill, and vote against this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 666, as follows:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" postponing the manufacturing exemption with regard to capital stock tax and the franchise tax on domestic and foreign corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships and companies

Section 1 Section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as last amended by the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 606) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class nonprofit corporation and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon ach dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section Provided That the tax of five mills imposed by this subsection on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven and one thousand nine hundred forty-eight or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven and one thousand nine hundred forty-eight shall apply to the taxation of capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors provided further that after said two year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes not exclusively engaged in manufacturing in this Commonwealth and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal parts each om which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the State but performed in the State the gross receipts under such contract shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such conract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred hereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayr for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills imposed by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven and one thousand nine hundred forty-eight and for fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven and one thousand nine hundred forty-eight shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions tangible property actually and exclusively used in manufacturing compensation of employes exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross receipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

After said two year period the provisions of this subsection shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. DEMECH and SCANLON. Resolution No. 47.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1947.

Whereas, The Animal Trap Company of Lititz, Pennsylvania, has a virtual monopoly of trap manufacturing in America; employs about two hundred fifty employes and it is estimated it earned over three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000); and

Whereas, Low wage scale and substandard working conditions which prevailed for a long period of time resulted in a spontaneous strike last fall, subsequent to which the National Labor Relations Board conducted an election. The election was won by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, which is now the certified bargaining agent; and

Whereas, The strike was finally settled the wage scale is still very low and the working conditions are substandard to a deplorable degree and a legislative investigation may bring about a new wage plan and better working conditions and be used as a model plan for improving employer-employe relationships, therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the House of Representatives be appointed by the Speaker to investigate the Animal Trap Company in connection with wage scales, general working conditions and general labor-management problems, so that, the said committee shall be in a position to present a complete report on the best methods of solving labor-management problems by legislative action; the said committee to make its report to the House of Representatives within thirty days of their appointment.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGES

PALESTINE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 5, 1947.

Whereas, The problem of Palestine has been placed before the United Nations Assembly at the request of the mandatory power, the British government; and

Whereas, The matter of pressing solutions to immediately urgent problems such as immigration and land purchases may be prolonged or postponed subject to the appointment of a committee or commission of inquiry; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concurs) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania petitions the President of the United States to instruct its representative in the United Nations Assembly to implement the following objectives: First, the representation of the Jewish Agency for Palestine in the deliberations of the United Nations. Secondly, immediate revocation of the illegal restrictions of Jewish immigration and Jewish land purchase in the Jewish National Home—as interim measures pending final United Nations recommendations. Thirdly, United States initiative within the United Nations to achieve the Palestine program it has publicly indorsed.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

AMENDED SENATE BILL NONCONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has nonconcurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

NAYS—0

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 37, entitled:

An Act defining and providing for the licensing and regulation of private schools; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there will probably be various amendments proposed to House Bill No. 1170. If those who have amendments in mind would let us have copies of the amendments it might save time, because we might want to caucus on the amendments. If the amendments are simply proposed on the floor and we have no advance notice we might have to ask permission to take time out to caucus, whereas if those who have the amendments will let us have copies then we can caucus without taking any time of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SORG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the Minority Leader refers to copies of proposed amendments for himself and also for the Majority Leader. So that there may be no misunderstanding, I should also appreciate any copies that might be presented.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consieration of House Bill No. 1225, entitled:

An Act to further amend the fifth paragraph of section four hundred seven of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by further providing for the terms of legislative members of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is happy to welcome a class of the Reedsville Junior School, under the direction of Mrs. Herman Fisher. They are the guests of the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Price.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1020, Printer's No. 359, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section seven hundred and six and Clause (h) of section nine hundred and three of the act aproved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905) entitled "Motor Vehicle Code" by increasing the annual registration fees of certain trailers and semi-trailers and fixing the maximum gross weight of truck tractors in combination with semi-trailers having two axles was defeated on final passage Monday, April 28th, be reconsidered.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I feel that this bill had a very fair trial and I am opposed to any reconsideration whatsoever at this time. I ask for a roll call.

Mr. WORLEY. I second the request for a roll call, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it has been my misfortune or fortune to be mostly the underdog side in this House, and so I have developed a happy sympathy for the person who has been defeated. I have always made it a policy, whether it was a Democratic bill or whether it was a Republican bill to give those interested in the bills a second chance if they thought they had a fighting chance. I am indeed surprised that there should be opposition to the idea of reconsidering a bill that has back of it a very substantial amount of sentiment in this House.

I have always made it a principle to vote to reconsider, even when I was opposed to the measure.

Mr. W. J. REILLY. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to you in this regard, first of all the original bill calls for 45,000 lbs. tonnage in other words, and this is an increase of 62,000, is that correct?

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman interrogating the Chair?

Mr. W. J. REILLY. Well, nevertheless, Mr. Speaker, I am definitely opposed to any reconsideration.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Erb and Mr. Worley and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 207, as follows:

An Act to authorize cities boroughs incorporated towns townships and school districts to file suggestions of nonpayment and averments of default or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments

Section 1 Whenever any city borough incorporated township or school district has heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county any tax or municipal claim and the city borough incorporated town or township or school district has not within the period of five (5) years after the date on which any such claim was filed sued out a writ or scire facias to reduce the same to judgment or in the case of a tax or municipal claim has not within said period of five (5) years filed a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default or whenever any writ of scire facias has been issued or reduce any such claim to judgment and by reason of defense or any other court proceedings judgment has not been entered within the period of five (5) years after the date on which such writ was issued or whenever any such tax or municipal claim has been reduced to judgment and the city borough incorporated town township or school district has not within the period of five (5) years after the date on which such judgment was entered or within five (5) years after the date on which such judgment was last revived filed a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default or sued out a writ of scire facias to revive the same then in any such case any such city borough incorporated town township or school district may within six (6) months after the passage and approval of this act issue its praecipe for a writ of scire facias on any such tax or municipal claim and proceed to judgment in the manner provided by law to obtain judgments upon tax or municipal claims or in case a not been reduced to judgment within five (5) years from the date of issuance issue its praecipe for an alias writ of scire facias on any such tax or municipal claim and proceed to judgment in the manner provided by law to obtain judgments upon tax or municipal claims or in the case of a tax or municipal claim where no judgment has been entered file a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default or in case judgment has been entered on a tax or municipal claim either file a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default or issue its praecipe for a writ of scire facias on any such judgment and proceed to judgment in the manner provided by law to obtain judgments of revival and such claim or judgment so entered or revived shall be a valid claim or judgment and be a lien upon the real estate upon which it was a lien at the time the claim was filed or the judgment was entered and said claim or judgment may be revived or further revived and collected as other claims or judgments upon tax or municipal claims are revived and collected. Provided however That the lien of any such claim or judgment shall not reattach against any real estate transferred to any purchaser during the time when the lien of any such tax xor municipal claim or judgment was lost nor shall the lien of any such claim or judgment impair or affect the priority of the lien of any mortgage or other lien which gained priority because of the failure of the city borough incorporated town township or school district to sue out the writ of scire facias or file a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default within the five (5) year period or was entered of record during the time the lien of such tax or municipal claim or judgment was lost

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 651, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four thousand three hundred four of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating theerto" by providing that the right to participate in the police pension fund after having been established shall not be forfeited

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section four thousand three hundred four of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred forty three (P. L. 89) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4304 Causes for Forfeiture of Rights in Fund Whenever any person shall become entitled to receive an allowance from the police pension fund and shall have been admitted to participate therein he shall not be deprived of his right to an equal and proportionate participatin therein upon the basis upon which he first became entitled thereto [save from one or more of the following causes that is to say Conviction of a crime or misdemeanor becoming an habitual drunkard or failing to comply with some general regulation relating to the management of said fun which may be made by ordinance and which may provide that a failure to comply therewith shall terminate the right to participate in the pension fund after such due notice and hearing as shall be prescribed by ordinance]

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LAYER. I rise, Mr. Speaker, in opposition to this bill.

I understand after reading this bill that if a member of the police force were to commit a crime such as murder or any other felony and was convicted he would still receive the benefits of the pension fund. We can take our national services, military services, navy services, and if someone is convicted of a crime he loses all rights and privileges thereto. The law as it stands today takes care of that. I am quoting from line 13, that is to say "conviction of a crime or misdemeanor, becoming a habitual drunkard or failing to comply with some general regulation relating to the management of said fund . . ." That part starting at line 13 is being eliminated from the present law. I think that is entirely wrong, Mr. Speaker. I think that if a man does commit a crime and some other things that it says here in the law, that he should not receive the benefits that all the other men that have lived a decent and clean life in the same organization are entitled to.

This means if this bill is passed, that if someone goes way off the beam and gets himself in trouble he will receive the same benefits and privileges that the majority of our men in the same profession receive. I ask the Members to vote this bill down.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman that just preceded me here has made some wrong statements in regard to this bill.

This bill only gives a little bit of protection to the police force in varius sections of the Commonwealth. For instance, if a policeman now is seen coming out of a saloon they can put him into the status of drinking on duty and he is removed and deprived of the benefits that he is entitled to due to the years of his service. It is not upholding any serious crime, and no pension committee and no city ordinance can uphold that, which is ridiculous in one sense of the word. It only protects him from the standpoint of trying to remove him from his job and place somebody else in it. In other words we might say some little politics connected with some such procedure as this. I might say for instance in some cities, in some police departments, it might be applied to such incidents as having an automobile accident, and trying to make out that he was under the influence of liquor at the time the accident happened. In other words this really gives him some protection, inasmuch as he has contributed to this fund he is entitled to his rightful protection. However, if he has committed murder or some crime he must pay the penalty and he is not going to be protected in any particular way. He must answer to the charge he is accused of, and I don't see anything wrong with this bill. I ask the support of the Members for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is Printer's No. 540 the correct number for this bill?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. And is all that is in this bill contained in lines eight to thirteen on page two?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is that all there is in that bill, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. There is a very pronounced difference between pension funds which policemen are entitled to receive and privileges that might be given to men in the armed service. The contributor to a pension fund has created an estate to which he is entitled by reason of his contribution. He has placed the money in there, and it belongs to him. The money in the pension fund that he has contributed is as much his as is his home, or any other equity. To say that by reason of any offense a man should be denied the equities which his own personal contribution has created is to fly in the face of all of the law that we have written upon our statute books, even though the man was a murderer. In the event that widows participate in the pension allotments the money will properly go to the widow. Some pension funds provide that widows share in the fund, some do not, but if the man was a murderer and he were hung, he couldn't get the fund. If under the indentures of the pension act, widows were entitled to share in the pension fund, you cannot legally or properly deny them that right, so I believe the principles expressed in this bill are sound law.

Mr. LAYER. Mr. Speaker, I am heartily in agreement with the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that the men should receive the amount of money paid into the pension fund, but if I understand correctly, and from the information I have received the amount of money each particular member of the police force paid into the fund is possibly two or three percent, and in the majority of the cases I understand that the money would approximately last for one year after the man's retirement on pension. I am heartily in agreement that the individual pensioner should receive that share of it back, but there are other monies contributed to the pension fund from other people than himself, and when a man commits a crime against society he is not entiled to a pension from society, and again I ask that the bill be voted down.

Mr. EFENBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Layer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAYER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EFENBERG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman made reference to the supposition that if the pensioner would commit a murder, and in the event that he was jailed, would he directly suffer from the cutting off of the pension or would his wife?

Mr LAYER. Mr. Speaker, I don't think the wife is in question here at all. The wife doesn't get that pension. However, he would continue to support his wife if he were in jail.

Mr. EFENBERG. Does the gentleman mean to say that the pension would support his wife.

Mr. LAYER. I do not believe, Mr. Speaker, that the pension was ever created with that idea in mind.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 759, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-thre (P. L. 492) entitled "An act providing for the temporary appointment of policemen in boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class for a limited period without conferring civil service status upon the appointees" permitting the conferring of civil service status on appointees in certain cases

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the tewnty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 492) entitled "An act providing for the temporary apointment of policemen in boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class for a limited period without conferring civil service status upon the appointees" is hereby to read as follows:

Section 1 That the councils of boroughs incorporated towns and the township commissioners of townships of the first class may fill vacancies or add to the police force during the duration of the war and six months thereafter without regard to the requirements of any civil service act such appointments to terminate six months after the end of the war or sooner if the men displaced are avaliable and request reinstatement (in which case they shall be so reinstated) for duty and shall confer no civil service status upon the appointees except as hereinafter specified

Anyone appointed to fill a vacancy or added to the police force as above provided who has served more than one year under said appointment and the municipality desires to continue his employment and the man displaced is not available or does not request reinstatement for duty shall be eligible for permanent appointment and shall be entitled to all the benefits of the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 84)

Nothing in this act shall nullify or disturb the civil service status conferred upon police officers appointed prior to the passage of this act through the operation of the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 84)

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 771, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (P. L. 21) entitled "An act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth" making further provision for such standard of time and providing for a referendum to decide upon the one hour advancement of the standard time between the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of September of each year

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (P. L. 21) entitled "An act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth" as last amended by the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 129) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That on and after the first day of July Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven the mean solar time of the seventy-fifth meridian of longitude west of Greenwich commonly called eastern standard time shall be the sole and uniform legal standard of time throughout this Commonwealth and on and after the date aforesaid all days shall everywhere be taken to begin and end in accordance with said standard and every mention of or reference to any hour or time in any and all existing future acts of Assembly municipal ordinances and corporate by-laws in any and all existing or future rules or regulations adopted by any public officer or official board in any and all rules of the courts of the Commonwealth or any of them whether standing or special and whether now in force or hereafter to be promulgated in any and all orders judgments and decrees of said courts or any of them and judgments and sentences of magistrates pronounced or entered on or after the date aforesaid in any and al contracts deeds wills and notices and in the transactior of all matters of business public legal commercial or otherwise shall be construed with reference to and in accordance with the said standard hereby adopted unless a different standard is therein expressly provided for Provided however That this act shall not operate to impose upon any person any forfeiture of rights or subject him to the consequences of any default by reason of any failure occuring prior to the date aforesaid to comply with the requirement of or do any act under or in pursuance of any law ordinance contract notice deed will regulation rule order judgment sentence or decree if such person shall before the said date have properly done the act or acts which would be requisite to save such forfeiture or prevent such default had this law not been enacted And provided further That when the standard time shall be advanced for any portion of the year by any act of Congress now in force or hereafter passed the time so fixed by such act of Congress shall be the standard time of this Commonwealth for such portion of the year [And provided That no] if a majority of the electors voting in the referendum provided for by this act are in favor of the one hour advancement of standard time within the Commonwealth between the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of September of each year the Governor shall issue a proclamation making the time so advanced the standard time of this Commonwealth for such portion of the year and making any other time illegal but if a majority of the electors voting in the referendum are not in favor of the one hour advancement in standard time between the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of September of each year the Governor shall issue a proclamation stating that such advancement of time shall be illegal and no county city borough town township or other municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth shall by ordinance resolution or rule adopt a different standard of time for any year or any portion of the year than that herein provided and all ordinances resolutions and rules heretofore adopted contrary to this [proviso] section are declared to be void and [of no effect] unlawful

Section 2 At the municipal election to be held in the year one thousand nine hundred forty-seven there shall be submitted by ballot or voting machine in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth a question to determine the will of the electors of the Commonwealth at large with respect to a one hour advancement of the standard time within this Commonwealth between the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of September of each year such question shall be in the following form

Do you favor the advancement by one hour of standard time within this Commonwealth between the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of September of each year	Yes NO

Section 2 The question shall be printed on the official ballots used in such municipal election by the county boards of elections of each county in districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of such machines

The votes cast on such question shall be canvassed computed and returns thereof made to the county board of elections as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth

The county boards of elections shall certify the result of such returns to the secretary of the Commonwealth who shall make a report of the results of such election to the Governor

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STONIER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate he gentleman from Adams Mr. Worley.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill go over n order.

Mr. STONIER. Mr. Speaker, I object to having the bill o over in order. I would like to have the gentleman rom Adams explain it to me a little bit.

The SPEAKER. There is objection to the bill going ver in order.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, there have been several ther bills that have gone over in order, and I asked the Chair to have this bill go over in order before it was read. don't see why it cannot go over in order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Adams that that requires unanimous consent. The Chair heard objection.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from "Lancaster" Mr. Tittle.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to poke a couple f questions at the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the gentleman wishes to interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

Mr. TITTLE. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Adams Mr. Worley permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WORLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker, what will House Bill No. 771, Printer's No. 502, do to my ancestors?

Mr. WORLEY. I cannot answer that question, Mr. Speaker, seeing that they are dead for a long time.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will tate it.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, there is some kind of a aker in this House with his hat on.

The SPEAKER. The Chair fails to see any hat. He ears a bell ringing.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker. I further wish to poke uestions at the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TITTLE. If this bill passes who will notify the ows so that they will not be confused?

Mr. WORLEY. Will the gentleman please repeat the uestion?

Mr. TITTLE. I reiterate, Mr. Speaker, if the bill passes vho will notify the cows, so that they will not be confused?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I still cannot hear the entleman.

Mr. TITTLE. I will try to make it louder, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WORLEY. I cannot hear the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, here is so much noise in the House.

Mr. TITTLE. Now that the House is in order, Mr. Speaker, if this passes who will notify the cows so that hey will not be confused? Will the sponsor of the bill lo that?

Mr. WORLEY. I would think, Mr. Speaker, that it vould be whoever owns the cows.

Mr. TITTLE. I further wish to poke another question at he sponsor, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TITTLE. If this bill passes will the House meet at the same time as the Senate or will it not meet at all?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, my answer to the gentleman is that I am reliably informed that the Senate is now operating on daylight time and that we here in the House are on the right or standard time, an illustration of the confusion that exists throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, right here in the Legislature itself.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is becoming confused, and would now ask if this bill passes will the House then meet on Worley time?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would state that the Chair will more likely have to meet on Lichtenwalter's time, since he controls the House.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman, and if I would go on record it would be as voting against the bill.

Mr. C. M. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement in regard to the bill because I do not believe that the gentleman from Adams realizes how serious a bill this is.

As our good friend, the Minority Leader, often says the city slickers are trying to out-slick the hicks from the sticks, and with this bill asking for a referendum on daylight saving time at the municipal election, certainly the cities or the large municipalities where our votes are mostly all cornered would be definitely outvoting the country members. We from Philadelphia at least certainly do not want to tell the country members what kind of time they shall have, and I am sure that the gentlemen from the rest of the municipalities do not want to tell the country members what kind of time they will have. We are certainly for the local option bill and I want to just make the gentleman from Adams realize that in two years from now when he comes back, or comes up for election, his constituents will say to him "You let those city slickers outslick you. We got daylight saving time and we don't want it." I personally feel that you are a very good friend and I certainly want you to come back, so I think you would be a little better off to vote "no" on this bill yourself.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state the purpose of this bill. This bill does not vote in nor does it vote out day-light savings time, nor does it vote in or vote out standard time. It carries no penalty. It lets all the people of Pennsylvania decide at the November election whether this state shall have day-light time or standard time and ends the state wide confusion.

After the vote by the people the Governor then has the authority under the act to issue a proclamation in accordance with the will of the people. This is letting the people rule and is a form of direct democracy. Now, I know that there is some opposition to this bill, but it comes from a very small group. It comes largely from the Chamber of Commerce. The persons who are opposed to this bill are simply saying that they are afraid of the vote of the people and afraid of direct democracy. I do not see how as Members representing the people of this Commonwealth we can deny them this sovereign privilege of a referendum.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from "Lancaster," Mr. Tittle.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might say that the gentleman does not need counsel when he interrogates. The Chair might also state that the gentleman certainly got a quick shave.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, that was the question that I wanted to ask the gentleman: how does he change himself so quickly, and where does he get the long flowing beard that can be put on and taken off with such ease? That was the question, Mr. Speaker: you anticipated me.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker, I got the costume from the museum; they took it off one dummy and put it on another one.

Mr. STONIER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Adams Mr. Worley again.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Adams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WORLEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STONIER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman said that after they had an election he would have the governor issue a proclamation. I would like to know how long that governor's proclamation would be good for, whether it would be good for one year, the governor's term or forever.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I took that matter up with the Legislative Reference Bureau, and I am informed by them that the referendum once voted on and the proclamation then issued by the governor in accordance with the vote of the people, it will last until the legislature changes the law.

Now when we think of the local option laws I think there is something there providing for every five years, but that is because the act says so. We had thought of putting something like that in this act, but the reason that we didn't was because we thought that if the Legislature at a later session ever felt that it should be changed, it should be submitted again to the people. The sole purpose of this bill is to end the state-wide confusion which is causing an enormous lot of trouble to all the rural people of this Commonwealth, as well as many of the city people.

Mr. STONIER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his very clear information.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I have been confused on this piece of legislation, and I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Adams for just one question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Adams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WORLEY. I think I can stand another one, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Worley, in discussing this bill with the Members it seems that the complaint is from the farmers, that they have to cut the hay, that is, the hay that they cut today, by tomorrow the dew on that hay would keep it in such a condition that you are not able to put it in the barn. Now, Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman claim that the bill arranges with the sun to come two hours earlier? Is that true or not?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, about the matter of two hours earlier, I can't control the sun, but I would like in further explanation of my answer to say to the gentleman that it is an old political trick to interrogate the sponsor and finally vote against his bill, but I hope that the Members have got that in mind.

Mr. HEWITT. I hope they do too, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I am still confused and I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The sponsor is becoming weary with all this time on his hands. Will the gentleman from Adams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WORLEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CORDIER. Does the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Speaker, contend that this bill will provide for a "vox pop" throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I couldn't hear the gentleman's question.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, my question was, does the gentleman contend that this bill will provide for a "vox pop" throughout the Commonwealth?

The SPEAKER. The Chair might request that the gentleman put his question in writing.

Mr. WORLEY. If the gentleman means by that statement, the voice of the people—

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I didn't know what it meant. I was asking the gentleman.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, it will provide for the voice of the people.

Mr. CORDIER. In the event this bill passes, Mr. Speaker, might the majority of the people of the state decide that we go on standard time, that will provide an extra hour of sleep for those people who are on standard time? Am I correct?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman interested in defeating the bill by delaying it?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I am trying to get a reason for voting for it.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I cannot control how long people sleep.

Mr. CORDIER. Will the gentleman point to the sleeper in this bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman mind repeating the question?

Mr. CORDIER. I have just one more question. As we know one of the most astute and one of the most esteemed Members of this House, one of the best constitutional lawyers in this House is the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, and I have some doubt as to the constitutionality of this bill. I think I saw the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, get up here on several occasions and say there was no "saving clause" in various pieces of legislation brought before us. The gentleman has no time saving clause in this legislation. Will he hold it over until we can be sure to amend it and have a "time saving" clause in it?

Mr. WORLEY. After all this debate, Mr. Speaker, all this interrogation and all this worry I don't see how the gentleman can ask now to have this bill passed over for a day. This bill has been on the calendar for some time.

Mr. CORDIER. I might say, Mr. Speaker, I have heard that many times, but I am still confused.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might say that he feels that the House has been amply enlightened on this subject.

Mr. CORDIER. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. I will ask the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, if he wishes to have the bill go over or to have a roll call at this time.

Mr. WORLEY. I have risen for a purpose, Mr. Speaker, and I should like to see it go through to a vote. I hope the Members here will vote for this bill, because they are turning over to the people of Pennsylvania a proper privilege which they need, and I am sure the people of Pennsylvania would be glad to have this privilege.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that if he desires to have the bill go over in order, the Chair is quite confident that that privilege will be granted him. If the gentleman desires a roll call at this time we will have a roll call.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 146, Printer's No. 506 on page 3 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 146, entitled:

An Act to add subsection (d) to section twelve of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 252) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt and frewed beverages as herein defined providing for the licensing of the manufacture transportation sale and distribution of such beverages imposing license and permit fees and providing for collection and distribution thereof restricting ownership and interest in licensed places permitting municipalities and townships by vote of the electors to prevent the licensing therein of places where such beverages may be sold for consumption on the premises and regulating elections for the purpose imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board quarter sessions courts district attorneys the Department of Justice proper authorities of political subdivisions of the State and election officers providing penalties and repealing existing acts" limiting the number of distributors' and importing distributors' licenses to be issued

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WATERHOUSE offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 3, lines 12, 13 and 14 by striking out "but at least two such licenses may be granted in each county of the Commonwealth, notwithstanding that the quota has been reached," and instead, insert therein, "except where the total population of a county does not exceed 80,000 inhabitants, that there be allowed four distributors' licenses."

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 17, by striking out the word "one" and inserting therein the word, "two."

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 19, by adding "this shall apply to those counties having 80,000 or less inhabitants."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield?

Mr. O'DONNELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Erie be willing to pass this matter over for today.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I really can see no reason for delaying any further action on this legislation. The bill has been on the calendar since last week. It was on first reading on Thursday. I did not call the bill up yesterday so that the Members might have time to study it further, and so that any objectionable parts of the bill could be removed by any amendments that I offered. I would like to have the bill called up and passed on second reading today. I can see no merit in further delaying the bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Donnell.

Mr. IMBT. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Clerk read the amendments again more slowly.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will again read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Erie considered the population of Adams County in sponsoring or drawing this bill or the amendments to it?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I have not considered the population of Adams County in particular.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Does the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, know the population of Adams County?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how man D distributors of malt beverages there are in the County of Adams?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I have no knowledge of that.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know the number of importing distributors there are in that county?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the population of any county?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. No, Mr. Speaker, but I can give the gentleman some information on Philadelphia if he would like to have it.

Mr. O'DONNELL. I will come to that in a minute, Mr. Speaker. We will come back to that now. Does the getleman know the population of Philadelphia County?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know hom many D distributors there are in Philadelphia County?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. As of what date, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Any date that the gentleman is familiar with, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. They are increasing very fast, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Let us take the latest date that the gentleman has, Mr. Speaker, the latest number.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, as of May 1, 1947, there were one thousand three hundred ninety-three D distributors; there are four hundred and fifty importing distributors.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Erie where he got his information.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I don't think that that is pertinent to the gentleman.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know if that information agrees with the records of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I know it is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether his information agrees with the records of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. It did as of May 1, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Did the gentleman get that information from the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I obtained the information, Mr. Speaker, from a reliable source.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how many brands of beer are sold in the Philadelphia County?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, there are numerous brands and I imagine practically every brand on the market is there.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know the number of the brands?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I would not know that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Does the gentleman know how many beers are imported from beyond the state lines in Philadelphia?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how many beers are imported into any county?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I am really not a beer drinker and I haven't gone into that matter.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know the number of licenses on May first 1946?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I wouldn't say as to May first, Mr. Speaker, but I know in 1946 there were four hundred more IP's, distributors.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, on what date in 1946?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I am very sorry, but I cannot give the gentleman any particular date.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how much of an increase that represents? It looks like 49 IP's and one hundred and some D licensees. Does the gentleman know how many of them are GI's who have returned back to go into business?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't be able to answer that question because I don't know of any particular license at any particular place.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of information has the gentleman from Erie sought that?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Does the gentleman know the evils to be corrected by this bill?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I certainly do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell us the evils?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I think it is very apparent, as we all know, that there is a limitation on all retail outlets for alcoholic beverages. Every town, every community is regimented very closely as far as licenses go and the method of distribution. During the period from February 27, 1947, until May 1, 1947, in Philadelphia County alone there were approximately 80 new distributors added. This has been a condition which prevails throughout the State. It has developed now that the distribution of malt beverages has become more or less a house to house proposition. You legislate against selling alcoholic beverages to minors and yet you allow this condition to prevail of giving promiscuous licenses to distributors who will peddle at their back doors by the case. As the number of licenses increases the chances of keeping it well policed deceases, and I believe that it is only through an orderly system of licensing and limitation thereon that you will have control of your alcoholic beverages.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, isn't beer considered by the industry as a food and not as an alcoholic drink?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I wouldn't think so, Mr. Speaker. You can get an awful kick out of drinking beer.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know that the industry looks at beer as a food?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. If they do, Mr. Speaker, I never heard of it.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know that there was a beer strike in Pittsburgh that lasted some months?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I am familiar with that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how many D licenses were granted in the County of Allegheny while that strike was in progress.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Yes, they dropped, Mr. Speaker, considerably while the strike was in progress. Would the gentleman like to have the information?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, while the strike was in progress does the gentleman know how much they decreased?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, new licenses in Allegheny County from May 1, 1946 were 101 D's and 9 IP's.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Does the gentleman know in what month they were granted?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. No, Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't know.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether any of them were granted while the strike was in progress?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I would be of the opinion that they were, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman sought that information?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I haven't exactly pinned them down, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman inquired as to the number of GI's who were in that group in Allegheny County?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. No, I did not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how many men in Pennsylvania are presently in the service?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. No, Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't know that.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Is the gentleman from Erie familiar with House Bill 1170?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I know some of the provisions of that bill, Mr. Speaker, although it is not the bill now under consideration.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman read the repeal section?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. No, Mr. Speaker, I have not. I am not really talking on House Bill 1170. We are talking on House Bill 146.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, may I call the gentleman's attention to the fact that on page 202 of the very act that he is endeavoring to amend by this bill, this act is repealed absolutely so that if House Bill 1170 is enacted into law, House Bill 146, even though signed, will fall?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I will take my chances on that.

Mr. O'DONNELL. I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I well realize that the Liquor Control Committee has given this bill and all bills before it their profound study. I know they have gone into the subject thoroughly and that it was a majority vote that turned out House Bill 146 for our consideration. But I submit to you, that as I understand the law, and of course, I will stand corrected if I am wrong, if House Bill 146 is enacted into law, followed subsequently by House Bill 1170, House Bill 146 cannot stand because it is repealed by House Bill 1170.

I, therefore, think, Mr. Speaker, that perhaps this bill should be recommitted to the Liquor Control Committee for proper study. I think much can be done. I am in sympathy with the beer distributors. I know the evil of having a great number of distributors in any county, although I am not in favor of the limitation of licenses. I feel that the Liquor Control Board should not look on licenses as property, although some of them do. It is something that should be regulated. I think that limitation is properly the action of the Liquor Control Board and that we should help them, but I do not think we are helping them in this fashion by passing this bill, House Bill 146.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Liquor Control together with the amendments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Donnell. I think it is true that probably the gentleman knows the beer distributing business, as I understand he has some connections with it. However, knowing the evils and so forth, I can hardly understand why he would be opposed to a bill of this nature, because as I said before this bill certainly is not intended to create any hardship on any distributor or any brewer. The distributors are in accord with this bill, and with the amendments that were offered. The brewers' association has no objection to this bill. They realize that only through an orderly system can we maintain a public sentiment that is at all favorable to the distribution of alcoholic products. We know what happened during the prohibition era, and we naturally do not want to go back to that again. If we keep on licensing at the rate we have been to distributors loosely, we will only have a public resentment that will result in more and more dry districts and I know for one that I don't want it. I believe that this is good legislation, and I certainly oppose the motion of the gentleman to recommit.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, may I briefly answer the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse? I humbly say that all limitations are unAmerican. I think to limit the licenses at this time while we have so many boys in service, the exact number of which I do not know, is depriving them of the opportunity of going into a legitimate business upon their return to civil life.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am very much interested in this motion to recommit. I am very much interested in the bill. I am interested in the situation that is confronting this House. We have a proposition to declare a closed shop as far as beer distributors are concerned. I am very interested in that phase of the subject as to whether or not this House is for the closed shop principle as far as beer distributors are concerned, and is for the open shop principle as far as clubs are concerned. I would suggest that if the gentleman desires to recommit, he is on the trail of some of the fundamental differences in the decisions that this House can make because the Liquor Control Board has unfortunately been riding several different horses in several different directions at the same time. If it does not want to spill itself in its velocity, I think it would be well to recommit the gentleman's bill to committee until there has been a decision as to the fundamental policy, because as the gentleman from Philadelphia says, the effect of the vote upon the gentleman's bill is very significant. So, I would suggest that this bill go back to committee until the Liquor Control Committee can unscramble its velocity.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 542, Printer's No. 534, entitled:

An Act creating as bodies corporate and politic "Parking Authorities" in cities of the second class; prescribing the rights, powers and duties of such authorities; authorizing such authorities to acquire, construct, improve, maintain and operate parking projects; to conduct research of the parking problem and to establish a permanent coordinated system of parking facilities and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor; providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof; conferring the right of eminent domain on such authorities; empowering such authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government, State political subdivisions of the State, or any agency thereof; exempting the property and securities of such parking authorities from taxation and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates.

was defeated in final passage, May 5, 1947 be reconsidered.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to state in connection with this motion to reconsider that I have joined with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, for two reasons. It has to recommend it, in addition to the fact that a bill once defeated on final passage might well be given a second chance, as the gentleman from Cambria has said earlier this afternoon so aptly, but also I understand that if the motion prevails there will immediately be presented a motion to place the bill on the postponed calendar so that it might be amended to conform with the wishes and the views of the Members of the House who originally voted against this measure.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Elk, the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogted?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman to say one of the reasons why he joined the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, in asking for reconsideration of this measure, was that he had been informed that the bill would be amended to meet the objections of those who voted against it? I understood the gentleman to say that. Now, I may not be quite clear. Is that what the gentleman said, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I said that a motion would be submitted to place the bill on the final passage postponed calendar for that purpose.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, just so that I might be clear, is it the understanding of the gentleman from Elk that the amendments that he speaks of, which the opponents of the bill want, have been agreed upon by anyone?

Mr. SORG. That is not my understanding, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of the record I would like it to be known that it was not my intention when I made this motion that there was any agreement entered into by anybody as far as the amendments were concerned. I feel that this bill is of such vital importance to Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh that every opportunity should be given to the proponents, the sponsors of the measure, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richter, and also the opponents of the bill, to sit down over the week-end and try to work out some form of equitable legislation which will meet with the approval of the membership of this House so that we in Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh will be given much needed relief by proper legislation.

FORMER MEMBERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes a former Member of the House from Elk County, the Hon. Clifford M. Wood, who is present in the Hall of the House. The Chair is very happy to have the gentleman present.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is also happy to welcome another former Member of the House from Washington County, Mr. Peter Elish.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 869, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-five of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 1311) entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Industrial Home for Women authorizing the purchase of a site and the erection thereon and equipment of necessary buildings providing for the commitment to said State Industrial Home for Women of females between the ages of sixteen and thirty years convicted of or pleading guilty to the commission of any criminal offense and providing for the government and management of said institution and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes of this act" providing for payment of certain salaries by the State without including the same in computing cost of maintaining inmates

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mrs. McCOSKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 892, as follows:

An Act to add section four hundred eleven point one to the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (1933-34 P. L. 15) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penaltiees" relating to the capacity and deceptive appearance of glasses and other containers used for sale of liquor for consumption on the premises

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (1933-34 P. L. 15) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State Government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penalties" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section four hundred eleven thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 411.1 Containers Capacity Use and Possession Penalty (a) No unmixed whiskey unmixed gin or unmixed rum shall be sold or offered for sale at retail for consumption on the premises except in a glass or other container having a capacity of one fluid ounce minimum or multiples of one-half ounce in excess thereof Provided That a variation of not more than one-eighth fluid ounce above or below the capacity of any such glass or container shall be allowed The provisions of this section shall not prohibit the esale of any unmixed whiskey unmixed gin or unmixed rum by vessels or railroad cars licensed for consumption on the premises of liquor under the provisions of this act in glasses or containers regularly used and having a different fluid capacity

(b) No person or persons licensed to sell liquor at retail for consumption on the premises shall be used in such sales or possess on such premises any glass or other container so constructed as to be deceptive in appearance or to mislead the consumer as to its true capacity The board shall adopt and promulgate rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the provisions of this amendment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 958, Printer's No. 432,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 961, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand five hundred two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1296) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" providing for the furnishing and installation of ornamental standards for street lighting with fittings and underground wiring therefor and the assessment and collection of the cost thereof from property benefited thereby

Section 1 Section one thousand five hundred of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding thereto a new clause to read as follows

Section 1502 The corporate power of a township of the first class shall be vested in the board of township commissioners The board shall have power

XIII.I Ornamental Standards for Street Lighting On the petition of the owners of seventy-five per cent of the lineal feet frontage along any highway or portion thereof in any village within the township to provide for the furnishing and installation of ornamental standards for street lighting with fittings and underground wiring therefor along such highway or the portion thereof affected and to enter into contracts with electric as or other lighting companies to furnish and install such standards with the fittings and wiring therefor

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1010, as follows:

An Act to aid in alleviating the acute housing shortage by authorizing housing authorities to provide housing for veterans and families of servicement and to cooperate with the Federal Government for such purposes

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 It is hereby declared that an acute housing shortage exists in many areas of this State so that families of returning veterans and of servicemen are unable to obtain housing and that returning veterans are being denied their rights to education because of the lack of housing at educational institutions and therefore a public exigency emergency and distress now exists and the providing of housing for such persons constitutes a public use and purpose for which public money should be spent and private property acquired and is a governmental function of State concern

Section 2 Whenever used in this act the term "veterans" shall include any person who has served in the military or naval forces of the United States during World War II and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable "servicemen" shall include any person in the military or naval forces of the United States who served therein during World War II "families of servicemen" shall include the families of persons who died in the armed forces of the United States during World War II "housing authority" shall mean any housing authority established or hereafter established pursuant to any act of assembly "Federal Government" shall mean the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof corporate or otherwise

Section 3 For the purpose of making housing available for veterans and their families or single veterans and for families of servicemen in those areras of the State where sufficient housing accommodations are not available and private enterprise is not providing an adequate supply of housing within the means of such families or persons any housing authority may

(a) acquire real or personal property by purchase gift lease baliment or otherwise and exercise the power of eminent domain for the acquisition of real property

(b) clear and prepare sites on which any such housing is to be located and install streets sidewalks utilities and other necessary facilities

(c) construct or otherwise provide housing or other structures that can be used as dwellings and remove such housing that is of a temporary character after it has served the purposes of this act

(d) operate such housing for the purposes of this act

(e) provide or assist in providing transportation where necessary in order to enable the use of housing where suitable transportation (based on the nature and extent of service and the rates) is not otherwise available.

(f) borrow money and accept grants from the Federal Government the State or from other local agencies or other sources

(g) comply with such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Federal Government in obtaining assistance from it for the purposes of this act and

(h) take such other action as is necessary to carry out the purposes of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1035, as follows:

An Act to amend section forty of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050 entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties" by providing that the surety on the executor or administrator has been appointed shall have the sole right and power to take over the tax duplicates in which said surety is interester and to proceed to make collections thereon in accordance with the provisions of this section

Section 1 Section forty of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L.1050 entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said subdivisions and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 40 Collection of Taxes by Surities of Defaulting or Deceased Collectors (a) When any tax collector shall default in the payment of the taxes charged on the duplicates either by embezzlement negligence or failure to collect such taxes within the time prescribed by this act it shall be lawful for the surety or surieties on his bond to demand from the tax collector the tax duplicates in which said sureties are interested and the tax collector shall turn over to his said sureties such duplicates of the various taxing districts for which he is collector

(b) If the tax collector shall fail neglect or refuse to turn over such duplicates upon demand made by his surety or sureties it shall be lawful for the surety or sureties to present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such tax collector resides setting forth the fact that such collector has defaulted in making collections The court being satisified that such default has been made shall make an order to compel the tax collector to turn over his sureties the tax duplicates upon which the sureties are liable

(b-1) When any tax collector shall have died and no executor or administrator within fifteen (15) days thereafter has been appointed to administer his estate the surety or sureties on his bond shall have the right and power after petitioning the court of common pleas of the county in which such deceased tax collector resided and after the said court has entered an order granting the prayer of the said petition to take over the tax duplicates in which said sureties are interested and to proceed to collect the taxes remaining unpaid such duplicates in accordance with the provisions of this section until such time if any when an executor or administrator of the estate of the deceased tax collector shall be appointed at which time the said surety or sureties shall file an accounting of such collections in the court where the said order was entered and shall pay such undistributed fund to said executor or administrator

(c) The holders of such duplicates shall have the right to appoint a collector for such period of time as herein provided to collect the taxes remaining unpaid upon such duplicates any collector so appointed shall have all the authority and power under the warrant issued to the original collector vested by this act The authorities issuing said warrents may issue an additional warrant to the collector of such delinquent taxes upon request of such sureties

(d) The provisions of any law extending the time or any warrant for the collection of taxes on duplicates shall likewise extend to the collection of taxes on such delinquent tax duplicates

(e) Whenever the surety or sureties on the bond of any defaulting or deceased tax collector shall under the provisions of this section undertake to collect delinquent taxes charged in any duplicate delivered to such defaulting tax collector by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the delinquent or shall distrain on the goods and chattels of any person who shall allege that the taxes with which he stands charged have actually been paid or that such person whose goods and chattels have been distrained upon shall deny liability for such taxes then in either event the taxpayer may petition the court of quarter sessions of the county for a stay of any such sale of goods and chattels distrained upon setting forth the reasons therefor

The court shall have to stay such sale pending a hearing of the matter The court shall have power to fix a day for hearing of which due notice chall be given the surety or sureties of such defaulting or deceased tax collector as the court may prescribe

(f) It the court after hearing shall be of the opinion that a taxpayer has actually paid such taxes or is not liable for the taxes with which he stands charged on the duplicate it shall direct satisfaction to be entered on such duplicate by the surety or sureties

(g) The surety or sureties on the bond of any such defaulting or deceased tax collector or any taxpayer shall have the right upon demand made to have a jury pass upon the question whether or not a taxpaver has paid taxes with which he stands charged and if the jury shall find such taxes have been so paid the court shall direct the surety or sureties to enter satisfaction on the duplicate

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 22.1 Agreements to Secure Federal Contributions In addition to the powers conferred upon an Authority by other provisions of this act an Authority in any contract for annual contributions with the Federal Government may obligate itself (which obligation shall be specifically enforceable and shall not constitute a mortgage notwithstanding any other laws) to convey to the Federal Government the project to which such contract relates upon the occurrence of a substantial default with respect to the covenants or conditions to which the Authority is subject Such contract may further provide that in case of such conveyance the Federal Government may complete operate manage lease convey or otherwise deal with the project in accordance with the terms of such contract Provided That the contract requires that as soon as practicable after the Federal Government is satisfied that all defaults by reason of which it shall have acquired the project have been cured and that the project will thereafter be operated in accordance with the terms of the contract the Federal Government shall reconvey to the Authority the jroject as then constituted

Section 22.2 Housing Research and Studies In addition to all its other powers an Authority may within its field of operation undertake and carry out studies and analysis of the housing needs and of the meeting of such needs (including data with respect to population and family groups and the distribution thereof according to income groups the amount and quality of available housing and its distribution according to rentals and sales prices employment wages and other factors affecting the local housing needs and the meeting thereof) and make the results of such studies and analysis available to the public and the building housing and supply industries and may also engage in research and disseminate information on the subject of housing generally

Section 22.3 Creation of Regional Housing Authorities (a) The governing body of each of two or more contiguous counties may by resolution declare that there is need for one Regional Housing Authority to be created for all of such counties to exercise in such counties powers and other functions prescribed for a Regional Housing Authority if the governing body of each such county finds (1) that insanitary or unsafe inhabited dwelling accommodations or blighted areas exist in such county or there is a shortage of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations in such county available to persons of low income at rentals or prices they can afford and (2) that a Regional Housing Authority would be a more efficient or economical administrative until than the Housing Authority of such county to carry out the purposes of this act in such county In determining whether dwelling accommodations are unsafe or insanitary a governing body may take into consideration the same factors as are elsewhere provided in this act with respect to such determinations by governing bodies in connection with the functioning of Housing Authorities for cities or counties

(b) The governing body of a county shall not adopt any resolution authorized by this section unless a public hearing has first been held The clerk of such county shall give notice of the time place and purpose of the public hearing at least ten days prior to the day on which the hearing is to be held in a newspaper published in such county or if there is no newspaper published in such county then in a newspaper published in the state and having a general circulation in such county Upon the date fixed for such public hearing an opportunity to be heard shall be granted to all residents of such county and to other interested persons

(c) The governing body of each county proposed to be included in a Regional Authority shall appoint one person as a member of such Authority Each such member to be first appointed by the governing body may be appointed at or after the time of the adoption of the resolution declaring the need for such Authority The governing body of each county shall appoint the successors of the member appointed by it The members of a Regional Authority shall be appointed for terms of five years except that all vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired terms A member thereof may be removed by the body which appointed him for the same causes and in the same manner as is provided in this act with respect to the removal of members of an Authority for a city

(d) After the appointment of the members of a Regional Authority in accordance with the foregoing provisions said members shall present to the Department of State an application signed by them which shall set forth (without any deail other than the mere recital) (1) the counties proposed to be included in the Regional Authority (2) that notice has been given and public hearings have been held as aforesaid (3) that the governing body of each of the counties has made the findings and determination as aforesaid and appointed the applicants as members of the Regional Authority (4) the name and official residence of each such member (5) the name which is proposed for the Regional Authority and (6) the location of its principal office The application shall have attached thereto a certified copy of the appointment of each of the members of such Regional Authority and shall be subscribed and sworn to by each of said members before an officer authorized by law to take and certify oaths who shall certify upon the application that he personally knows such members and knows them to be the officers as asserted in the application and that each subscribed and swore (or affirmed) thereto in the officers presence The application shall be examined by the Department of State and if it is found that the name proposed for the Regional Authority is not identical with that of a person or any corporation or other public body of the State or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty the Department of State shall receive and file it and shall record it in an appropriate book of record in such department Upon such filing and recording of the application the Regional Authority shall constitute a separate and distinct public body corporate and politic under the named proposed in the application authorized to exercise its powers and other functions in the counties included in such Regional Authority in lieu of the Housing Authorities of such respective counties and the Department of State shall make and issue to such Regional Authority a certificate of approval thereof shall record the same with the application and shall file a duplicate thereof with the State Board of Housing

Section 22.4 Field of Operation of Regional Housing Authorities (a) The field of operation of a Regional Authority shall include all of the counties for which such Authority is created Provided That a Regional Authority shall not undertake any project or projects within the boundaries of any city unless a resolution shall have been adopted by the governing body of such city (and by any Housing Authority which shall have been therefore established and authorized to exercise its powers in such city) declaring that there is a need for the Regional Authority to exercise its powers within such a city

(b) The field of operation of a Regional Housing Authority may be increased from time to time to include one or more additional contiguous counties not already within a Regional Authority if the governing body of such additional county or counties by proper resolution makes the findings required by the preceding section and if the counties then included in the field of operation of such Authority and the members of such Authority adopt a resolution declaring that the Regional Authority would be a more efficient or economical administrative unit to carry out the purpose of this act in case the field of operation of the Regional Authority were increased to include such additional county or counties Provided That neither the government body of any county proposed to be added to a Regional Authority nor neither of the governing bodies of the counties then included in such Regional Authority shall adopt such a resolution until a public hearing has been held in each such county pursuant to notice published in the manner hereinbefore provided for notice of public hearing in connection with the creation of a Regional Authority And provided further That no such additional county shall become part of a Regional Authority until an application for such extension of the field of operation of the Regional Authority has been submitted to filed and recorded by the Department of State which application shall be subscribed and sworn to in the manner prescribed in the preceding section by each of the members of such Authority and the member appointed from such additional county and shall set forth (1) that notice has been given and public hearings have been held as required herein and (2) that the governing body of each of the counties included and proposed to be included in the Regional Authority and the members of the Regional Authority have made the required findings and determination and which application shall have attached thereto a certified copy of the appointment of the member from such additional county Upon receipt of such application the Department of State shall examine file and record it in the manner provided for the filing and recording of an application for the creation of a Regional Authority and issue to the Regional Authority a certificate of approval thereof and thereupon such Authority shall be authorized to exercise its powers and functions in such additional county in lieu of the Housing Authority of such county A duplicate of such certificate of approval shall be filed with the State Board of Housing

Section 22.5 Validity of Regional Housing Authority Organization In any suit action or proceedings involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contrct of a Regional Authority such Authority shall upon proof of the issuance of a certificate of approval of the organization of such Authority by the Department of State be conclusively deemed to have been established in accordance with the provisions of this act A copy of such certificate of approval duly certified by the Department of State shall be admissible as evidence in any suit action or proceedings and shall be conclusive proof of the filing and recordation of the certificate and that the Regional Authority has been properly created

Section 22.6 Powers of Regional Housing Authority (a) The members appointed as aforesaid shall constitute the Regional Authority and the powers of such Authority shall be vested in such members in office from time to time A majority of the members thereof shall constitute a quorum of such Authority for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers and for all other purposes Action may be taken by the Regional Authority upon a vote of a majority of the members present unless in any case the by-laws of the Regional Authority shall require a large number Meetings of the members of such authority may be held anywhere within the perimeter boundaries of the field of operation of such Authority or within any additional area where such Authority is authorized to undertake a project Appointment may be made of any persons as members of the Regional Authority who reside within such boundaries or area and who are otherwise eligible for such appointments under this act The members of a Regional Authority shall elect a chairman and vice-chairman from among the members

(b) Except as otherwise provided herein a Regional Authority and the members thereof shall within the area of operation of such Authority have the same functions rights powers duties privileges immunities and limitations as are provided for Housing Authorities created for cities or counties and for the members of such Housing Authorities and all the provisions of law applicable to Housing Authorities created for cities or counties and the members thereof shall be applicable to Regional Authorities and the members thereof

Section 22.7 Rural Housing (a) It is hereby determined that housing cannot be provided on farms except on the basis of individual applications filed by the owners of such farms The owner of a farm operated or worked upon by a farmer of low income may file an application with the Authority established for that area requesting that it provide a dwelling on the farm for occupancy by that farmer of low income (who may be the farm owner or the person operating or working upon the farm) All applications received shall be examined by an authority in the formulation of its farm housing program

(b) "Farmers of low income" eligible for housing shall be persons or families who at the time of their admission to occupancy in a dwelling of the Authority (1) derive their principal income from operating or working upon a farm (2) whose average net income is less than the amount which is necessary (as determined by the authority undertaking a project) to enable them without financial assistance to obtain or provide themselves with decent safe and sanitary housing

(c) In providing housing outside of cities county and regional housing authorities shall not be subject to the tenant selection limitations provided in section thirteen of this act No dwelling shall be provided on a farm by an Authority unless it has determined that by reason of the character of the farm with respect to which the dwelling is to be constructed and the manner of its operation the farmer is likely successfully to carry out the undertakings required of him under his purchase agreement or lease

(d) An Authority shall have power to sell or rent dwellings outside of cities and to make or accept such conveyances or leases including such convenants regarding the land and dwellings described therein (which shall run with the land if the authority so stipulates) as it deems necessary to carry out the rural housing purposes of this act

(e) Until a purchaser makes full payment for a dwelling which is constructed by an Authority on a farm such dwelling shall continue to be the property of the Authority regardless of the title to the land on which it is constructed and such dwelling shall be exempt from taxation in the same manner as other property of the Authority Any document making land available for use by an Authority shall be admitted to record and accordingly constitute notice in the same manner as a deed or other instrument relating to real estate

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 47, Printer's No. 73

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that buses for the party to be held on Wednesday, May 7th, at the Harrisburg Country Club, will be at the main entrance of the Capitol Building at 5:30 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time. Members who are driving their own cars will drive north on Front Street until they reach the intersection where a State Policeman is stationed to direct them which is about four or five miles north along the river.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. GRIFFITHS from the Committee on Judiciary reported as committed, House Bill No. 522, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight hundred one of the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 289), entitled "An act relating to nonprofit corporations; defining and providing for the organization, merger, consolidation, and dissolution of such corporations; conferring certain rights, powers, duties, and immunities upon them and their officers and members; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers; providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the first class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign nonprofit corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, prothonotaries of such courts, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for service required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations," by allowing the merger and consolidation of domestic and foreign nonprofit corporations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I note with a great deal of interest the recent activity of the Senate, the House and the Governor in reference to eliminating the conditions in our mental institutions. It is a pleasure for me to note that a delegation of State Senators visited the mental hospitals, and that just recently a delegation from the House of Representatives also visited the Hospitals. It further was of great interest to note that in the Governor's message before the Joint Session of the House and Senate, the Governor recommended some positive action in reference to State Hospitals, although the Governor's message had to do mostly with physical conditions at these hospitals. It is also of interest to see that House Bill 1062 was reported out of Committee to permit forming a separate Department of Mental Health.

The conditions in our hospitals have been the most deplorable of any state in the Union. Time after time during the past ten years the plight of the hospitals has been called to the attention of the administration leaders, and nothing positive was done to help them. In most cases the war was given as an excuse although the same conditions did not exist in other states. It remained for the State of Pennsylvania to receive nation wide publicity as to the horrible conditions of its menetal hospitals. Certainly war conditions had something to do with that but as I stated previously, the same conditions did not exist in other states. Request after request from the Democratic State Committee called attention to the plight of our hospitals. Resolutions have been introduced in the past ten years in the House of Representatives to ask for remedial legislation.

A resolution was introduced which showed that conditions at the hospitals were caused by overcrowding, lack of proper sanitation, inadequate personnel, underpaid personnel, failure to properly segregate the various types of mental patients. No action was taken on same.

Ray Sprigle, well known Post-Gazette reporter and Pulitzer Prize winner, in a series of articles in the Post-Gazette drew back the "Iron Curtain" as far as informing the public as to the actual conditions in the various hospitals and the following is an editorial which appeared in the Post-Gazette on Wednesday, February 19, 1947. It was titled "Patients or Inmates" and reads as follows:

"A study of Pennsylvania's 22 mental hospitals, as reported by Ray Sprigle in the Post-Gazette, concludes that the trouble with the hospitals is more administrative than physical.

"The need for more and better buildings is indicated, of course, but physical improvements will count for little without better hospital personnel and a more efficient administrative set-up.

"The state is planning to build $82,000,000 worth of new mental hospital buildings. But that will take 10 years. Mr. Sprigle reports that it will be about two years before the first of these buildings is ready for occupancy.

"Meanwhile, 43,000 mental patients urgently need better care. It can be provided in their present crowded quarters if the state hires enough competent psychiatrists, nurses and attendants.

"Sufficient personnel will be hard to attract unless the state opens its purse strings and competes with the Federal Government in the hospital labor market. Federal salaries now are greater than those paid by Pennsylvania.

"The finest building will be nothing but a madhouse unless it is adequately staffed with trained personnel. The present buildings, with a little patching up, are capable of doing an interim job worthy of the name "hospitals" if they provide the mentally ill with more than just custodial care. Then these people can become patients rather than inmates.

"The Duff administration, pending fulfillment of its building program, should create a Department of Mental Health whose immediate goal would be the strengthening of hospital administration and personnel."

In the last article of Mr. Sprigle, article nine, there appeared some very constructive suggestions, and quoting from this particular article:

"Millions of dollars' worth of magnificent new buildings will not serve to correct the ancient evils that for decades have cursed the administration of the 22 mental hospitals maintained by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"New buildings, new housing, not only for patients but for nurses, attendants and physicians, are desperately needed at every one of the state's mental institutions.

"But new buildings alone will correct only one of the myriad forms of maladministration that besets the state's mental hospital system—the present terrific overcrowding of wards and facilities.

"New buildings are for next year at the earliest. It is likely to be two years at least before a single one of Pennsylvania's mental patients steps into the first of the projected new buildings. And as for $82,000,000 worth of new buildings—that's a 10-year plan. The idea's grand. It's a magnificent plan. Let's get on with it with all possible speed.

Will Be Gaudy Madhouses

"But if Pennsylvania's mental health system is not completely ripped to pieces and an entirely new organization set up in its stead, then all these new buildings will be just a collection of ornate, gaudy and luxurious madhouses.

"Because a madhouse becomes a mental hospital only when it is equipped with an adequate staff of trained, diligent, earnest psychiatrists, sufficient trained nurses and skilled, properly trained attendants, administering the most advanced methods of treatment and care to patients so that a goodly proportion of them are returned to their place in the world—cured. And calling a madhouse a mental hospital doesn't by any stretch of the imagination, make it one.

Matter of Few Hours

"All right—you're going to build a lot of new buildings and it'll take you 10 years to complete your program.

"So what about the next 30 days—the next 60 days—the next 90 days? What could be done as of days. What could be done as of right now to clean up part of the mess that Pennsylvania's mental hospital system has got itself into? What could be done for 43,000 Pennsylvania citizens who are jammed into the crowded wards of its mental institutions through no fault of their own?

"Well, within 24 hours the present Department of Welfare could plan and announce a complete revamping of its staff system and have it begin operation in another 24 hours.

Could Form Teams

"Fix salaries of physicians at from $4,000 to $10,000 a year in CASH money; salaries of nurses from $200 to $250 a month CASH, with training courses that will give them recognized psychiatric ratings.

"Set attendents' salaries at from $130 to $175—all of these salaries with subsistence.

"With organization of adequate staffs of trained psychiatrists in the 22 hospitals, psychiatrist teams similar to surgical teams which functioned on the battlefields might be organized to survey patients in every hospital in the state.

"Thousands who now face long years of confinement could be marked for immediate and intensive treatment. And channeled into the institutions and the wards where they would receive it."

Mr. Sprigle has a lot more suggestions in reference to what can be done immediately for helping all these inmates. Mr. Speaker, we have been derelict in our duties for the past ten years in giving the right type of consideration to these unfortunate individuals. They have no high price lobbyist to work in their favor. It is only by our conscience and our will to do what is right for them that we will be able to give them a program that will be a benefit to the State. Let us make it possible to get immediate entrance to a State hospital by anyone needing it without having to resort to politics or political favors to get admitted. Let us each and everyone resolve that every effort will be made to correct the inequities so far as the hospitals are concerned. Let us follow a philosophy that human rights are greater than property rights. Let us all be proud to proclaim that when it comes to aiding the mentally ill, the physically ill and the disabled, the unfortunate among us, that the great state of Pennsylvania, my state, your state, will rank second to none; that the hands of the state of Pennsylvania will be outstretched to give aid and succor to all who need the same, regardless of race, creed or color.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, prayer was offered by the Senator from Butler, Mr. CARR.

Our Heavenly Father, we feel that in the past few moments we have been in Thy presence, as our thoughts have been directed to those who were once with us and who are now in Thy presence in Thy Heaven and, our Heavenly Father, we are not unmindful of the fact that some day we too shall be called to give account of that which we have done with that which Thou hast given us in this world.

So we ask, our Father, that Thy blessing may rest upon our sisters and their families, and we thank Thee for the many advantages that Thou has given us to be used in the advancement of Thy kingdom in the hearts of men and for the advancement of Thy people here in this part of Thy earth.

Grant, O God, that we may in all things that we say and do glorify Thee. We ask it through Christ, the Redeemer. Amen.

COMMUNICATION

The CHAIR cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication, which was read by the Clerk:

"1530 Locust Street, Philadelphia 2, Pa.

"My Dear Senator Watkins:

"I received your letter of May first with great interest and pleasure informing me that the State Senate was to honor my husband on May seventh at two P. M. I deeply regret that it is absolutely impossible for me to be present as I have an engagement of such long standing and of such a nature that I can not change it. I am responsible for a large Garden Day upon which I have worked since last Fall and feel that I can not be absent when it finally takes place.

"This is a great regret to me as I had always hoped and expected to be present if the Senate should be so gracious as to have a memorial to Mr. Edmonds. It is the only day in the entire session that I could not easily have been present.

"Kindly convey to the Senators my regret and appreciation of their kindness. Mr. Edmonds loved his connection with the Senate and with the individual members and I will look forward to reading what was said at the memorial meeting.

"I will try to come to Harrisburg in a couple of weeks.

Yours very sincerely,

May 6th MRS. J. B. EDMONDS."

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I rise to voice on behalf of Senator Watson and myself a remonstrance, which I am sure reflects the views of millions of Pennsylvanians. It is a remonstrance against a delay long enough endured by our citizenry.

Pennsylvania is vitally concerned with the expansion of the port of Philadelphia, the facilities whereof as well as the possibilities of expansion whereof are unexcelled by any other port along the Atlantic seaboard.

Editorials in today's issues of the Evening Bulletin and the Philadelphia Inquirer summarize the awakening of our public opinion to the needs of the port of Philadelphia that will no doubt be conducive to the restoration of its hegemony.

In this connection I offer, in behalf of Senator Watson and myself, a resolution that deals with the proposed Raritan canal across New Jersey. This canal will connect the waters of the Delaware with the Atlantic ocean, will eliminate the need for circumnavigation of vessels bound for the port of Philadelphia along the entire coast of New Jersey and will bring Philadelphia nearer to the ports of Europe by shortening the time for travel therefrom by twenty hours.

I read in place and present to the Chair, on behalf of Senator Watson and myself, the following resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is this in the nature of an original resolution.

Mr. STIEFEL. This is a remonstrance against delay by the Federal Government.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO MEMORIALIZE THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO ACCELERATE CONSTRUCTION OF CANAL ACROSS NEW JERSEY

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. STIEFEL and WATSON offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

In the Senate, May 7, 1947.

Whereas, the citizenry of Pennsylvania is fully cognizant of the facilities of the Port of Philadelphia, as well as of the possibilities of its expansion in the littoral parts of Bucks and Delaware Counties, and

Whereas, our public opinion is fully attuned to the significance of the Port of Philadelphia as evidenced by the editorials appearing in "The Evening Bulletin" and "The Philadelphia Inquirer," and

Whereas, owing to the persistent efforts of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, an inside waterway free from the perils of the ocean and the dangers of submarines in wartime, was constructed through most of the Atlantic Seaboard States, and

Whereas, Such an inside system of waterways from Maine to the Gulf is destined to serve commerce in peace and will be capable of vital military service in the event of a foreign blockade in time of war, and

Whereas, All but one link of said Atlantic Intracoastal waterway approximately eighteen hundred miles long has been already constructed and permits a free movement of traffic along inland waters in many states of the Atlantic coast, and

Whereas, All that is needed now to complete this gigantic artery of national defense is the construction of the long discussed canal across the State of New Jersey from Sayreville on the Raritan Bay to Bordertown on the Delaware River, and

Whereas, The construction of this 31 mile long canal across New Jersey will remove the last barrier that blocks the national waterway designed to afford a safe channel inside the hazardous Atlantic Coast from Florida to New England and thence to the Great Lakes, and

Whereas, Such a canal across New Jersey will provide safe communication between the ports and Navy Yards at New York and Philadelphia and will make it unnecessary to circumnavigate the Atlantic Coastal waters along the shores of New Jersey, and

Whereas, The construction of such a canal will restore to the Port of Philadelphia its lost lustre and regain for it part of its former hegemony, and

Whereas, Through the construction of this canal across New Jersey new vistas will become opened to Pennsylvania's industries generally and the coal industry especially by bringing closer to our state the ports of Europe and the markets of New England and the Middle West, and

Whereas, The delay in the construction of the canal across New Jersey—the so-called "missing link" of the Inland Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway has been caused by the hesitancy of the Army Engineers Corps, and

Whereas, The construction of the canal across New Jersey is important to every national and commercial interest in the United States, now be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania shall and does hereby memorialize His Excellency, the President of the United States and the Congress of the United States to accelerate the construction of the above-mentioned canal across New Jersey from Sayreville on the Raritan Bay to Bordertown on the Delaware River, and be it further

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate forward a copy of this resolution following its passage to His Excellency, President, of the United States of America, and to the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the resolution which I am about to present, has to do with a subject which is of major importance to all the people of this great Commonwealth.

Prior to the abolition of price control on food stuffs, there existed in the nation, a man-made acute shortage of most of the necessities of life, which was in reality a strike against the citizens of this great nation, by the persons that controlled the dstribution of most of the necessities of life.

Most of us thought that with the discontinuance of price control, that these shortages would cease to exist, and that a temporary flurry in food prices would eventually level off, after supply had aleviated these shortages. However, today, we find that the cost of the necessities of life are steadily advancing, which works an extreme hardship upon the people and which, I believe, is the cause for considerable labor unrest.

I believe that it is the responsibility of the legislative bodies of government to assist in any way possible in bringing about a downward trend in prices and I therefore, submit this resolution, and ask that the committee to which it might be assigned act as promptly as possible in their consideration of same.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT IN RE THE INCREASED COSTS OF LIVING

Messrs. LANE, HOLLAND and LEADER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, May 7, 1947.

Whereas, Increases in the cost of living have created serious economic and social problems, and

Whereas, Price increases in the cost of food have served to unbalance household budgets by making necessary increased expenditures for modern conveniences, and

Whereas, It is not compatible with sound industrial economy that household budgets should be depleted by expenditures for food alone, and

Whereas, In combatting increased costs of living it is necessary to mobilize and form public opinion, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House concur), that the Department of Commerce be requested to investigate and report concerning the following matters:

1. Whether the general level of retail prices in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in line with wholesale prices.

2. Whether wholesale prices are in line with manufacturers' costs.

3. Whether the price of any of the essential products of industry are the result of monopoly control.

4. Whether there is specific evidence that the manufacturers of specific products or the distributors, are profiteering at the expense of the public.

5. What part the Commonwealth, through the various agencies of its state government, distributors of essential products and the consuming public can play in helping hold the price line at levels which honestly reflect the economic necessities of the wage line.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, when high cost of living is being discussed, the first cry is for control of wages. Reams and reams of valuable paper have been used by propagandists to sell the American people that increased wages are to blame, while the radio keeps working overtime by commentators hired by the industrialists to spread the same type of propaganda.

If the Taft Report on the economic condition of the country had proven that the above was true, you would be hearing a great deal about it, but the Taft Report is just the opposite, and shows that the profits made are entirely out of proportion to the increases given to the workers. For instance, in meats, the price increase needed to offset wage increase in 1946 was 1.6%, while the actual wholesale price increase used by the large companies, as they stated to meet increased cost of labor, was 90.6%. The Armours' increase in profits in 1946 over 1945 was 228.3%. Swift & Company—33.2%; Cudahy Company —168.3%, and the Wilson Company 105.1%.

In the textile industry, price needed to offset wage increase was 6.7%, but the textile manufacturer had a wholesale price increase of 31.8%, with the result that the profits in textiles for these large companies in 1946 over 1945 were as follows:

The American Woolen Company's profits rose from eight million, three hundred thousand to twenty-two million dollars. The American Viscose Corporation raised from three million to eight million. The Industrial Rayon Company from two million to eight million. The Pacific Mills from two million to eleven million. Celanese Corporation of America from seven million to sixteen million.

In foods, the price needed to offset wage increases was 1.8%, but the actual wholesale price increase was 57.9%, with the result that these large companies made these increased profits in 1946 over 1945.

Continental Baking Company, two million to seven million; United Biscuit Company of America, one million to three million, and the Beatrice Food Company jumped from one million to four million. National Biscuit Company jumped from ten million to 19 million. General Baking Company from one million to four million. Sunshine Biscuit Company from one million to four million; Ward Baking Company from one million to three million.

With the iron and steel industry, their price increase needed to offset wage increase should have been 1.9%. They actually raised prices 16.7%, with the result that the Youngstown Sheet & Tube jumped from 7½ million to 14 million in profits. While the Republic Steel jumped from 9 to 16 million; Inland Steel from 9 million to 15 million, and the United Steel from 58 to 88 million; Wheeling Steel jumped from 4 to 5 million; Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation jumped from 8 to 10 million, and the National Steel Company jumped from 11 to 20 million.

Yes, 1946 was the best profit year in American History, and 1947 judging from the first three months' return, now available, will far outstretch 1946.

It is time that something is done with the profiteer in America. If the food industry can increase profits more than 30 times from what was needed to take care of the wage increase, how can we hold labor responsible for demanding higher prices for the commodity they have to sell—their labor? No industry short-sighted policy of gouging the public must be blamed for the industrial unrest we now have in America. We should do something about it.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND AGREED TO

Mr. WADE. Mr. President and members of the Senate, for the information of the members of the Senate I want to state that we have in various committees some forty or fifty bills affecting retirement systems, employes' retirement systems, school teachers' retirement systems and police retirement systems.

The cost of retirement has constantly mounted over the period of time these systems have been in existence, and recently, because of demands and because of legislation, the appropriations have had to be increased very materially.

As an example I say to you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, during the past ten years we have had to increase the appropriations some three times. In the biennium of 1937-1939 the appropriations required were $7,907,000. In this biennium we are asked to appropriate money to the extent of $23,830,000.

If the bills were enacted that are now before us in committee, it would probably cost—of course, nobody could give an accurate estimation—but it would perhaps drive the appropriations beyond the $50,000,000 mark within two or three bienniums.

We are therefore considerably confused to know what legislation to recommend, because some of it seems very innocent, some of it has been asked for by departments, some of it has been asked for by individuals affected, favorably so, and therefore we are very much at a loss to know what to recommend.

For these reasons, Mr. President, I present to the Chair the following resolution and ask for its immediate consideration.

RESOLUTIONS

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO SURVEY, INVESTIGATE AND CONSIDER RETIREMENT SYSTEMS AND LAWS, AND REPORT TO THE NEXT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Messrs. WADE and TALLMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 7, 1947.

Whereas, The retirement systems and laws relating to governmental employes at the State and the various political subdivision levels do not necessarily grant the same benefits and liabilities to persons in substantially the same position; and

Whereas, The actuarial bases and the technical structure of the retirement system are so inflexible as to preclude numerous changes desired in view of changing conditions and concepts and in view of the experience gained in the administration of the existing laws; and

Whereas, The existing retirement systems and laws should be carefully studied and revised to incorporate the basic changes desired and to make them more adaptable to future conditions and to achieve, if practicable, a greater uniformity of benefits to the beneficiaries; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to survey, investigate and consider the various retirement systems and laws, to revise and restate such laws, and to report its findings and conclusions to the next regular session of the General Assembly with bills for introduction embodying the results of its studies.

COMMEMORATING THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Messrs. JASPAN and CHAPMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 7, 1947.

On May 5, the American Medical Association will celebrate its one-hundredth anniversary, having been founded in Philadelphia on May 5, 1847.

It was founded as an association of physicians "to promote the science and art of medicine; to elevate the standard of medical education and practice; to bring about the enactment of uniform legislation for the public welfare and to protect the public health."

In connection with its purpose to protect the public health, it has over the years helped initiate many legal actions and has helped to bring innumerable criminal prosecutions against quacks and quackery. The association has also found itself involved as a defendant in many libel suits because where it has seen medical charlatans and others involved in introducing pseudo medical skullduggery into the field of medicine, it has not hesitated to inform the public accordingly and to take those steps which it regarded as the quickest way to stop such practices.

The American Medical Association has during its many years been a constructive influence because of the calibre of the men who have been its officers and members; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby wishes to join in commemorating the centennial celebration of the American Medical Association and to congratulate its officers and members and to extend to them its best wishes in carrying out its many plans for advancing the study and practice of medicine and for protecting our citizens from ill-considered medical experiments and questionable drugs.

The Senate also expresses the hope that the American Medical Association at its centennial convention to be held June 9th to 13th, will give great consideration to the problem of improving the general health of the average American citizen, mindful of the low standard of health which was discovered by our military authorities during the last war; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of this resolution to the President of the American Medical Association.

MEMORIAL TO MAJOR GENERAL EDWARD C. SHANNON, AND URGING THE DIRECTOR OF THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNITED STATES TO NAME THE VETERANS' FACILITY AND HOSPITAL IN LEBANON COUNTY AS "THE GENERAL EDWARD C. SHANNON HOSPITAL" IN HIS HONOR

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BECKER, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 7, 1947.

May 20th, 1946 marked the passing of Major General Edward C. Shannon at his residence in Columbia, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, at the age of seventy-five years. Stricken on Christmas Eve previously with a heart ailment, General Shannon lost strength steadily until he succumbed.

General Shannon was Lieutenant Governor and the presiding officer of this Body from 1931 to 1935 during Governor Pinchot's second term. His incumbency saw four Legislative Sessions in addition to two regular terms which lasted five months each or a total of one hundred and fifty-nine legislative days.

General Shannon sought the Republican Gubernatorial Nomination in 1934, running second to the Honorable William A. Schnader, Attorney General in Governor Pinchot's Cabinet in a primary field of sixteen candidates.

Born in Phoenixville, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, June 24th, 1870, a son of the late Frederic Hallman and Janet Murray Shannon, he was educated in the public schools of that community. As a young man, however, he left his home community and launched upon his long and illustrious career, first as a blast furnace superintendent and chemist at Marietta in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

April 10th, 1889, he enlisted in the 4th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard as a private. Seven years later he rose to the rank of captain. During the Spanish-American War he led Company C, 4th Infantry, to Puerto Rico; where it was engaged in active service. He was mustered out November 16, 1898.

Meanwhile General Shannon had become manager of the Triumph Manufacturing Company.

In addition General Shannon was treasurer and general manager of the Lucas Manufacturing Company and shortly after his return from the first World War he was elected Prothonotary of Lancaster County. He was a staunch Republican.

Returning to Columbia he was married on April 22nd, 1899, to Miss Maude C. Lucas. There was a daughter born of the marriage, Miss Janet C. Shannon, now the wife of Wilbur C. Varian, residing with their two sons at Coatesville, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Shannon predeceased the General by approximately three years.

He served along the Mexican Border in 1916-17 as a full colonel in command of the 4th Infantry at the beginning of World War I.

When the 7th Pennsylvania Division was organized into the 28th Infantry Division, he was given command of the 111th Infantry Regiment. With his Regiment he landed in France May 5th, 1918 and almost immediately went into combat action where he earned the nickname of "Two Yard Shannon" in keeping that distance ahead of his front line troops. He was cited for bravery and won the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" in the Champagne-Marne offensive. With his regiment he served in five separate campaigns in France and he brought his troops back home in April 1919.

On reorganization of the Guard in Pennsylvania, he was commissioned a brigadier general in command of the 56th Infantry Brigade. Later in 1933 he was promoted to major general and assigned to command the 28th Infantry Division and the Pennsylvania National Guard. At that time he was serving the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as lieutenant governor but after some arrangements he was permitted to hold both offices of lieutenant governor and major general, drawing only one salary. Later special legislation was passed permitting him an extra five years as Commander of the 28th Division and the National Guard. He ended his military career at Indiantown Military Reservation on June 24th, 1939, after fifty years of service.

During World War II General Shannon served on a draft board in Lancaster County.

For twenty-five years General Shannon was President of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans School of Scotland, Pennsylvania. He was a trustees of the Valley Forge Military Academy and served as Chairman of the Valley Forge Historical Commission and also as Chairman of the State Military Reservation Commission.

General Shannon was president of the Columbia Water Company and the First National Bank of Columbia. He was a member of the board of directors of the Columbia Hospital. He was a director of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the Columbia Rotary. He was a director of the Columbia Red Cross Chapter, a member of Zembo Shrine, Sojourners, Columbia Lodge No. 286 F. and A. M., Royal Arch Masons, Columbia Chapter 224, Knights Templar Commandry No. 34, a member of the Hamilton Club at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, the Elks, the United Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Tall, gray and handsome, General Shannon was a colorful character. On a balmy Saturday afternoon in April, in 1941, during the heat of my first campaign for State Senator from the District in which we were both voters, I planned to make a dozen or more calls in Columbia and I chose to call at General Shannon's residence first. I found him at home alone with his wife, having just finished his dinner. He was in a contemplative and reminiscent state of mind and Mrs. Shannon joined us in the drawing room. I made no other call in Columbia on that Saturday afternoon. Late afternoon found me bidding adieu after a three hours' visit as interesting and soul-touching as I have ever experienced. The friendship of his County of Lancaster with my County of Lebanon came in for long discussion. The loyalty of my County to him in his campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor, when other Counties failed him, came in for further discussion. He discussed the result of his candidacy with no rancor but made no pretense of concealing the fact that his disappointment over his defeat was unassuaged. A typical American family, Mrs. Shannon would interrupt him frequently in his reminiscences to correct him, as devoted wives are wont to do. I look back to the visit as one that was crowded to the top with human interest and it raises in me high emotion that it has fallen to my lot to eulogize him today.

In Lebanon County there has been erected and constructed a splendid Facility for the rehabilitation of veterans of the Second World War. I can think of nothing more fitting than that this Facility should be named after this distinguished soldier who lived and died in the district in which the Facility is located. My colleagues have been very kind to me in permitting me to offer this Resolution and I now propose that it be,

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Director of the Veterans Administration of the United States be requested to name and designate the new veterans' Facility and Hospital in Lebanon County as "The General Edward C. Shannon Hospital" in his honor and everlasting memory.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, May 7, 1947

The House met at 12:00 o'clock noon Eastern Standard Time.

The SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove offered the following prayer:

Father of all mercies, Giver of all blessings, the One who is the inspiration of all worthy thought and action, we thank Thee for this day. Help us to bring our possessions of mind, soul, and body as offerings to Thee, that we may be acceptable sons of the living God; thus we shall leave on our pathway something that is worthy of merit and emulation. In every way may we so live that each tomorrow shall be better than today. May we strive to do unto others as we would have them do unto us. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. CHUDOFF and ROOT. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 48.

In the House of Representatives, May 6, 1947.

Whereas, The Philadelphia Inquirer in this morning's issue calls the attention of the public to the fact that new automobiles are currently being sold as used cars at $500 to $1,000 above their list prices and that the practcie has virtually become an established racket; and

Whereas, The investigation of the said paper disclosed the fact that the new car dealers blamed the used car dealers and the public in turn, the used car dealers blamed the new car dealers, the public and the manufacturers, in that the manufacturers had failed to cancel any of the dealer agency contracts for being a party to such a scheme; and

Whereas, It was heretofore presumed that the shortage of automobiles which created this situation would be eliminated when automobile manufacturers would get into full production but as the demand for new cars cannot be satisfied for some considerable time legislative action must be taken; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs) That a commission of eight members be created, five members to be named by the Speaker of the House and three members to be named by the President Pro Tempore whose duty it shall be to immediately make an investigation of the sale of new and used automobiles in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the said commission shall report its finding to the General Assembly by May 22; and be it further

Resolved, That the sum of $5,000 be appropriated to the said commission for the purpose of conducting this investigation.

By Mr. ANDREWS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, May 6, 1947.

Whereas, Increases in the cost of living have created serious economic and social problems, and

Whereas, Price increases in the cost of food have served to unbalance household budgets by making necessary increased expenditures for modern conveniences, and

Whereas, It is not compatible with sound industrial economy that household budgets should be depleted by expenditures for food alone, and

Whereas. in combatting increased costs of living it is necessary to mobilize and form public opinion, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that the Department of Commerce be requested to investigate and report concerning the following matters:

1. Whether the general level of retail prices in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in line with wholesale prices.
2. Whether wholesale prices are in line with manufacturers' costs.
3. Whether the price of any of the essential products of industry are the result of monoply control.
4. Whether there is specific eviednce that the manufacturers of specific products or the distributors, are profiteering at the expense of the public.
5. What part the Commonwealth, through the various agencies of its state government, distributors of essential products and the consuming public can pay in helping hold the price line at levels which honestly reflect the economic necessities of the wage line.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHUDOFF asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, those of you who read the Philadelphia Inquirer will notice that that newspaper is presently conducting an investigation of the new-used car racket in Philadelphia.

Last week we passed through this House and we passed finally on Monday a series of bills sponsored by the Speaker and the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, which will go a long way towards protecting the buyers of used cars and new cars in Pennsylvania as far as the interest on unpaid balances is concerned. These bills were the result of two years' study, and in my opinion are one of the finest sets of companion bills ever passed by this House of Representatives. I hope that they will go through the Senate without delay and I am sure that the Governor will sign them.

Nevertheless, we have a far more important problem which is rather an emergency. A racket has grown up throughout the State of Pennsylvania whereby a new car becomes a used car in about thirty seconds. The new car dealers instead of following the list of purchasers who are waiting for cars are simply turning these automobiles over to used car dealers or putting them on lots in Philadelphia and selling them to the public for anywhere from three hundred to one thousand dollars over the list price. We are trying to protect the bonafide buyers of automobiles and I believe we should try to protect the past buyers of automobiles, therefore I think it is imperative that an investigation take place at once by this House and the Senate.

Yesterday in conjunction with Mr. Root, the gentleman from Philadelphia, I introduced a concurrent resolution asking that the Speaker of the House appoint five Members and the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three Members for the purpose of having an immediate investigation made to report back to this legislature on May 22nd for the purpose of having legislation passed through this session to get rid of this racket in Philadelphia and the rest of the State.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 83, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section six hundred fourteen of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley amnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration ot certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counites cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by providing for the compulsory permanent revocation of operator's license on second conviction of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic or habit producing drug

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. STUART offered the following amendments.

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 614), page 5, line 2, by striking out the word "second" and inserting in lieu thereof "third".

Amend sec. 1 (Sec. 614), page 5, line 4, by striking out the word "permanently".

Amend sec. 1 (Sec. 614), page 5, line 5, by inserting after the word "person" the following: "and such operating privilege shall not be restored within a period of three years after such conviction or plea entered. After the expiration of said three year period, an operator's license may be issued to such person upon proof submitted satisfactory to the secretary that the applicant has been cured and no longer becomes under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any narcotic or habit-producing drug".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. STUART offered the following amendments:

Amend title, page 2, 3rd from last line of title, by striking out the word "permanent" and inserting in lieu thereof "three year".

Amend title, page 2, 3rd from last line of title, by striking out the word "second" and inserting in lieu thereof "third".

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

THE SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Venango, Mr. McKinney, for presiding.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. DAVID P. REESE asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Workmen's Compensation to meet during the session of the House.

HOUSE BILL No. 83

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to refer back to the last bill (House Bill 83), the amendments that were read under (a) subsection. Does it call for a revocation on the third conviction in that amendment proposed?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the amendment amends section one, section 614, page 5, line 2, by striking out the word "second" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "third".

Mr. GOFF. Then, Mr. Speaker, I gather there is no provision in this individual bill as amended for a conviction for a second offense, is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Beaver that he interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Stuart.

Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STUART. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, am I to gather that under this amendment that has been submitted the gentleman deletes any punishment for a second conviction of an operator of a motor vehicle and has it apply on a third conviction, when this penalty will come into force?

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, under the amendment of the bill the usual penalty for second offense would be inflicted, but for the third offense it would be a permanent revocation.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the second offense under this amendment would carry only the usual penalty that exists now?

Mr. STUART. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, I can't go along and agree with this proposed amendment and I would ask the Members of the House to consider this amendment seriously before voting upon it.

We have had a move here to not penalize a driver who is convicted of an infraction of the Motor Vehicle Code upon the second offense, and only makes it punishable on the third offense. In other words, a man that commits the offense the second time of killing someone, maiming someone, is allowed to do so without any penalty. I ask this House to take that amendment under consideration.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise? The Chair would inform the gentleman that this bill is not before the House, nor are the amendments. This bill has been disposed of.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, on the third reading of this bill I will have the amendment read.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1062, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant-Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by further reorganizing the Department of Welfare and its boards and officers creating the Department of Mental Health prescribing its functions powers and duties and fixing salaries

The first, second, third and fourth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BRUNNER offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 5 (Sec. 207), page 17, lines 17, 18 and 19, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend sec. 5 (Sec. 207), page 18, lines 1 and 2, by striking out both of said lines.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of the amendments explain the theory of the changes that he is making, as the amendments are presented; to what extent they modify the theory of the bill as it appears on the calendar on second reading.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

I would like the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, to repeat that request.

Mr. ANDREWS. To explain the nature and theory of the amendments that the gentleman is proposing, why they are being proposed, what the effect of them is, and to what extent it changes the theory of the bill as we have it at the present time upon the second reading calendar.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I would say there are three significant amendments, the others being in the category of form amendments.

The first amendment amends the requirement of the bill that the Secretary of Mental Health must have been a practicing physician for ten years and be in effect eligible, or in effect a psychiatrist. I think we can justify the elimination of this requirement on the grounds that there are only about twenty-five hundred psychiatrists in the United States, most of whom are busily engaged, and it may in effect be quite difficult for the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to obtain a qualified competent psychiatrist to act as Secretary of Mental Health at this time.

The second amendment deals with a provision in the original bill which required at least three of the members of the Board of Trustees to be women. I as sponsor saw no need for such a requirement. I thought if there were ten good women available in the locality the Governor would probably appoint the ten women, and vice versa. So far as making it mandatory upon him or anyone else to appoint at least three women to the Board of Trustees of the State Mental Institution, I thought it was an unfair restraint upon his power.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the third principal amendment deals with certain well recognized religious groups which in other states have operated hospitals or institutions for the mentally ill who have by their conduct of those hospitals in other states shown ability to cure the mentally ill. They have requested that they be exempt from the provisions of this act, being subject however to the requirements to which all institutions are subject, that they be generally acceptable to the standards of the present Department of Welfare or the new department of Mental Health.

I would say, Mr. Speaker, that in the main this is an explanation of the amendments which have been introduced. I would say also that they have been submitted to the Committee on State Government while the bills were in the House awaiting Committee approval, but that approval was given to the sponsor yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of yesterday's Session, and as a sponsor I am heartily for these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, are these amendments drawn in the interest of all religious denominations or drawn in the interest of a particular constituency?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I think the House is entitled to a fair answer to that question. I was requested several weeks ago by representatives of the Christian Science Church to prepare amendments to this measure, whereby they, in the operation of their mental hospitals, would be exempt from the operation of this bill should it become a law. At that time I explained to them that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so far as I knew, had at all times been fair and impartial and had at no time transgressed on their church functions. However, as a result of their fear that some future regulation might be made whereby they would be restricted in the operation of their own mental hospitals, should they see fit to have some in Pennsylvania, an amendment was prepared. After reading this amendment I informed the representative of that church that in my opinion the amendment was altogether too broad. The members of the House must realize that there is a constitutional prohibition against our inserting a specific amendment in favor of any particular church, and therefore of necessity we must make a broad, all inclusive provision. Under those circumstances a new amendment was prepared and submitted to the sponsor yesterday or the day before, I forget which, and I thought that it did act in a more restrictive manner than the one which had been submitted originally. I was of the opinion that it was acceptable and should be admitted to the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, under the amendment drawn would any cult, for instance, who would establish themselves as a religious denomination, like Father Divine—could any group organized as a religious group and for religious purposes, establish its own hospitals under the amendment as drawn?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that if any of those groups which the gentleman mentioned are in the category of well recognized religious denominations, they likewise would be exempt by virtue of this amendment.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, to what extent from accepted professional standards? What are the exceptions from accepted professional standards in the case of a religious denomination?

Mr. BRUNNER. Will the gentleman yield until I get a copy of that particular amendment?

May I say to the gentleman from Cambria that I am informed there was a recent opinion, a court opinion, whereby I believe the State of New Jersey, if I am not mistaken, was deemed to have some two hundred and fifty-eight recognized churches or religious denominations. May I ask the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Brown, to corroborate me, if I differ from the version of the facts of the case and of the court's opinion, because I understand he has read that particular opinion, and it was based upon what he told me informally yesterday that I give the gentleman this reply. This amendment, and I think it should be heard again by the Members of this House, says:

> "Nothing in this article shall be construed to deny or revoke a license of an applicant or licensee because of the fact that the owner or occupant of the house, place, sanitarium or institution where mental patients reside, or the person having charge of such mental patient, is an adherent of and relies upon treatment by prayer or spiritual means, in accordance with the creed or tenets of any well recognized church or religious denomination. Provided the house, place, sanitarium or institution is lawfully, hygenic and properly maintained so as to afford safe custody."

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one further inquiry—the amendment we are discussing is in addition to the bill as it appeared originally on the second reading calendar? This is a new statement, it it not?

Mr. BRUNNER. That is true, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when we come to consider that particular amendment I would ask for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Cambria that the amendments we are now considering are to Section 5. There are also amendments to Section 9. The amendments to which the gentleman is referring are to Section 10. If the gentleman so desires we will have a roll call at that time.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask to be recognized after you read Section 10?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to have the amendments read again?

Mr. BROWN. No, I am conversant with the amendments, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The sixth, seventh and eighth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The ninth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BRUNNER offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 9 (Sec. 401), page 29, lines 2 and 3, by striking out the words "at least three of the members of the following boards of trustees shall be women and",

Amend sec. 9 (Sec. 401), page 29, line 4, by striking out the words "each of the said boards" and inserting in lieu thereof "the following boards of trustees",

Amend sec. 9 (Sec. 401), page 30, line 16, by striking out the words "Board of Trustees" and inserting in lieu thereof "The terms of the first appointees of the boards of trustees",

Amend sec. 9 (Sec. 401), page 30, lines 19 and 20, by striking out the words "shall include at least three women and the terms of the first appointees",

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The tenth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BRUNNER offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2108A, page 39, by inserting after line 19 the following:

(e) Nothing in this article shall be construed to deny or revoke a license of an applicant or licensee because of the fact that the owner or occupant of the house place sanitarium or institution where mental patients reside or the person having charge of such mental patients is an adherent of and relies upon treatment by prayer or spiritual means in accordance with the creed or tenets of any well recognized church or religious denomination Provided the house place sanitarium or institution is lawfully hygenic and properly maintained so as to afford safe custody

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in part answer to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and to correct the record, in answer to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, permit me to say to this House that this amendment gave the Committee a question of most serious consideration. We were cognizant of the fact that once the door is open the door must remain open, for there is no yard stick by which this Commonwealth can determine what is a well recognized religious sect or what is not.

The question referred to by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, arose on the question or discussion of how far we could insert a clause of limitations, so that any religious sect could operate its own mental health sanitaria.

We referred, of course, in our discussion to the now famous decision in the New Jersey Parochial Schools transportation case, wherein the Learned Justice of the Supreme Court, Justice Rutledge, in his dissenting opinion said that once the door is open it is open to all organizations, and that there are in the United States, not in the State of New Jersey, according to Justice Rutledge, 258 religious organizations, and if the door is open to one it would be open to all.

In the light of that the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, and myself, at the direction of the Committee on State Government spent some time last evening with the very courteous representative of the Department of Justice, with the idea of trying to make words of limitation, so that the people of Pennsylvania would be protected. We regret to inform this House that as we understand the law, both from individual standpoints and from the standpoint of those more learned in the law than we are, such limitation cannot exist. We have inserted, or the gentleman from Montgomery has inserted a clause in here, that can be secured. It says "any well recognized organization." We submit to this House that it may be that clause is absolutely meaningless as a matter of law. As I said before, there is no yardstick by which this Commonwealth or any other Commonwealth or the Congress of the United States can distinguish distinctly between one religious group and another.

Therefore, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, it is my opinion and I believe the gentleman from Montgomery concurs in it, that if the door is opened it must be open to all. Neither the gentleman from Cambria nor the gentleman from Montgomery nor myself nor any one else has the legal authority to determine for others their religious beliefs. And though they may not coincide they are protected under the Constitution of the United States, and in my opinion would have a right to come within this exception.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to concur with the statements made by the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Brown. When this particular amendment was finally submitted to me as the sponsor of this bill, I agreed to it for the purpose of submitting it to the committee on State Government which had released this particular bill from Committee with the provision that it should not move thru a second reading until amendments had been prepared and considered by the committee, the bill was finally acceptable to the Committee, and it would then move forward. Accordingly the amendment was submitted to the State Government Committee yesterday afternoon, as I informed the members of that Committee, and that Committee agreed to adopt and include this amendment. Under the circumstances I intend to vote "aye".

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman pointed out, there are at least two hundred fifty religious denominations or sects or groups operating in the country. Out of that two hundred and fifty I would not venture to guess how many are composed of people, all of whom should themselves be confined to mental hospitals. I am most emphatically opposed to the bit of legislation that would grant to people who I believe should be in mental hospitals, the right to start one. That is why I am opposed to this amendment.

Mr. BANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROWN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BANE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny in his discussion last evening with the Attorney General's office, whether or not an opinion was expressed in that office as to whether or not it was essential to the validity of the purpose of this bill that this proposed amendment be included?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman that the Attorney General's office does not pass on questions of policy. It is kind enough to pass on questions of law. Therefore in my answer I want the gentleman to understand that I am giving him a question of law and not a question of policy, so that the answer will not weigh upon the Members' minds as to how on a question of policy they should vote, for I would be misinterpreting the function of the Department of Justice. It is the opinion of one of the distinguished members of that staff with whom I consulted, and it is my opinion that no constitutional provision will be denied if all religious groups are included.

Mr. BANE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Allegheny.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Bane and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this bill has a short history with which I would like to acquaint the Members of the House.

This legislation is a codification and a revision of the marriage laws of this Commonwealth, and was first introduced in the 1939 session. It stayed in committee that year, and in 1941 it was again introduced and was supported by the Federation of Women's Clubs in Pennsylvania. The legislation passed that year, was sent to the Governor's desk and was vetoed for the reason that at that time the bill not only abolished common-law marriages but it also contained a provision that any marriage under the age of 18 would be null and void. Since that time the objectionable feature of the bill has been removed. The law has been allowed to remain as it is at the present time, that marriages without the proper consent, and so forth, are simply voidable at the instance of some party and not void. The main change made in this legislation is to abolish common-law marriages.

As I imagine most of you know, a common-law marriage is consummated when a man and a woman otherwise single and eligible to be married live together as husband and wife and take each other as husband and wife by outward apperance, by having people who know them understand them to be husband and wife, and other evidence of such nature.

I suppose when Pennsylvania was a new state or prairie of some nature, transportation was bad, it was hard to get to the county seats, and there was a necessity for recognizing common-law marriages. Today those reasons no longer exist, and there are many other reasons why the courts should not be compelled to recognize common-law marriages. Not so many years ago we passed legislation providing that there should be a three-day waiting period between the time that the marriage license was issued and the time the parties were married. We also have on the statute books legislation relating to examination for syphilis. All of those things can be sidestepped if we are going to recognize common-law marriages, and we think the time has come when they should be abolished. The courts for years have been complaining that much fraud has been perpetrated in the workmen's compensation cases in which common-law marriage was asserted.

I would point out also that this bill does not affect any existing common law marriages. The bill does not become effective until January first of next year, and it only outlaws an attempted common law marriage after that date.

There are other minor amendments made in the law by this bill, none of which are of too great importance. You will recall that earlier in the session we passed House Bill 208 in this body, introduced by Representative Kenneth Wagner, which allowed the use of marriage licenses in any county in the Commonwealth. That change has also been made in this bill. This bill now conforms with the legislation we passed earlier in the session.

The Federated Women's clubs have deserted this matter. They don't seem to pay any attention to it any more. If it was a good idea in 1941 to try to bring into one group the laws relating to marriage, I think it is still just as good an idea. The ladies are now engaged and are now very busy on the matter of reapportionment of the House and the Senate, and I think that they are going to take on a long job, so they do not have much time to spend on this legislation any longer.

At the end of the bill you will notice that many acts have been repealed or are being repealed. They date back to 1815. One of the reasons for passing a bill such as this is that it gives the layman an opportunity to pick up the law and find out what the law concerning marriages in Pennsylvania might be. Today he must go to a lawyer if he wants to find out what all the laws are or what particular laws might cover the problem he has, and that should not be necessary.

I hope that you gentlemen will give this bill your blessing and vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 958, Printer's No. 432.

House Bill No. 1040, Printer's No. 397 and

House Bill No. 1043, Printer's No. 433

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1175, as follows:

An Act authorizing husbands and wives holding property as tenants by the entireties to pledge or give such property as security for the bond or obligation of a third person or for each other and providing that judgments entered upon default in any such bond or undertaking shall bind such property

Section 1 Whenever any husband and wife shall undertake to become surety for a third person who is permitted or required by law to make execute or give a bond or undertaking with security for the faithful performance of any duty or for the doing or not doing of anything in said bond or undertaking specified any property held by such husband and wife as tenants by the entireties may be given as the security required for such bond or undertaking and shall be bound by any judgment entered on said bond or undertaking by reason of a default thereon

Section 2 Whenever any husband or wife shall undertake to become surety for the other spouse who is permitted or required by law to make execute or give a bond or undertaking with security for the faithful performance of any duty or for the doing or not doing of anything in said bond or undertaking specified any property held by such husband and wife as tenants by the entireties may be given as the security required for such bond or undertaking the spouse required or permitted by law to give such bond or undertaking shall be the principal thereof and the other spouse shall be the surety thereof Any property so given as security for such bond or undertaking shall be bound by any judgment entered on such bond or undertaking by reason of a default thereon.

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAPANO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the purpose of this bill.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to allow a husband and wife who hold property by entireties to go bond for themselves or for others, which they cannot do under the present law.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, is the purpose of the bill principally limited to that of going bail for others?

Mr. CAPANO. For themselves or others, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman from Washington.

Mr. Speaker, it has always been a rule of law that a man could do with his property as he saw fit, either go surety or guarantor for another or as an accommodation maker. In the 1945 session of this legislature we also authorized a married woman to deal with her separate property as she saw fit. This is a bill dealing with neither one of those estates but dealing with a joint estate that exists between a man and wife. Such estates are estates established through the joint efforts of the man and wife.

The principal purpose of this bill is to permit parents to go bail for their children when they get themselves involved in the clutches of the law. For every one that might be benefited by it, I believe there are twelve or fifteen who would like to see the law stand as it is. You know and I know that the average individual when he is approached by friends, to become endorser for them, go bond or bail for them, do not like to refuse and cannot refuse.

It has been my personal experience through a number of years that people will come to my office before they will go bail for a person and find out whether or not the property is in their joint names, and if they find out that the property is in their joint names they do not care to go bail. They would call me afterwards and thank me for the advice which I had given them to the effect that the property was in their joint name, and they therefore refused to go bail.

I think we will open the door to a lot of practices that I do not believe a man and a wife would care to be subjected to, regarding the joint estate, which they have earned by their joint efforts and which they desire to have preserved for their joint efforts. For that reason I don't believe we should open that door.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill serves to emphasize the difference between the lively intelligence on this side of the House and the blind follow-your-leader disposition on the other side of the House. We are over here subject to persuasion. We are able to appreciate the value of argument; we can be convinced.

I am inclined to agree with the gentleman who has just spoken. This is not only an unnecessary bill but probably a bad bill, and I want to thank him for having called the attention of this House to the measure. I hope that as this Session goes along it will be possible to find at least some response over on the other side of this House to an appeal to reason.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, I introduced this bill at the request of a number of lawyers in Washington County. It has been my experience that many times parents will have children get into difficulty and they have no means of going bond for them when they have their property in both their names, and they must submit themselves to bondsmen who charge enormous prices. What good is a person's property if he cannot use it for his own benefit or for his own family?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 48.

An Act to add clause XLIX to section one thousand five hundred two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, (P. L. 1206), entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," authorizing acquisition of property for, and establishment and maintenance of parking lots.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "gift" the word "or", and by striking out after the word "purchase" the words "or condemnation proceedings"; page 3, lines 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, by striking out after the word "prescribed" the following: "the provisions of this clause shall not authorize the condemnation of property belonging to or used as a cemetery or place of public worship or property of a public utility company or of any public or parochial school or of any educational or charitable institution".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to ask for a roll call, yet I don't want to be regarded as being in favor of these amendments. So maybe the record will do by this statement. I do not favor these amendments, and the Minority group does not favor these amendments.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman wish to be recorded as voting "no" on House Bill 48?

Mr. ANDREWS. That would necessitate a roll call, Mr. Speaker, which I do not want to take the time of the House to do. I simply want to have my statement appear on the record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the Clerk has not read all of the amendments to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will contiue to read the amendments, if the gentleman from Cambria so desires.

The Clerk continued to read the amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, some of these tax chickens are back to roost, and judging by the number of times the Clerk had to read "tobacco products," some of those chickens must have laid an egg.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to these amendments principally because they are an indictment of the intelligence of this house. We have some tax bills trotted out for our consideration; they were not to be amended. You were asked to swallow them. If you were asked to swallow them they must have been perfect measures. The Majority Leader said they were good measures as they were, and you took them, and lo and behold! your tax program was assaulted by the terrible heat from Lancaster County. And lo and behold! you turned a somersault. The Tobacco League from Lancaster County said, "Oh, no, oh, no, you don't put us on the spot, you don't tax tobacco. My goodness, Mr. Speaker, we raise tobacco in Lancaster County. Look around for something else that we are not engaged in."

Well the rest of the House interposed the notion that they were being placed upon the spot by various other taxes that were proposed, but the leadership said, "No, you fellows in these other counties, you have narrow majorities, some of you, and you have to go out and fight, but we have a big majority in Lancaster County, and we don't want to fight, it isn't in accordance with our religious beliefs, we don't believe in taxes particularly, and personally we do not believe in taxes levied on us. So these bills come back and we find in line after line, line after line, that "tobacco products" is stricken out.

Now, Mr. Speaker, there isn't any more reason why you should not tax tobacco than there is why you should not tax anything else. If you are going across the board looking for things to tax just because of some special interest in which only one particular county is concerned, you say, "No, we won't tax it."

Well, I am opposed to these amendments for another reason, because they bolster up a tax program to which we stand opposed. I am opposed to these amendments because we want to defeat these bills. If we can defeat these bills we can bring this House back to a reasonable proposition of financing the building program of this State by means of a building authority and stretch the expenditure over the coming years instead of levying all the taxes in the years 1947 and 1948 on a building program to last ten years, a building program that ought to last ten years after that, and an expenditure at the beginning of the program that ought to result in the expenditure of one hundred and fifty million dollars.

We are for the building program of this present administration. In fact we are for this building program because we began it and we began it by means of a sensible, feasible program that did not place the burden of ten years or five years upon current revenues. As I pointed out, we object to these amendments because of the special favor, special consideration given to a special group. There isn't any reason in my mind why you should have to swallow the rest of it and take the burden in your county so that this great and populous county of Lancaster can go free.

Mr. Speaker, the only mistake that has been made is that a few of them do not wear whiskers and have broad brimmed hats, and if they had, and most of them live in Lancaster County, I am quite certain you would not have the features that are contained in the next bill that will come before this House for consideration.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would just like to clarify one statement. Did the Chair understand the gentleman correctly when he said that tobacco was grown in Lancaster County and smoked in Cambria County?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we smoke some of it; we chew some of it.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, is this the minority that bled so much on charges of discrimination against particular interests when these tax measures were originally adopted? Many Members of this House would like to vote for the amendments inserted by the Senate because it isn't such a violent change as we were led to believe. The tax we are going to vote for as a substitute for this one is a tobacco tax. The same thing is mentioned from pages two to five probably fifteen or eighteen times as the gentleman from Cambria has insisted.

We agree with the gentleman when he said that he is voting against these amendments because he is voting against the tax program, and the reason he says he will vote against the tax program is because he says it is not necessary. He is for the appropriations we are about to pass in this House of Representatives. He is for the expenditures that we are about to make and provide for, but Mr. Speaker, we follow different tactics and we consider it a matter of good faith and honesty on our part. When this administration says that we are going to spend 100 million dollars we say we will raise the 100 million dollars that we are going to spend.

We say further there have been alternatives offered previously. We can plead for a tax on cigarettes but what we are trying to avoid more than anything else in the world is a tax on bread and butter and the things that are vitally necessary. Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, the other alternative that was offered is the floating of bonds and general authorities to do this particular work.

There is only one answer to practices of that kind and that is if an administration undertakes certain commitments and obligations, and then through a General State Authority or some such means says, "You kids, if you are ten years old now, if you are fifteen years old now, you are going to hit the spot just right and not have to pay a penny, let us say." But you pay all of the taxes to which we are committed. And I want to reiterate as I said before, we hope that the Members of this House will concur in the amendments for raising taxes so that we can do the job we are committed to do, and we ourselves will take whatever measure of blame there might be in distasteful taxes:

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments. We talk about food taxes. We first taxed the five cent drink and then we taxed tobaccos. Now we reduce the tax on tobacco and put it on cigarettes. Who do you think you are kidding? The people who can afford to pay the tax on cigars are not going to be taxed; we are going to tax the poor people now, the fellow that smokes cigarettes, the fellow who cannot afford to buy cigars. Don't kid yourselves, you have a lot of them that cannot afford to buy a cigar but they can afford to buy cigarettes. You can laugh and have all the fun you want to and pass all the cigars you want to, but you will admit that you are putting the tax on the poor people. In every move that you make, even to the extent of where your Senate amended the bills, and now the poor people have to pay the tax on cigarettes. If there are going to be any more cigars passed over here, this will wind up to be the most profitable speech I have made in this session of the legislature. You fellows are only asking for it because I can make long speeches and the more you send over here the more you will hear from me. My colleague back here said you are going to lose all the ladies' votes because they don't smoke cigars, they smoke cigarettes.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might say that this pay-off is tax exempt.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, they can give it to me now or hereafter and it will still be tax exempt, all except the cigarettes.

Mr. Speaker, now, let's be fair. I don't think anybody else will bring any more cigars over here. Wait, there is one more, but it is perfectly all right with me. I want to be fair anyhow, I will divide it with them any time. This one is for Petrosky.

So, my friends, let's be fair and vote down these tax measures, and take up the cudgels of my good leader, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and let us get some legislation here that will over a period of time relieve the tax from the poor people and make those best able to pay the tax in the State of Pennsylvania pay it. I ask you to vote against concurrence in these amendments.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, before saying what I have to say about these amendments I want it distinctly understood that I don't smoke but I do eat Hershey bars. If you have any Hershey bars send them over here.

These amendments take the tax off tobacco products and make the tax on a package of cigarettes four cents. That means 40 cents a carton. I get over to Camden once in a while. It is a simple procedure to take the Highspeed line at Eighth and Market Streets and in seven minutes, you are in Camden where you can buy all the cigarettes you want for $1.20 a carton. In Philadelphia they cost you $1.79 per carton after this tax bill is passed. That is .59 cents a carton difference. You are going to have thousands of people going from Philadelphia to Camden to buy cigarettes by the carton, buy two cartons, and buy cigarettes by the case, and I am afraid that after we get through buying all of these cigarettes in New Jersey, the yield on this tax is not going to be as much as you thought it was going to be. In order to stop this you may have to set up another bureau in the Department of Revenue to station at the Philadelphia-Camden bridge a State policeman or investigator for the Department of Revenue to search every automobile that is coming back from New Jersey loaded with cigarettes.

Speaking for a fair tax, I think that in my history, my four terms that I have been here, this is the most unfair tax and it is going to lead to a tremendous amount of bootlegging of cigarettes. The gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham, knows that everybody in his own county is going to buy cigarettes in towns in the State of New Jersey, and the towns in Pennsylvania bordering New Jersey are not going to sell cigarettes but they will buy them in New Jersey and save fifty or sixty cents a carton.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the gentleman from Philadelphia must have a different opinion of the people of Pennsylvania than I do. When they know or realize that this four cents, the money that they are going to pay on a package of cigarettes will go for the comfort and the treatment of our mentally ill, and for the children who need this treatment so very badly, they are not going to go to New Jersey to buy their cigarettes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 664.

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a state tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and bottlers and by others of syrups and bottled soft drinks prepared used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth requiring persons as herein defined engaged in the manufacture bottling distribution sale and transportation of syrup and bottled soft drinks to secure permits prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax or assessing the tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those manufacture bottling distribution sale and transportation of syrup or bottled soft drinks taxable hereunder and providing penalties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 9, by striking out after the word "not" the following: "except milk and natural or undiluted fruit juices"; page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word 'syrup" the following: "The term 'bottled soft drinks' shall not include natural undiluted fruit juice vegetable juice or fluid milk (not powdered or reconstituted) to which flavoring alone is added constituting a product containing not less than two and one-half (2½) percentum butterfat when bottled closed or sealed".

Amend section 1, page 3, line 12, by striking out after the word "ingredient" the word "used" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "practically and commercially usable"; page 3, line 19, by striking out after the word "manufactured" the words "sold or used" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "and practically and commercially usable"; page 4, line 7 by striking out after the word "Syrup" the words "for use" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "practically and commercially usable".

Amend section 3, page 7, line 17, by inserting after the word "business" the word "and".

Amend section 4, page 10, lines 13 and 14 ,by striking out after the word "of" the word "one" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "one-half"; and striking out after the word "cent" the bracket and figure "(1c)" and inserting in lieu thereof the bracket and figure "(½c)".

Amend Section 5, page 12, by inserting after the word "persons" the words "except as provided in clause (a)"; page 12, line 17, by inserting after the word "or" the following: "due to existing stocks of unstamped crowns in the possession of manufacturers or bottlers on the effective date of this act or due to"; page 13, line 3, by inserting after the word "authorized" the words "and required"; page 12, line 6, by inserting after the word "shall" the words "prepare manufacture or use syrups or bottled soft drinks or shall"; page 13, line 9, by inserting after the first word "the" the word "original".

Amend the bill by striking out all of Section 6 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. SORG. I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments. My reason for opposing the amendments is that I want to be confronted with a demonstrated need for them. Before we elaborate our tax program we say and we reiterate our original position, that we should know how much we are going to spend for the schools; we should know how much we are going to spend for the building program; how much we are going to spend during the next two years. We should know how much of the ten million dollars that you are asking for dams in this state, you are going to spend during the next two years.

We are standing on the principle that this Legislature should finance this biennium, that it should finance this biennium liberally; that it should make adequate appropriations for the schools; that it should make adequate appropriations for conservation; that it should make adequate appropriations for relief; that we should swallow the Governor's welfare program entirely, but that we should know, and we should know before we put the final test or final seal on these tax bills how much the Governor intends to spend during the next two years, and when we know what the Appropriations Committee is going to sanction, then we will make some provision to finance the agreed upon program.

There has not as yet been a demonstrated necessity for the money that this House Bill 664 will raise. You don't know and I don't know what you are going to spend for the schools; you don't know and I don't know how much you are going to spend for various other purposes; you don't know and I don't know whether a single penny that you propose raising by this bill is to be used during the next biennium, because we don't know and because there is every reason why we should delay action.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the message from the Senate on House Bill No. 664, together with the amendments thereto, be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we should take a roll call on the motion to table and accept that roll call on the question of concurring. We can take this roll call both on the motion to lay on the table and on the motion to concur.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that the constitution requires that we take a roll call on concurrence.

Would the gentleman from Cambria be kind enough to withdraw his motion temporarily so that the Chair may recognize the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, because this motion is not debatable?

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE WITHDRAWN

Mr. ANDREWS. I will withdraw my motion, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. I was going to rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry on that very point. I am sure that the gentleman did not intend to cut off debate.

I desire only to direct the attention of the membership to the demonstrated need as set forth in the budget message of His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth last month. It looks as if we are going to need 550 million dollars in the general fund of the Commonwealth to finance the contemplated affairs of the Commonwealth for the next biennium. Mr. Speaker, it takes only the usual amount of observation in a drive through this State, as our own Committee on Welfare has, in an examination and investigation of the conditions in our mental institutions. The many, many things that we have certainly call for an absolute minimum of an additional 133 million dollars in taxes. I ask the Members to support the motion to concur in the amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman has a minimum program involving a definite expenditure why doesn't he trot that program out and bring it to the attention of this House so that we can operate more intelligently with reference to the tax bills?

Mr SORG. Mr. Speaker, I again say it is good to have the money before you spend it. I promise the gentleman some appropriation measures that he is going to be glad to support, that will consume the entire amount of additional taxes.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I renew my motion that the message from the Senate on House Bill No. 664, together with the amendments thereto, be laid upon the table, and I ask for a roll call.

On the question

Will the House agree to the motion?

NOT VOTING—1.

Trout,

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments to House Bill No. 664. In doing so, Mr. Speaker, I would like to assure the Members of the House that we on this side of the House are not opposed to teachers' salary raises, nor are we opposed to the Governor's hospital program. We, however, maintain and say that the money for teachers' salaries and for the Governor's hospital program could more readily be followed by an Authority method of financing. It is not unusual for someone who buys a home to pay for that home in the course of five or ten years, and we maintain that the program of construction could be met by an Authority program on a ten or twenty year basis instead of paying for this program out of current revenues. We maintain that these amendments are grossly unfair because they are a tax levied on the children of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The children of the Commonwealth have no lobby in Harrisburg to make sure that this tax, and these amendments are defeated. It also follows that these amendments are eventually going to put the pop men out of business in Pennsylvania. I speak from experience as a business man. My family has been in the variety field for over thirty-six years. I myself have worked for my dad in a variety store for twenty-six years, and I happen to know from experience how you can proportionately reduce the sale of a five cent item by adding one cent or two cents to its sale price.

This tax, or rather the tax provided by this amendment, is going to increase the price of pop to six or seven cents. From my experience the number of sales that you can have on a commodity of that type goes down, or rather varies inversely with the amount of tax which you impose on that sale. In other words, if the pop now costs six cents, you will thus raise the price of pop twenty percent, and it follows that you will cut the sale of pop from twenty to eighty percent because there is a natural inertia on the part of the customer to refuse to pay the one cent.

Furthermore when a father or mother gives a child some spending money it is usually five cents, not six cents. That is why we maintain these amendments are unfair.

I know that some means must be found to raise the money for paying the teachers. I know that means must be found to raise the money to pay for the Governor's over-all program. We are also opposed to a general sales tax, but we maintain a tax on pop is a tax on food, because pop contains sugar and dextrose, and anything that contains sugar and dextrose, like candy or pop, is considered a food, and that is another reason why we consider these amendments discriminatory.

You are also squeezing the pop manufacturer between two walls, because if they wish to absorb the amount of this tax they cannot absorb it for the simple reason that if they wanted to absorb the tax and work on a volume basis and still maintain the price of five cents they couldn't do so because they cannot get enough sugar to manufacture as much pop as they want to manufacture.

A tax of this type provided for by these amendments is putting the pop manufacturer out of business in many states of these United States, and I believe that there is only one state in the Union to-day which levies such a tax on pop, and that is South Carolina. Other states have been forced to call special sessions to remove the tax in order to save the pop manufactures.

I again say that we oppose this tax because it is an unfair tax on the children of the Commonwealth. We oppose these amendments, and we maintain that a vote against these amendments is a vote for the children of the Commonwealth.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLASKI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Did I understand the gentleman to make the statement, Mr. Speaker, that this tax will raise the price of soft drinks to seven cents?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, it is my feeling and my understanding of the bill that you are first taxing the syrup, are you not?

Mr. SORG. We are taxing either one or the other.

Mr. POLASKI. That is right, you are taxing the syrup. You are also taxing the finished packaged bottle of pop.

Mr. SORG. That is not correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLASKI. The tax is levied at the rate of one-half cent per ounce for a bottle of pop, is that right?

Mr. SORG. That is not correct. This tax is a tax of one cent on twelve fluid ounces of the bottled product and one-half cent on the syrup that is used on the non-bottled soft drinks.

Mr. POLASKI. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, this tax is then a tax of one cent on each twelve fluid ounces of pop, which makes twenty-four cents on a case of twenty-four bottles, and also beside this the retailer will have to pay for the icing of this pop. In other words I cannot see how a price of five cents can still be maintained on pop after paying the tax and after paying the icing expense.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am very much afraid that the gentleman almost admitted that the tax on pop in Pennsylvania is not five cents. He goes just all the way from five cents to twenty-five cents—all over the map.

The tax is decent. We admit it to be a tax on the consumer at the rate of one cent per bottle, and it is also set up so that it can be done without loss to the manufacturer of the pop. We predict that this tax will not seriously affect the operating profits of those who engage in this particular type of business. A very few months will show that that is correct.

The gentleman says this is a tax on children. This is not a head tax; it is not a personal tax; it is a tax on a commodity. Let the gentleman take his choice. He admits there are things that we must tax to raise revenue whether we place a tax on soft drinks or a tax on bread and butter. We are prepared on this side, Mr. Speaker, to make our choice.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, I wish to make myself clear on some items which I have heard presented.

I did not say that the tax on pop is all the way from five cents to twenty-five cents. What I wanted to bring out was that the most popular size of pop today is the six ounce size, which means that on the six ounce size we will be paying one-half cent tax. I believe I am right, Mr. Speaker. At the present time one-half cent on a six ounce size bottle would therefore levy a tax of one cent on a bottle of pop. Normally the retailer pays eighty cents for a case of 24 bottles, which means this tax should raise their price to $1.04 a case. The retailer cannot absorb that additional cost, nor can he absorb the cost of the ice. Therefore I still maintain, Mr. Speaker, that he will not be able to maintain a five cent price on pop.

In answer to the gentleman propounding the question as to whether this tax is a tax on the children of the Commonwealth, I would remind the gentleman that most of the pop today is consumed by the small children and by the bobby-socks brigade. They will be the greatest sufferers by this tax.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to get into this discussion, but there is one statement that I cannot permit to go unchallenged, and that is the one that has been used so many times by the Majority Leader about not taxing bread and butter. He has one hundred thirty-three millions dollars worth of new taxes, and out of that one hundred thirty-three million dollars he proposes to tax business profits of corporations to the tune of forty-four million dollars, and place the rest of the one hundred thirty-three milion dollars upon the masses of the people. There never has been any proposition to tax bread and butter: its just a nice phrase that occurs to one when they cannot think of something better.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, answering the gentleman's reference to forty-four million dollars on business profits in the new revenues, our budget calls for taxes on corporations to the extent of very nearly fifty per cent of the entire budget. I want to respectfully submit, Mr. Speaker, that we have tried to put our finances and revenue and every thing else on a fair basis but it doesn't make any difference as to the form that the tax can take; you can only determine what and how it shall be paid, but in the final analysis Mr. John Q. Public is the one that pays the whole bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the majority leader one question in addition?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk, 'permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. If it is John Q. Public, Mr. Speaker, that pays all these taxes, why in thunder do the utilities maintain so many able men here in Harrisburg when the legislature is in session to help defeat any measure to increase utility taxes or corporations taxes, if they can pass them so easily to John Q. Public?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the answer is this; it is not so difficult. The gentleman will recall that the utilities are only a medium through which the people pay taxes. If we tax them to any considerable extent, you know and I know and every Member of this House knows that up go the rates on the gas, water and electricity and every thing that you use in your house, and that's where it is paid.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to further tax the patience of the Membership, but I submit to you that originally I had opposed this tax, and I am continuing to do so now.

I submit the following reasons to be placed in the record, and I want to say to the Membership of the House this afternoon, not being a prognosticator of any note, that I deeply feel that in a very short time by the passage of this tax measure you will so injure the industry, you will so deplete the sales of this commodity that you will have a special session to call us back here for the repealing of this tax.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. PETROSKY filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 664.

1. Wage earners in the lower income group are among the largest consumers of soft drinks. We consider it manifestly unfair that this group should be the one asked to bear a tax on a simple, everyday, innocent drink which gives pleasure and benefit to large groups of people in the low income class.

2. The proposed tax would have an adverse effect on Industry, with accompanying decreased employment in the State of Pennsylvania because the experience of other states shows that the bottling industry, geared as it is to mass volume sales, would be seriously injured by a tax which would cut down on this volume of sales. Many small bottlers would be put out of business entirely, and unemployment would result not only among workers directly in the soft drink industry but also in industry and allied products supplying the soft drink industry.

3. Many active workers depend on soft drinks for energy on their jobs, and depriving these workers of this energizing food product is against their health interests.

4. The proposed tax is against the principles of economy, expressed in President Truman's current economy drive to bring down the high cost of living for the public. Soft drinks are one of the few food products which are still available to large masses of people at low cost, and to add a 20 percent increase to the cost of this particular food product through the proposed tax puts an extra burden on the family food budget which it should not be called upon to bear at this time.

5. The proposal to tax soft drinks is in effect a luxury tax on the poor man's pleasure.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR
